Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, March 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The wets have just shown that you can get a drink, and it's bad for the country; now the drys start and will show that you can't get a drink, and it's good for the country.

In the meantime there is at least 90,000,000 living in the country that it's not affecting in any way, and that wish both sides would shut up and go to work.

If papers announced that they would quit printing what either side said, the 90,000,000 would feel so relieved that they would celebrate with a grand spree and then sober up for the rest of their lives.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FLOOD TOLL MOUNTING

More Than 300 Lose Lives

French Villages Wiped Out and Thousands Homeless in Tarn Valley

Stricken Area Still Cut Off from Communications and Fears Grow

PARIS, March 5. (AP)—More than 300 deaths have resulted from floods in Southern and Central France.

Most of them occurred in Montauban and Moissac in the Valley of the Tarn.

Communications with the stricken region are still uncertain tonight and authorities fear the death list may be underestimated.

Figures received from Montauban tonight said that the latest reports there gave 150 dead in Moissac with 500 houses destroyed and 3000 persons homeless.

Reynies, a village of 500 inhabitants, was completely destroyed and had twelve dead. Albias, with 1000 inhabitants, had three dead. Twenty houses collapsed there.

In St. Antonin, a town of 3000, there were two dead and twenty-five houses in ruins. La Francaise, a place of almost equal size, suffered the loss of thirty houses but no deaths were mentioned.

NAVY SLASH HOPES RISE

Surprise Given by Stimson

Proposed 200,000-Ton Cut for America and More for Britain Cited

Unexpected Statement Issued as Answer to Doubts in United States

LONDON, March 5. (AP)—New hope for the cause of disarmament, at a time when criticism of the London naval conference is growing because of delays, was contained in a surprise statement issued by Col. Henry L. Stimson tonight.

The informal statement by the head of the American delegation declared that not only naval limitation but a reduction of at least 200,000 tons in the United States fleet and an even greater cut in the British fleet can be achieved at the London conference.

The statement, issued in response to many appeals from the United States as to what the conference is doing, follows:

TEXT OF STATEMENT

"There seems to be an impression that the work of the American delegation at this conference is likely to result in an increase, instead of a reduction, in tonnage of the navies of the world.

"The surest way to answer that is to give such results as seem to be within reach up to date. A plan which, in its essentials, appears to be acceptable to America and Great Britain provides for net reduction in tonnage of the American fleet in capital ships, cruisers, destroyers and submarines—built, building, or appropriated for—of more than 200,000 tons, and an even larger reduction on the part of the British fleet.

"If vessels authorized, but not commenced, were included in existing fleets, the amount of reduction would be much greater. Of course, these reductions are contingent upon some reduction being made in the fleets of other powers."

UNEXPECTED DEVELOPMENT

The Stimson statement came unexpectedly at the close of a day of meetings and conferences from which came only the same reports of uncertain progress that have featured proceedings since the French political crisis arose.

Stimson retired to Stanmore with a severe cold yesterday, but he busied himself in planning a statement which would reassure that part of the American public which is becoming fearful of results of the London meeting.

This morning he hastily called the American delegation into session and outlined his plan. This afternoon, with Senator Reed, he visited Prime Minister MacDonald and worked it over during an hour of conversation. Then Senator Reed showed it to Ambassador Matsudaira of Japan, after which it was read to newspaper men by one of Stimson's advisers.

After the announcement Stimson returned to Stanmore. His voice is still affected by his cold.

FLORIDA'S TRUCK CROP FROST-HIT

Beans and Tomatoes of State Damaged in Worst Cold Snap Since 1925

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) March 5. (AP)—Heavy damage to truck crops from last night's cold and frost was reported today by the State Marketing Bureau.

Damage indicated by the bureau as "rather serious" was reported from the eastern Lake Okeechobee area. It was stated "subtantiated reports indicated that 90 per cent of beans and tomatoes from Okeechobee City to Clewiston were killed."

Residents of Pahokee, in the lake area, brought word to West Palm Beach that ice "thick as a blotter" had formed last night and that growers considered the cold as the most serious since 1925.

The mercury fell to 28 deg. in the Hastings potato belt and Deland reported the same minimum, but potato growers estimated their losses at only 10 per cent.

Lantey reported beans a total loss and 90 per cent damage to strawberries in bloom.

Vessels Crash Near New York

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—A radio message to police headquarters tonight said the steamship Bogota of the Columbia Line and the ferry boat Gen. Humphries, which operates between Manhattan and Governor's Island, had collided.

The message said that the Bogota, which was outward bound for Port-au-Prince, Haiti, anchored in the harbor after the accident to determine the extent of the damage. The ferry boat proceeded to her slip.

Twenty-five Taken in Raids as Police Battle Near Riot in Brooklyn Avenue

Twenty-five arrests followed a series of raids last night as police squads broke up secret meetings here and at San Pedro, where authorities charge plans were being made and interest fomented for the mass radical demonstration scheduled for today.

A warning to all idlers and curious spectators to remain away from the City Hall district this afternoon where local Communists and Red sympathisers plan to hold their gatherings was issued last night by police.

POLICE RAID MEET

Police and reputed Communists and sympathisers engaged in a near riot and hand-to-hand combat when the officers, directed by Detective-Lieutenant Hynes, broke into a rally meeting at 2706 Brooklyn avenue. Thirteen arrests were made and the asserted rioters were booked on various charges.

The officers assert that they were searching the meeting at what is known as Co-Operative Center for leaders of the demonstration. The entrance of the police proved the signal for shouting and uproar, which led to some fistic encounters but no serious injuries.

Three of those arrested in this raid are said by police to be well-known leaders in the Communist movement.

Six men were arrested in raids at other asserted Communist meetings and six seamen were picked up at a gathering in San Pedro, according to police reports.

All are charged with suspicion of criminal syndicalism and in addition face the probability of deportation proceedings.

A. Julius, E. Krause, E. C. Larsen and Vartin Galian were arrested in raids at 656 South Los Angeles street and the Stimson Building at Third and Spring streets.

WOMAN IN NET

J. Jacoby, W. Russell, and a woman, Semma Kastin, were booked from 620 Brittania street raids, while Vincent Shubin, Ralph Kaufman, Harry J. Roth, Joseph Flannigan, Thomas W. Ray and Vincent McCormick were arrested at San Pedro.

Two or three tons of radical literature, including reading matter asserted to be of inflammatory nature, were seized by the authorities, who reported that the gatherings were all preliminary to the long-planned demonstration scheduled for 2 p.m. today.

CITIZENS WARNED; TEN ARRESTS MADE

Reserve squads of officers are to be placed on duty about the City Hall and the appeal to law-abiding citizens to stay away from the scene is to prevent innocent persons being caught in the mob or handicapping officers in suppressing possible disorders such as occurred at the Red demonstration at the Plaza last week.

POLICE READY TO ACT

Although it is hoped by the authorities that no serious phases will develop at the projected meeting and the officers will not be forced to go into action to protect citizens and property, the reserves are to be adequately equipped and strategically stationed to immediately quell any disorder.

For the last week the Communist leaders have been pushing every effort and offering specious promises in their campaign to dupe and embroil law-abiding laborers into their radical cause. They have seized upon the unemployment problem as their principal issue to create radical unrest and disorder, according to police.

STIMSON'S AIDE KILLED BY PLUNGE

Stenographer at London Falls from Window on Eve of Starting Home

LONDON, March 6. (Thursday) Mrs. Pearl Demaret, stenographer to Secretary of State Stimson, died in St. Georges Hospital early this morning from injuries suffered in a fall from a sixth-floor window of the Mayfair Hotel.

Mrs. Demaret shared a hotel suite with Mrs. Hurley Fisk of the division of current information. Mrs. Fisk said she was in the bathroom of the suite when Mrs. Demaret fell.

Authorities who examined the room pronounced the fall accidental, as marks on the window sill indicated that the unfortunate woman had clutched it in trying to save herself.

She was examining a bouquet of flowers sent by Mrs. Stimson because Mrs. Demaret intended to return to the United States on the steamer President Harding today.

Manila Parents Join Students in Odd Strike

MANILA, March 5. (Exclusive)—The Manila police, school officials and insular authorities were unable to check the strangest school rebellion on record today when the parents of 6300 striking high-school pupils joined their sons and daughters. Members of the City Council decided to appeal to Gov.-Gen. Davis and Manuel Quezon, president of the Senate, to grant their demands.

The strikers are asking the dismissal of Alejandro Albert, acting Secretary of Public Instruction. Luther B. Bowley, Director of Education, and one high-school principal, also the reinstatement of four expelled student strikers. No statement has yet been issued by Mr. Davis or Senor Quezon and the school authorities are standing pat on the dismissals.

Six Break Out of Northern Jail

SHELTON (Wash.) March 5. (AP)—Six prisoners made their escape from the Mason County Jail here early this morning, because one of them happened to be diminutive. Three of the men were "due for a stretch," the others having been held on less serious charges.

The men are J. F. (Sonny) Davies, 26 years of age; Sam Underwood and Jack Martin, arrested last week in Olympia on bad-check charges, and Walter Harvey, held for liquor infractions; Harry Anderson, arrested here Sunday on a charge of wife desertion in Tacoma, and W. Jackson, held for vagrancy.

TAFT AGAIN SHOWS TURN FOR BETTER

More Rest and Ability to Take Nourishment Help Fight Off Death

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—His life despaired of twice within the last month by attending physicians, William Howard Taft continued today to resist successfully the ravages of disease.

Drs. Francis R. Hagner and Thomas A. Claytor said their 72-year-old patient showed further improvement during the last twenty-four hours. More rest and greater ability to take nourishment has brought the former Chief Justice back, temporarily at least, from the critical stages of last week, when the doctors said death might be a matter of hours.

He still lies dangerously ill.

A fundamentally powerful heart has permitted him to fight off a complication of diseases.

There was little outside the Taft home today to indicate that the former President is seriously ill. Only the coming and going of the physicians and nurses reflected his illness.

Ruman Envoy Sent to Break Ileana's Troth

BUCHAREST (Rumania) March 5. (AP)—The government today sent M. Grigorcea, a minister in the Cabinet, to Berlin and Pless, to notify the father of Count Alexander Von Hochberg of cancellation of his son's engagement to Princess Ileana.

After official information is received of publication of the cancellation in Pless, Premier Juliu Maniu will issue an official communique informing the nation of the incident.

Vanderbilt Hits Driver on Head

MEXICO CITY, March 5. (AP)—When a taxi driver insisted on taking him out toward the country despite his repeated orders to drive him to his hotel, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., who carries a small blackjack for purposes of defense, struck the chauffeur a light tap on the back of the head with it last night.

The chauffeur thereupon stoped the car and called a policeman, who escorted Vanderbilt to his hotel. The chauffeur denied he intended to harm his passenger.

Fever Attacks Investigators

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive) Three women on the staff of the New York City Health Department who have been attempting during the last four months to isolate the germ of psittacosis (parrot fever,) have been stricken with the disease it was learned today.

COUNTER-BARRAGE OPENED BY DRYS IN RUM HEARING

Unparalleled Prosperity of Past Ten Years Credited Directly to Prohibition

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 5. (Exclusive)—With messages from Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison upholding prohibition read into the record, supporters of the dry laws today opened their side of the case in the hearings being conducted by the House Judiciary Committee on proposals for repeal or modification.

In contrast with their wet opponents, who have just completed seven days' testimony, the dry forces went before the committee well fortified with specific data bearing on the prohibition controversy.

They laid down a mass of facts and figures purporting to show that prohibition has been responsible in a very large extent for the unprecedented prosperity which the country has enjoyed in the last ten years—that it has built homes, increased savings, reduced drunkenness, improved politics and produced other benefits of untold importance to the American people.

Moreover, they refuted with definite facts the pet claim of the wets that prohibition has caused increased drinking of liquors among the youth of the land, and has debauched the morals of the coming generation.

FORD'S WIRE BRIEF

The telegrams from Ford and Edison were brief and to the point. The automobile manufacturer wired:

"The Eighteenth Amendment is recognized by the men and women of our country, the women especially, as the greatest force for the comfort and prosperity of the United States.

"I feel sure that same people of this nation will never see its repeal or any dangerous modification."

The message from Mr. Edison said:

"I still feel that prohibition is the greatest experiment for the benefit of man. My observation is that enforcement generally is at least 50 per cent effective and is gaining notwithstanding the impression through false propaganda that it is a lower per cent.

"It is strange to me that some men of great ability and standing do not help to remove the curse of alcohol."

Both men had been asked to come before the committee in person but were unable to comply. Their statements were read by Samuel Crowther, a writer on economic subjects who recently surveyed the profits from prohibition and wrote a series of articles on it for a leading magazine.

FIGURES PRESENTED

He gave the committee a summary of his findings, which were briefly, that the country is now putting into goods and savings from $2,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 a year which formerly went over the bars of saloons, and that prohibition without question has been one of the largest factors in the well being of the country in the last decade. He quoted industrial leaders as bearing him out.

The principal testimony relating to the liquor question among the young people was given by Dr. Daniel A. Poling, general director of the J. C. Penney foundation and president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union. He placed before the committee the results of a survey just made among 1475 officers of Christian Endeavor societies throughout the country. Questionnaires were sent these officers asking if they favored prohibition maintenance, nullification or repeal and also whether, in their opinion, the proportion of young people who drink should be classified as "practically none," "comparatively few" or "in large numbers."

Five hundred and nineteen replies from forty-three States had so far been received, Dr. Poling said, of which 315 were for prohibition maintenance and enforcement, one for nullification, two for repeal and one for modification.

QUESTIONNAIRES QUOTED

On the other question, he said, 243 Christian Endeavor officers made the direct statement that practically none of the young people in their communities drank, 202 reported comparatively few drank and fourteen said that the young people were drinking "in large numbers."

Dr. Poling at the same time urged the presidents of sixty-two universities asking them to report to him whether student drinking was general; whether students were drinking more or less since prohibition, and whether the college head favored repeal or modification.

He said that to date he had received thirty-one replies to his

SUGAR DUTY SWEETENED

Senators Vote Higher Tariff

Rate of 2 Cents Per Pound in Place of 1.76 Cents Set by New Ballot

Bitter Debate and Charges of Vote Trading Precede 47-to-39 Decision

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—An increase in the sugar tariff was assured today with approval by the Senate of a rise in the duty on Cuban raws from 1.76 to 2 cents a pound. The vote was 47 to 39.

The House bill provides a rate of 2.40 cents and the Senate and House conferees must decide between this and 2 cents before final Congressional action is taken.

The final vote was taken on an amendment by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, after one of the bitterest fights in the six months of tariff debate in the Senate. It was a reversal of an action taken several weeks ago when the coalition of Democrats and Republican independents succeeded, 44 to 38, in retaining the present levies.

CHARGES HURLED

Charges of "vote trading" were made by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, chairman of the Senate lobby investigating committee, and denied by Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, a member of the Finance Committee.

Prior to the final roll call, taken after four hours of spirited discussion, a substitute by Senator Howell, Republican independent, Nebraska, providing for a direct Federal bounty of 44-100ths of a cent a pound to domestic growers and refiners was turned down, 66 to 22. Five Democrats and the bloc of Republican independents favored it.

Another amendment to restrict importation of duty-free sugar from the Philippines to 600,000 tons annually was rejected without a record vote. This was proposed by Senator Broussard, Democrat, Louisiana.

Thirty-eight Republicans and nine Democrats voted for the increase in tariff while twenty-six Democrats and thirteen Republicans joined in the opposition. Party and factional lines split and nine Senators who voted previously to retain present rates cast their votes in favor of the Smoot amendment. They are Senators Ashurst, Dill, Hayden, Thomas of Oklahoma, and Trammel, Democrats, and Jones, Metcalf, Pine and Schall, Republicans.

ROLL CALL

The roll call follows:

For increase:

Democrats—Allen, Blaine, Borah, Brookhart, Caraway, Cutting, Keyes, La Follette, McMaster, Norbeck, Norris, Robinson of Indiana and Wheeler of Montana—13.

Democrats—Barkley, Black, Bratton, Brock, Caraway, Copeland, Connally, Glass, Harris, Harrison, Hawes, Hebin, McKellar, Overman, Pittman, Sheppard, Simmons, Smith, Black, Stephens, Swanson, Trammell, Wagner, Walsh of Massachusetts, Walsh of Montana and Wheeler—34.

HOWE STEPS ON "PINK TOES"

Fiery Amarillo Editor Clashes With E. H. Sothern and it Costs Each Goodly Sum

AMARILLO (Tex.) March 5. (AP)—Gene Howe, editor of the Amarillo News-Globe, remembered for his criticism of Mary Garden and that singer's answer to him, clashed today with another celebrity of the footlights, E. H. Sothern, because Sothern refused to see interviewers.

As a result Sothern donated to charity the $500 he received for his Amarillo engagement tonight, and Howe reimbursed Emil Myers, who brought Sothern to Amarillo, $300 for his expenses.

At Myers's request—because the Sothern engagement seemed doomed to failure financially — the News-Globe had reserved space on its front page for a picture of the actor and an interview. Mr. Sothern refused the interview and Howe, editorially, urged customers to turn in their tickets and refuse to attend the lecture because Sothern had "high hatted" Amarillo. In this comment Howe referred to the actor as "a pink-toed high hatter."

Tonight, before the lecture, Sothern took exception to the criticism. "My toes are not pink," he stated from the stage. "This is the worst thing that has ever been said about me."

Sothern explained he was fatigued when he arrived at Amarillo. He was returning the $500, he said, to prove to Howe that "I am not after the money of the people of the smaller cities."

"I am leaving Amarillo on the first train after this lecture," he said, "and I may never see it again."

DRYS OPEN COUNTER-FIRE IN PROHIBITION HEARING

questionnaire and that twenty-six favored that student drinking was not general, one believed there was more drinking than before prohibition, seventeen went on record against repeal or modification, one favored repeal, three were inclined toward modification, two were definitely for modification but against repeal, one thought prohibition had not had a fair trial, one believed students were drinking less but had turned to hard liquor and one declined to answer.

SCHOOL SURVEY MADE

Poling followed this up by pointing out that the National Education Association had made a survey of high-school drinking for President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission and had reported that "conditions in the high schools are much better than in 1926, with respect both to drinking and general behavior" and that "this is doubly significant in view of the fact that high school enrollment has grown since 1920 from 2,000,000 to more than 5,000,000 students—an achievement unparalleled in any country or in any history."

The report was quoted further as saying that many of the 3,000,000 additional students come from poorer homes where in former days drinking was such a burden on the family finances that they could not seek a high-school education.

Dr. Poling also presented the results of a survey among school students in Detroit and vicinity showing that the six main factors contributing to student delinquency in that territory were ranked in this order: Automobiles, films, public dance halls, magazines, liquor.

UNIVERSITIES STUDIED

Studies made at Yale, Harvard and Princeton universities show that drinking has declined in those institutions, Poling said.

"Admittedly," he declared, "the young criminal is a greater menace now than formerly because of the speed with which he moves and the congestion through which he moves. But generalization is not fair to youth and is not good for the country. We do not indict all bankers when one or 100 default. One high-school sophomore or one college freshman who makes a disturbance attracts more attention than 10,000 others who make no disturbance. Always the few make the noise that misrepresents the many. Always, the unusual is news.

"From personal contacts with thousands of young people in every state, from radio correspondence covering the nation, and from intimate personal observation of life in Park avenue, as well as in Main street, I record the conviction that there is less drinking today among young people than there has been at any time during the past eight years."

Dr. Poling said he spoke for 3,000,000 young people enrolled in the Christian Endeavor unions in this country.

STOP SLANDER OF YOUTH

"Finally," he concluded, "whatever our attitude may be with regard to prohibition let us stop slandering our sons and daughters."

Mr. Crowther told the committee that in the preparation of his magazine articles dealing with the economic phases of prohibition, he communicated with 129 persons, mostly industrial and business leaders, and obtained the views of most of them. Out of the whole lot, he declared, he found only one who believed men were spending as much for liquor as formerly, while a "large majority" reported that the working classes in their sections were spending "practically nothing for drink."

He quoted E. J. Buffington, president of the Illinois Steel Corporation, and one of the outstanding industrialists of the Middle West, as follows:

"Evidences of the economic value of prohibition are found in records of increased savings accounts and in the higher plane of living conditions of working-men in general. Improvement in the economic condition of employees' families is evidenced by the fewer cases of distress among employees reported from time to time. Visiting nurses, whom we employ to visit and administer to families of employees in case of sickness, report that the economic condition of such families is much better now than prior to prohibition. . . . With the absence of saloons it is certain that working-men are now spending far less money for drink than before prohibition. Undoubtedly since prohibition became effective many working-men brew alcoholic beverages, principally wines, in their homes. The practice, of course, results in some expense to those who indulge in it. But certainly such expense is less than former expenditures in saloons by working men.

LIVING STANDARD RISES

"Merchants in Gary, Ind., where our largest steel mills are located, report that since prohibition working-men are purchasing a much better grade of wearing apparel of all kinds and that, as a general rule, payments are made at time of purchases, where as formerly it was necessary in many cases to extend credit. Before prohibition many employees of our Gary steel mills kept boarders in their homes. This practice, it seems, has been discontinued to a large extent, with statements by some wives of employees that since the husband brings home more money on pay day it is not now necessary to keep boarders. This, undoubtedly, is a great improvement in social conditions in such homes."

Crowther also quoted Josiah Keely, president of the Cabin Creek Consolidated Coal Company, operating in West Virginia, as saying that conditions among the 6000 employees of his company and in the Kanawha Valley generally had vastly improved under prohibition, that not half as much money is spent for liquor as formerly and that "pay day jags" are no longer of serious operating concern to his company. "The families," Keely wrote, "are saving more and buying things they never could afford before. Money is still being spent unwisely, but it is for flivvers, washing machines, radios and phonographs, and the whole family participates. There is simply so much difference in favor of prohibition that those of us who like our liquor have to admit it."

MORE MONEY TAKEN HOME

Crowther said that at his request the General Electric Company sent a questionnaire to ten veteran supervisors of labor and all agreed in their replies that the employees were spending less for liquor. A supervisor in one of the larger cities estimated that workmen were now taking home $300,000 a week, which in the old days was spent in the saloons.

"The answers from everywhere in the country are the same," Crowther said. "The working men are spending little or nothing for drink and a great deal on their families.

"The production of the country has increased within ten years by between 25 and 30 per cent instead of at the normal rate of about 15 per cent. We have had a clear gain of between 10 and 15 per cent. The margin between "bad times" and "good times" is rarely as much as 15 per cent. In ten years we have not only increased by more than the margin between good and bad times, but have added another 15 per cent. It is in this extra percentage that we find the cause of our abundant prosperity.

PROSPERITY DIRECT RESULT

"The one great and fundamental change that has taken place in this country during the past ten years has been the coming into force of the prohibition amendment. This added prosperity has come in spite of bad farm conditions through most of the period and depressions in the textile and coal trades. Also we have had in the same period bank failures amounting to more than $1,500,000,000.

"The total realized income of the nation stood at not quite $66,000,000,000 for 1919. It dropped to a low point of $63,000,000,000 in 1921. Since then it has been steadily mounting and for 1928 is estimated at $89,000,000,000. In ten years the income of the country has increased at a very much higher rate than ever before and we are today, as a nation, much wealthier than ever before. The use of ordinary common sense and observation brings one to the same conclusion. One cannot go anywhere in this country and not note changes of staggering magnitude.

"Every figure of wealth that we know has steadily climbed. The index value of sales in department stores has gone from 87 in 1921 to 168 in 1928, and in mail-order houses from 67 to 137. In 1919 we had only 2000 electrical refrigerators and in 1928 we had nearly 1,250,000. During the same period washing machines ran from less than 1,000,000 a year to around 6,000,000. Neither electric refrigerators nor washing machines can be considered as appointments of the wealthy. Everyone is familiar with the tremendous increase in automobiles, in motion-picture houses and in the comforts and necessities of life, as well as in the pleasures of life generally.

SAVINGS INCREASED

"But there is also a very solid investment side. In 1919 there were around 18,000,000 individual savings accounts with a total of $13,000,000,000. In 1928 there were more than 53,000,000 accounts holding in them $28,500,000,000. In the building and loan associations, representing for the most part ownership of homes of moderate price, there were in 1919 somewhat over 4,000,000 members, while in 1927 there were more than 11,000,000 members. The wealthy do not bother with savings funds or building societies. The life insurance policy holders increased from 13,000,000 in 1919 to 27,000,000 in 1927.

"The amount the moderate steady drinker spent in prepohibition days over the bar will not buy an automobile on the installment plan. So a very great part of prosperity which the automobile has brought is directly traceable to the diversion of expenditure caused by prohibition. It is not possible to trace the full effects of prohibition through all its money phases, but it is possible to estimate the changes in spending closely enough to leave no doubt as to what prohibition has done to prosperity.

DRINK WAS ON INCREASE

"How much is actually being spent for drink today? It is often said that the consumption of alcohol was decreasing at the time of the Eighteenth Amendment and that we were then on our way to achieve a real temperance. The government figures say not so. Take the three periods: 1900-1904, 1905-1909 and 1910-1914. The per-capita consumption—which is the real test—of distilled spirits, wines and beer in the first period was 18.77 gallons; in the second period it was 21.46 and in the third 22.43. The largest increase was in beer, but there were substantial increases in spirits and in wines. The country was steadily drinking more and not less.

"Even if we are today spending $1,000,000,000—and we may be paying only half that much—there is a high saving over the prewar average percentage, for keeping that percentage we should today be spending at the least around $3,000,000,000 and at the most around $7,000,000,000. This means a net diversion of spending due to prohibition amounting to somewhere between $2,000,000,000 and $6,000,000,000. The minimum sums which are being diverted from the saloon into the buying of goods or into savings accounts are enough to account for a large measure of our prosperity. They are, in effect, new purchasing power. And, since buying begets production and production begets wages and profits, and these wages and profits beget more buying, we have an explanation of at least a part of the remarkable increase in buying which has taken place since prohibition."

LOUISVILLE HELD BACK

Other witnesses were Henry M. Johnson, Louisville attorney and real estate operator, and Edward Keating, formerly a representative from Colorado and now editor of Labor.

Johnson told of the economic transformation that had taken place in Louisville, the center of the distilling industry, since prohibition. He said many residents of the city thought the community dependent upon the making of whisky, whereas, as a matter of fact, prohibition has proved that the distilling industry only held Louisville back, as bankers were trained to lend money only on whisky certificates and as the result money was not available for development in other lines.

Prohibition, he declared, caused the city to leap ahead in phenomenal fashion, having a population increase of 40 per cent in the first eight years under prohibition, as compared to an increase of only 4 per cent in the preceding ten years. Seven years of prohibition, he said, doubled the factory output of the city, while building permits in 1925 were seven times what they were in 1919 and savings in 1929 were two and three-quarters times what they were ten years before.

Keating admitted that under prohibition there was corruption of police and public officials and widespread violation of the law, but he pointed out that those things were not new.

"No man of sense," he said, "imagined that the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment would automatically reform this criminal liquor crew. Of course they are corrupting enforcement officials, bribing prosecuting officials and 'fixing' courts.

"But the point I want to make is that they were doing exactly the same thing only on a much more extensive scale for forty years before prohibition was adopted.

"No other amendment to the constitution was so thoroughly debated over a long period of years. The liquor men, backed by most of the political machines, defended by the most widely circulated newspapers, financed by apparently bottomless 'slush funds' fought to the last ditch and were finally crushed by the weight of their own iniquities rather than by the skill and strength of the opposition.

"Now, ten years after the decision was rendered, they are back here boasting of their contempt for law and trying to bluff the American people with threats of civil war if they are not permitted to have their way.

NOTABLES TO SPEAK

"I submit that it is a childish, puerile exhibition.

"Practically all the witnesses produced by the other side have assured you they spoke the sentiments of the great majority of our people. Some have claimed their following totaled 75 per cent of the population.

"If that be true, why don't they elect more members of the House and Senate?"

Among those scheduled to take the stand tomorrow are P. H. Callahan, Louisville manufacturer; Representative Burtness, Republican, North Dakota; Louis H. Taber, master of the National Grange; Mrs. Ruth K. G. Strawbridge, Philadelphia society matron, and C. P. Connolly of East Orange, N. J.

It is said Mrs. Strawbridge will present the results of a prohibition poll she has made among the social registerites of Philadelphia. She broke into the headlines several months ago as the author of "prohibition cocktail" made of fruit juices.

SENATE LIFTS SUGAR TARIFF

Deneen and Reed of Pennsylvania, Democrats, Kendrick.

The following were paired against the increase: Republicans, Gillett, Democrats, Connally, Robinson of Arkansas, Farmer-Labor, Shipstead.

Senators Glenn and Blease also had a pair, but no announcement was made of how they would have voted.

Speculation as to the chances of votes being reversed on lumber, oil and other important commodities, in view of the break in coalition ranks on sugar, was indulged in by many after the vote. One Senator was heard to say that duties on lumber and oil now are "a certainty."

Senator Caraway charged that the issue had been settled in advance by "eight Senators agreeing to change their votes for other considerations and reasons."

Denying there was any trading agreement, Senator Bingham read a telegram from Gov. Roosevelt of Porto Rico, saying many sugar mills are idle, and said this would be ample reason for any Senator to change his mind on the sugar tariff.

Caraway called the roll of the forty-eight Senators who previously voted for the present tariff and Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, on whose amendment the first vote was taken, had this list inserted in the record immediately after today's roll call.

"I venture to assert," said the Arkansas Senator, "that any man who changes his vote will never live long enough to explain to his constituency and the American people the reason."

POLICE AWAIT RED DISORDER

vestigators, however, to have made little or no headway with their schemes, and their scattering of inflammatory handbills and display of signs at industrial plants and factories are said to have resulted in several instances in the agitators being chased away by workers in the plants.

Federal authorities also are expected to observe the leaders of the proposed meeting today. The leaders generally are aliens and illegal entrants to the United States, according to the officers, and if such are apprehended today they face immediate deportation.

The Los Angeles demonstration today is one of many that are projected in larger cities throughout the world by the Communist leaders, and investigators assert the movement is promulgated and financed by the soviet union of Russia.

STREET MEETINGS ORDERED DISCONTINUED

The Police Commission yesterday ordered the discontinuance of any further street speaking at Brooklyn and Soto streets, where the Church of Philadelphia held a permit, because of complaints that Communists had gathered at the corner and caused trouble.

The discontinuance was recommended by Capt. Bandle of the Hollenbeck Heights police division with approval of Chief of Police Steckel, as the church organization was willing in view of the complaints.

POLICE IN MANY CITIES AWAIT OUTBURST

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Police of cities throughout the world are prepared to quell any disturbance which Communist adherents might plan today in response to a call for demonstrations" issued by the Trade Union International at Moscow.

New York and Philadelphia will allow meetings if orderly. Chicago has ordered "no parades." This is because the police commissioner has been told "the paraders have been asked to arm themselves with knives and blackjacks to attack the police."

Berlin, Paris, Riga and Prague have forbidden communistic demonstrations.

In Czecho-Slovakia two Communist newspapers have been suppressed and no meetings will be permitted. Police of Prussia and Esthonia are on the alert for disturbances.

Athens reports that Communist proclamations request workmen to create disturbances and demand a labor form of government.

Stockholm police have forbidden street demonstrations, but have issued permits for three open-air meetings.

St. Louis has been warned to expect "a demonstration St. Louis will remember." Police look for no trouble but are on the watch.

Representative Fish of New York yesterday introduced a bill in Congress calling for an investigation by the House of Communist party activities in the United States.

FORD EVOLVES "PERFECT DIET"

Results of Research in His Dearborn Plant Cited

Separation of Fruit, Proteins and Starches Advised

Warning Against Danger of Overeating Added

[By the Associated Press]

FORT MYERS (Fla.) March 5. (AP)—The perfect meal and the best way to eat it have caught the attention of Henry Ford, philanthropist and builder of automobiles.

As a result of his own study and of chemical research in his plant at Dearborn, Mich., the manufacturer has evolved a system of diet which he believes will make toward generally better health and longevity.

A dash of common sense as to culinary matters is essential, he added as he sat in the office of his winter home here.

THREE-MEAL SCHEDULE

Briefly, Mr. Ford's plan covers a three-meal day.

For breakfast, he advises, eat only fruits.

For luncheon, he continues, eat only proteins.

For dinner, he concludes, eat only starchy foods.

And, in addition: "Don't overeat. That puts more people out than anything else."

In explaining his beliefs as to segregation of elements into three chronological groups, Mr. Ford stressed results of his study and the research in his plant. They showed, he said, "that meat, fruit and starch don't mix."

FOUND BENEFICIAL

He has followed the plan of placing fruits, proteins and starches in three daily groups, and has found it personally beneficial.

Further, the schedule has been followed at the Wayside School For Boys, Sudbury, Mass., for one and one-half years, with exceptional results.

VOTE TAKEN ON FOX FINANCING

tendant upon the financial affairs of the huge film concerns.

After the meeting of Fox Film stockholders the stockholders of Fox Theaters Corporation, a subsidiary, also went into session to vote upon the bankers' plan, which was put forward to save the Fox enterprises from a receivership.

RESULTS WITHHELD

After casting their ballots the stockholders of the subsidiary company also adjourned without an announcement of the result.

Mr. Fox and the cotrustees protested each other's actions in voting the disputed stock and both meetings developed acrimonious disputes in which lawyers, Mr. Fox and other stockholders joined. The dispension spread to a committee named to tabulate the proxies. Two of the tellers insisted the proxies could not be counted until Friday but Mr. Fox overruled them, declaring that question was not for them to settle.

To add to the complexities of the situation a suit was filed in Supreme Court in Brooklyn today enjoining Fox from proceeding with any further financing and ordering him to show cause why he and his associates should not be restricted from making effective any plan which would "saddle" Loew's, Inc., upon the Fox Theaters Corporation. The order, signed by Justice Dunne, is returnable Friday. The action was brought by Isidor Weiss of Brooklyn and Henry F. Otto of Irvington, N. J.

Cuban English Paper Raided

HAVANA, March 5. (AP)—Cuban secret police today raided the Havana English-language newspaper the Havana American, destroying make-up forms and seizing 6000 copies of La Voz, a Spanish newspaper which was making its bow to the public and which was being run off in the American plant.

John T. Wilford, publisher of the American, complained to Harry F. Guggenheim, American Ambassador, and said he will file a formal protest with the Embassy tomorrow. He says the raiders destroyed type and electro-type belonging to the American worth more than $10,000, but the police denied there had been any destruction.

TARDIEU WINS GREAT VICTORY

French Premier's Cabinet Runs Gauntlet

Chamber Majority Given it Doubles Forecast

Parley Delegation Returns to London Today

PARIS, March 5. (AP)—Andre Tardieu's second Cabinet ran the gauntlet of the Chamber of Deputies today and, although roundly thumped by the parties of the Left, it emerged with a majority of fifty-three. The rectified ballot was announced as 316 to 263.

The margin of confidence was almost twice as great as political forecasters had been granting. Most of them agreed a margin of thirty would be a sign of strength for Tardieu and as the bitter debate of the ministerial declaration of policy progressed, some began to believe the Cabinet would be lucky to win.

SITTING PRETTY NOW

As a consequence, the government will go back to the London naval conference and will face the chamber on the question of ratifying the Young plan, revising taxes and passing a budget, with enhanced prestige.

The declaration of policy reaffirmed the French naval demand for a fleet of 724,000 tons by 1936, which M. Tardieu made at London several weeks ago. There was, however, a well-defined impression in authoritative circles that the program will be given some flexibility in order to relieve tension and aid in the success of the parley.

LONDON PARTY NAMED

The new delegation will start for London at noon tomorrow. It consists of Premier Tardieu, Aristide Briand, Foreign Minister; J. L. Dumesnil, Minister of Marine; Francois Pietri, Minister of Colonies; Ambassador De Fleuriau and Senator Gustave De Kergusaec. Of these, Tardieu, Briand, Pietri and De Fleuriau were members of the original delegation.

Tardieu first became Premier last November, getting his first vote of confidence on November 11 by seventy-one votes. He held power until February 17, when his government was defeated by five votes on a minor budgetary question and he resigned. Camille Chautemps, Radical Socialist leader who had played an important part in the Tardieu overthrow, formed a Cabinet of Left leanings but this was thrown out February 25, being defeated on its first appearance before Parliament by eleven votes.

FURTHER THAN EVER

Tardieu was again called in by President Doumergue. The result was a Cabinet which leans so far to the Right that the Radical Socialists and Socialists declared war upon it as soon as the membership was announced. There was concentrated fire from the Left as soon as today's debate opened. L. O. Frossard, speaking for the Socialists, and Edouard Herriot for the Radical Socialists, accused the Premier of inconsistency in his political conduct.

They taunted him with suborning faithless members of their own parties with portfolios in his Cabinet, especially centering their attack upon M. Dumesnil, the new Minister of Marine. The speakers also taxed M. Tardieu with responsibility for overthrow of the Chautemps Cabinet, saying that today's declaration was essentially the same as that on which M. Chautemps had been denied a vote of confidence.

The Premier replied vigorously but with good humor and with the assurance of a man confident that he had the upper hand.

BRUSSELS, March 5. (Exclusive)—The stork will come to the royal palace six months from now Princess Astrid, wife of the Belgian heir to the throne, Prince Leopold, admitted to friends today. Prince Leopold and Princess Astrid were married in 1926 at Stockholm and have a baby daughter, Josephine Charlotte, born in 1927. The nation will anxiously listen when the stork arrives next September to see whether 101 or only fifty-one cannon shots announce the arrival of the baby. If 101 it will mean a boy; if fifty-one a mere girl. Girls cannot rule Belgium.

EAGLE SAILS GLIDER OVER OPEN OCEAN

Lindbergh Dares Pacific in Flight Shortened by Adverse Air Currents

MONTEREY, March 5. (Exclusive) Col. Charles Lindbergh sailed two miles in a glider from a hillside south of Carmel Heights this afternoon, swinging out over the open Pacific and returning only when he lost appreciable altitude. Unfavorable air currents are believed to have prevented a greater flight distance. The flying colonel, now a complete addict to gliding, was in the air about ten minutes. He landed on a level stretch of land without difficulty and apparently unperturbed.

Reports continue that Col. Lindbergh has in mind a protracted glider flight south along the Pacific Coast if conditions are favorable. He gave them color today when he remarked to Mrs. Lindbergh before his take-off:

"Don't worry if I'm not back for two or three hours."

John Stewart, Monterey postmaster and Monterey peninsula representative of the American Aeronautical Society, placed a sealed barograph in the sail plane, an instrument used to record altitude.

Fifteen Girls Hurt by Fall

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—Fifteen schoolgirls plunged through a trapdoor over an ash hoist in the play yard of Holy Cross parochial school in Brooklyn today and fell twenty-five feet to the basement below.

Seven of the girls, the most seriously injured, were hurried to Kings County Hospital in ambulances while ambulance surgeons from other hospitals treated the others at the school. Several had broken bones and all suffered cuts, bruises and shock.

Father Ricard's Condition Same

SAN JOSE, March 5. (Exclusive) Little change was noted today in the condition of Father Jerome S. Ricard, "padre of the rains." Dr. F. C. Gerlach, attending the venerable weather prognosticator, said stimulants continue to be used to keep Father Ricard alive.

Even his close friends concede it is doubtful if he will ever be able to return to his sun spot observatory at Santa Clara University.

HOOVER BACKS DAVIS'S VIEWS

Unemployment Declared Due to Congressional Delay

White House Cites Effect of Tariff Dawdling

Early Remedial Action by Senate Promised

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—The Hoover administration feels it is doing what it can to relieve unemployment, and that Congress will be largely to blame if the 3,000,000 who are out of work remain jobless.

The White House disclosed today that President Hoover is in accord with a statement made last night by Secretary Davis of the Labor Department, saying among other things that "the delays in tariff legislation are more responsible today for creating unemployment than any other factor."

The tariff bill has been under debate in the Senate for weeks, while action waits on public building authorizations which Mr. Hoover expects to provide employment for many now idle.

ACTION PROMISED

Early consideration of remedial legislation was promised by Senate leaders after conferences with Secretary Davis over the unemployment situation.

The Secretary was optimistic over the outlook and expressed the opinion that early passage of the tariff bill and of the public buildings expansion measure will tend, with other programs now in effect, to relieve conditions completely by early summer.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, who talked with Davis at the Capitol, said the $230,000,000 public buildings bill will get early attention after passage of the tariff measure, which is now near the end of its course through the Senate.

WAGNER PRESSES PLANS

Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, who also was visited by the Labor Secretary, will go before the Commerce Committee tomorrow to urge approval of his bills to set up employemnt agencies in co-operation with the States and to provide for an advance program of employment.

Commenting on the latter bill of Wagner's, Secretary Davis suggested in a letter to Chairman Johnson of the Senate Commerce Committee, that Congress place an emergency public building fund in the hands of the President to be used at his discretion. However, Senator Wagner was standing by his proposal to establish a Federal employment stabilization board to handle a $150,000,000 emergency fund.

NUMBER ESTIMATED

Davis estimated the number of unemployed at 3,000,000 in his conferences at the Capitol. He expressed hope that the White House agreement of the leaders of industry and labor for a truce on wages and the promise of railroads to continue their building work will combine with prospective legislation to overcome the problem.

He suggested also to Senator Wagner that the bill for employment agencies be made strictly a national affair, but the New York Senator remained in favor of a co-operative arrangement with the States. He wants one agency for every State.

Senator Watson explained that Muscle Shoals legislation will have the right of way in the Senate after the tariff is disposed of but said the public buildings measure also will receive prior consideration. An early effort also will be made to complete consideration of the public roads appropriation, which is in conference between the Senate and House for a conciliation of differences.

EMPLOYMENT GAINING IN WESTERN STATES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (AP)—The Salvation Army today completed a survey of the unemployment situation in the West.

The review, made under the direction of Col. A. W. Crawford, chief secretary for the army in the West, shows conditions in the eleven farthest west States to be the worst in three years, but are slowly improving.

PAGEANT PRODUCER 'BROKE'

Morris Gest Creditors File Bankruptcy Action; Otto H. Kahn and Joseph M. Schenck on List

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive)—A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed against Morris Gest, producer of "The Miracle" and "Chauve Souris," in Federal Court here today.

Because of Gest's vast expenditures for pageantry and costuming both of his more famous productions, as well as the Freiburg "Passion Play," which the producer brought from Germany to the Hippodrome, failed to net him profits, according to Milton J. Levy, attorney who filed the petition for three creditors.

KAHN AND SCHENCK HIT

Otto H. Kahn, banker, will be down on the list of creditors that ultimately will be submitted, for an item of $100,000, the lawyer declared, and Joseph M. Schenck, film magnate, for about $50,000. Other amounts owed are expected to bring the total liabilities to $450,000, Levy said. No estimate of assets was obtainable today.

The creditors who signed the petition are Langdon West, claiming $2421.23 for services; Robert F. Brunton, Jr., $1150.84, said to have been loaned to Gest, and Milton Stiefel, $750 for services.

Gest has done things in an expressive way since 1911, when he brought the Russian Ballet to Broadway. The Russian dancers failed to make money, but Gest—an immigrant boy who had risen to an outstanding place in the theatrical world here by a career which included labor as a tent show barker, sidewalk peddling of tickets and producing Yiddish dramas—was not discouraged.

PAGEANTS PRODUCED

After he married David Belasco's daughter Reina he produced such spectacular pageants as "Chu-Chin-Chow" and "Aphrodite." Then he engaged Max Reinhardt, Viennese director, to produce "The Miracle," for him in the Century Theater here, which was made over as a cathedral. It was one of the outstanding money makers of the decade and Gest was accounted a huge success.

Lately he has been having difficulties with that same "Miracle." In Dallas, Tex., on January 12, some 200 minor actors of the "Miracle" howled for their pay after the drama had closed its winter engagement at a reported loss of $20,000. After this incident, Gest said: "I feel pretty punk. You know this has been a tough season and I lost about $200,000 on the road. I'll pay off everybody as soon as I can get some money together."

Wilbur Discloses Friction to Senate Committee

Accountant Will be Kept, According to Plan

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Word reached the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today that the administration is prepared to reorganize the Federal Power Commission and to displace both F. E. Bonner, executive secretary, and Charles A. Russell, who have been at odds over policy.

Secretary Wilbur had testified that delays in settling disputed power company accounts were attributable to "conflict of authority."

OUSTING DEMANDED

The ousting of Bonner has been demanded in the Senate on the ground that he is "a power man" and is attempting to "cripple the commission."

After hearing Wilbur, ex-officio member of the commission, the committee concluded its inquiry into administration of the Federal Water Power Act.

The plans for reorganization were understood at the Capitol to call for retention of William V. King chief accountant. He has been with the commission since it began to operate, while Russell and Bonner were attached to it last July. Russell and Bonner have been in conflict over accounts which King questioned, Bonner insisting that King is "too meticulous," and Russell insisting in turn that Bonner would favor the power companies in the accounting.

WILBUR WANTS HARMONY

Secretary Wilbur testified that he planned to "obtain a more harmonious personnel" as soon as it can be accomplished without "making a martyr" of anyone.

Questioning Wilbur on the relationship of the Cabinet members with the world power conference, an international organization said to be financed in part by power companies, some members of the Senate committee criticised the connection.

The Interior Secretary was questioned on his attitude toward the allocation of power from Boulder Dam. He answered that he had not yet decided, but added that he did not feel bound by an opinion on the subject of E. C. Finney, Interior Department solicitor.

1930 IS REWARDING CAREFUL SAVERS

What's this to YOU?

Pacific States Savings, because of its resources of 58 million dollars and its business volume greater than that of any building and loan association in the West, is now enabled to declare a new reduction in its real estate loan rate to 7% simple interest on the unpaid balance.

Thus, our loan facilities now offer a combination of low rate and other advantages probably unequalled by any financial institution making loans in California.

This is not only important to borrowers—but to our savings customers—for this new loan rate is attracting to us the choicest real estate loans offered to any California building and loan association and therefore is an added element of protection for our savers' funds.

It is in line with our other voluntary safety factors, detailed in our Statement of Condition, which make our 6% savings facilities so attractive to the prudent minded.

Send for our Statement.

Bee Urging "Dad" Ranes to Run for Justiceship

He's 100 Years of Age Today, But Still Worker

Pension Scorned by 'Young' Veteran of Two Wars

MANTECA, March 5. (Exclusive) W. H. (Dad) Ranes, born in Lima, O., 100 years ago tomorrow, who has served his country in two wars, been married three times, and who still is active and self-supporting, is contemplating making the race for justice of the peace at the coming election.

Ranes says that he was born in Allen county near Lima, O., March 6, 1830. His father was born in Dublin and his mother in Killarney. The families of both of his parents came to America in 1800 and started life by clearing a piece of land and building a log cabin.

When "Dad" was 11 years of age his parents moved to Defiance, and settled in the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia.

HE LEAVES HOME

When 16 the boy felt that he was entitled to receive an education. Seeing that he would never receive such at home he set out for himself.

One evening he was sent to repair a fence, and instead of stopping to work on the fence, kept on walking until he reached the towpath of the canal boats. There he obtained passage in return for driving the tow horses.

This mode of conveyance soon proved too slow, so Ranes "jumped the job" and started on foot, finally arriving in Cincinnati. Penniless and without work he approached a recruiting officer and signed up as a soldier for the Mexican War.

He was assigned to Company F, First Ohio Infantry. After some months of training his regiment was landed at Vera Cruz, Mex. This was in 1846, just after the town had been bombarded.

After a number of skirmishes the army of about 8000 men marched to Mexico City under Gen. Winfield Scott, where it camped until 1847. There "Dad" saw Robert E. Lee, U. S. Grant, Stonewall Jackson and others later well known who were at that time only captains, lieutenants and sergeants.

CIVIL WAR SERVICE

Receiving his discharge from the Army late in 1848, Ranes went to his home near Defiance where he remained on the farm with his parents until 1861.

In 1861 he joined the Union Army and was assigned to Company F, Thirty-eighth Ohio Infantry. Serving four years, Ranes was in practically all of the actions under Sherman, McPherson and Grant.

On being discharged from the Army late in 1865 Ranes again went home.

Work being scarce, in 1866 he went to Yankton, S. D., and joined the quartermasters' department of the Army. After several months of service, with others, he was sent to Texas and from there drove 400 head of horses to San Diego.

At San Diego the Army detachment was placed on a battleship and taken to San Francisco, arriving there in the spring of 1872. The party then was placed aboard another ship and sent to Sitka, Alaska. Alaska had been purchased by the United States a short time before and the expedition of which Ranes was a member was ordered up the Yukon River on survey and exploration work. It proceeded up the river about 300 miles and was almost eaten alive by mosquitos. Returning to San Francisco, he was discharged from the service in November, 1872.

MARRIED IN 1875

Going back to Ohio, he again became a farmer, and in 1875 married Mary Bowholts. In 1876 he and his wife moved to a farm in Indiana. In 1878 he moved to a small Indiana village where his house burned, he and his wife and their baby girl narrowly escaping with their lives.

In 1881 he built another house on the town property, and in 1883 it also burned.

Moving his family back to Ohio, Ranes became a contractor, cutting timber for the Nickel Plate Railroad. In 1890 he went to Illinois where he engaged in farming and dealt in real estate for ten years.

Still suffering from wanderlust, in 1900 he took his family to Georgia, where he had traded for property. There his wife died, and he later married Jane Longstreet, a niece of Gen. Longstreet. A daughter was born to them in 1905, the mother living only eight days after the birth of the child.

Selling out in 1908 Ranes returned to California and lived about San Francisco Bay and Sacramento. He married Mrs. Emily Pugh in Contra Costa county in 1911. She died in 1915 in Berkeley.

HE'S FARMER NOW

Moving to Manteca in 1918 with his daughter, Miss Rose Ranes, he has farmed there ever since. "Dad" rents land and grows melons and other summer crops. He is always at work and can be seen with team plowing and cultivating, or harvesting and marketing his crops.

"Dad" says that he used tobacco moderately since he first left home, but that he has never drunk intoxicating liquor. Three of his grandparents lived to be 90, and one great-grandmother lived to be more than 100.

While Ranes has not yet decided, he is planning to cast his hat into the ring for the office of justice of the peace at the coming election. He has served twelve years in that capacity during his life and feels well qualified for the position.

With regard to the recent press report that the last survivor of the Mexican War had died, "Dad" says that the report is "grossly exaggerated." Although he voluntarily served his nation throughout the entire duration of two wars he never received a pension and does not want one.

"Dad" says pensions are for the disabled or aged and that husky, young fellows like himself should be self-supporting.

VANITY'S NAME IS MAN, INVESTIGATOR DISCOVERS

CHICAGO, March 5. (AP)—The scornful male who taunts his womenfolk for their vanity had better hide this.

A 333-page report written for a doctor's degree and issued by the University of Chicago sets forth that in the average home, based on observation of thousands of families, the husband spends 10 per cent more a year for clothes than does the wife.

And Dr. G. Alexander Ward, plastic surgeon, addressing the Illinois Cosmeticians' and Beauty Culturists' Association last night, said "My men patients far outnumber my women patients." Men are much more timid, however, about asking for alterations on curling noses, wrinkled faces and cauliflower ears.

"You'd be surprised," Dr. Ward said, "if I were unethical enough to tell you the names of the many staid Chicago business men who're supposed to have an effect in their visit me for just such repair work." operations."

COTTON MARTS CURB APPROVED

Senate Committee Indorses Futures Regulation

Supervision by Government Commission Favored

Lack of Reliable Data on Markets Deplored

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Establishment of a government commission to regulate the cotton futures exchanges was recommended today by the Senate cotton market investigating committee in a report approved by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

The committee report proposed that the cotton futures exchanges be designated by the Secretary of Agriculture as "contract markets" and that a government commission be empowered to suspend or revoke the designation of "a contract market."

It was recommended that the Secretaries of Agriculture and Commerce and the Attorney-General compose the supervisory commission.

"The committee is particularly impressed," its report read, "with the lack of reliable exact information concerning fundamental conditions existing from day to day in those markets (cotton futures) and with the fact that no governmental agency is authorized to exercise any regulatory supervision or control whatever over the actual processes of future trading or to obtain current information of a kind which would be absolutely essential to any reliable conclusions with respect to manipulative or unnatural influences which from time to time are operations."

EXCLUSION BILL DELAY SIGHTED

Johnson's Special Rule Plan May Fail to Work

Californians Divided Over Mexican Restriction

Meeting Contemplated for Considering Matter

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 5. (Exclusive)—Chairman Johnson of the House Immigration Committee today introduced a resolution providing for consideration, under a special rule, of his bill for restriction of immigration from Mexico and other countries on the Western Hemisphere.

However, the move promises to be of no immediate avail to the advocates of restriction as they must first get action from the Rules Committee and Chairman Snell of that body is out of the city until next week. Moreover, Snell, Speaker Longworth and Republican Floor Leader Tilson have indicated that they intend to consider the Johnson measure very carefully before permitting it to come out of the Rules Committee.

At the same time inquiry today developed that the California delegation is divided on the question of Mexican restriction, and Representative Barbour of Fresno, acting chairman, is considering calling a delegation meeting to consider the matter.

Carter of Oakland, and Welch of San Francisco, are understood to be definitely for the Johnson bill, with Englebright of Nevada City, Mrs. Kahn of San Francisco, Crail of Los Angeles, Swing of El Centro and others sitting on the fence. Representative Free of San Jose, a member of the Immigration Committee, is the only member of the delegation who has been openly fighting the proposed Mexican exclusion. The majority of members of the delegation are believed prepared to embrace the Johnson bill on the theory that the treatment accorded Mexicans—11,000 immigrants the first year, 7000 the next and 2900 a year premanently thereafter—is the best compromise they can obtain at the hands of the restrictionists.

Agitators Seek to Fire Schools

COMENO, CORIZIA (Italy) March 5. (AP)—Slovene agitators attempted today to set fire to two elementary schools near here. Four suspects were arrested.

The agitators also threw bombs into the schoolrooms, destroying books and writing materials, before they escaped in an automobile.

The attempts are believed to have been the outgrowth of a campaign by the proscribed Slovene newspaper Borba and to have been aimed at resisting the Italianization programs.

FORMER HEAD OF YALE DEAD

Arthur T. Hadley Succumbs in Kobe, Japan

President Emeritus Victim of Pneumonia

End Comes While on Trip Circling Globe

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) March 5. (AP) Arthur T. Hadley, president emeritus of Yale University, died in Japan today, according to a cablegram received here tonight by his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Moseley.

Dr. Hadley, who was 73 years of age, died of pneumonia at Kobe, Japan, according to the cablegram. He left New York on the Empress of Australia December 3 for a round-the-world cruise.

When Arthur Twining Hadley resigned the presidency of Yale University in 1921 he carried out an intention expressed twenty-two years previously. Shortly after his election as head of the university in 1899 he informed the board of trustees that he would retire from the presidency when he reached the age of 65 and more than a year before arriving at that age reminded the corporation of his determination to do so. He resigned the presidency in order to devote his time to the study of economics, to writing and lecturing.

HIS KNOWLEDGE BROAD

The Yale Corporation noted these facts in a minute of commendation, adopted at the time of the retirement of President Hadley.

It was said of President Hadley that his knowledge covered a wider range of subjects than almost any other university president or professor. As a college student he had taken a large majority of academic prizes and one of the favorite pastimes of upper-classmen was to lift young Hadley upon a box and make him deliver an address on any subject assigned—a.n ordeal that he always creditably passed through. As a Yale professor his intellectual passion was railroad transportation, but there was hardly a subject in the college catalogue he could not teach. He spoke all the European languages freely and it was said there were few, dead or living that he could not read with understanding.

His attainments, however, were not all strictly scholastic. He was regarded as the best chess and whist player in New Haven. He was apt at tennis, a celebrated pedestrian and Alpine climber; he was supposed to understand football strategy, at least on the intellectual side, better than Walter Camp; he was fond of discussing baseball and had one fixed idea, which he would debate for hours, that it would be a better game if played with ten men instead of nine. He was greatly interested in military strategy, and in particular was an authority on the strategic side of Napoleon's campaigns. Once at a circus he surprised the elephant keeper by his encyclopedic information on elephants.

Arthur Twining Hadley was born in New Haven, Ct., April 23, 1856, the only child of the late Prof. James Hadley of Yale College, and of Anne Twining Hadley. He was prepared for college at the Hopkins grammar school (New Haven) and entered Yale in 1872. He was elected to Delta Kappa in his freshman year, Delta Beta Chi in his sophomore year and Delta Kappa Epsilon in his junior year. He was also a member of the Senior Society of Skull and Bones.

He was valedictorian of his class and took Woolsey and Bristed scholarships. He was the recipient of Winthrop prizes for "students most thoroughly acquainted with the Greek and Latin poets," the Clarke prize for the solution of astronomical problems, and one of the Townsend prizes for English composition.

SUCCESSFUL TEACHER

He studied political science in New Haven for a year after his graduation in 1876 and continued his studies for the next two years at the University of Berlin. On his return from Europe, in the autumn of 1879, he was made a tutor in Yale College. His tutorship ended in 1883, and about that time he began his work in the field of the history and science of railroad transportation, in which he accomplished considerable important work, and raised himself to the position of an acknowledged authority. From 1883 to 1886 he was university lecturer on railroad administration. In the latter year he was appointed professor of political science in the graduate department, and in 1891 he was transferred to the chair of political economy in Yale College, which he held till his election to the presidency in 1899.

During these years of marked success as a teacher in the college Mr. Hadley developed his useful capacity for carrying on different lines of important work at the same time. In 1890-1891 he was acting professor of political economy in the Sheffield Scientific School; in 1892-1895 he served as dean of the graduate school; in 1885-1887 he was commissioner of labor statistics of the State of Connecticut and in this capacity published two reports that attracted wide attention and established his reputation as a statistician and as a student of the labor problem. From 1887 to 1889 he was associate editor of the Railroad Gazette of New York, having special charge of the department of foreign railroads.

HAD U. C. DEGREE

Noticeable features of his administration at Yale were the introducing of more uniformly high requirements for professorships, the doubling of the university's endowment, the raising of the standard of the professional schools, increase of co-operation between departments as shown especially in the university laboratories, the starting and successful development of the school of forestry, the acquisition of the Hillhouse property (Pierson-Sage Square,) the development of the Sheffield Scientific School under Russell H. Chittenden, and the increased emphasis on scholarly work among undergraduates.

President Hadley married Miss Helen Harrison Morris, daughter of the late Gov. Luzon B. Morris of New Haven, June 30, 1891. They had three children.

In addition to the degrees received from Yale others were conferred upon him by Harvard, Wesleyan, Columbia, Western Reserve, Johns Hopkins, Williams, Dartmouth, University of California and the University of Berlin.

'DIVINE HEALING' FAST KILLS MAN

Cult Leader Goes Thirty-one Days Without Food

Medical Aid Spurned When Illness Sets In

Arkansan Headed Group in Ozark Mountains

ST. JOE (Ark.) March 5. (AP)—A thirty-one-day fast, entered upon to cure an illness by "divine healing," has ended in the death of Erwin Lee Graham, 55 years of age, cult leader.

Graham became ill several weeks ago and refused medical aid, asserting he would be cured by faith. On February 1 he began his fast and from then until his death yesterday consumed only a small bowl of soup.

Graham was a leader of the Incoming Kingdom missionary unit at Gilbert, Ark., and when that organization disbanded became the leader of the "visionary" branch.

The cult, in 1921, gathered at Gilbert near here and bought large tracts of lands for the purpose of establishing a self-sustaining community. This community, the members said, would be protected by divine faith from the ravages of a predicted great world war. The war was predicted to begin in the spring of 1923 and to destroy all civilized nations by 1926.

The leaders proclaimed the community would emerge from the fastnesses of the Ozarks at the end of the war and restore religion and civilization to the world. For a time the community prospered and drew many to its faith.

CHURCH TANGLE BEFORE LEAGUE

Delicate Question Involves Confiscation Charge

Greek Orthodoxy Pitted Against Romanism

Treaty Violation Takes Row Into Geneva Council

[Copyright, 1930, by New York World]

GENEVA, March 5. (Exclusive)—A delicate and dangerous question, involving a controversy in which the Roman Catholic Church and the Greek Orthodox Church are opposed, has at last forced its way before the League of Nations after a decade during which the League secretariat and the Council have managed to keep aloof from ecclesiastical entanglements.

Greek Orthodoxy will be pitted against Roman Catholicism when the Council Minorities Committee, composed of three members, takes up a petition recently received from the Orthodox Church of Russian Poland. This petition came to the League from Archimandrites, Vitalij and Potchalef with hundreds of signatures. In accordance with recognized procedure Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the League, has sent it to the Polish government. Warsaw will be expected to formulate a reply after receipt of which the question comes before the League Council.

POLE AGAINST POLE

The committee of three, which deals with minorities questions, theoretically is composed of the president of the Council and two others. The acting president of the Council now is Auguste Zaleski, Roman Catholic Foreign Minister of Poland. Quinones De Leon, Spanish member of the Council, likewise a devout Catholic, is usually on the committee, so an entire new group must be designated. The only Greek Orthodox nation on the Council is Jugo-Slavia, whose Orthodoxy is unrepresented in high circles of the secretariat. Sir Eric Drummond is a devout Catholic, having espoused Romanism through marriage.

Another unique aspect of the situation is that Poles will be pitted against Poles. The Orthodox petition charges that Rome's action in taking over 500 former Orthodox churches and monasteries through court action was plain confiscation. Rating of the famous Russian church in Saxon Square, Warsaw, through government condemnation has also created great resentment.

LEAGUE CAN'T ESCAPE

According to well-informed League circles the real issue behind visible developments is a Russian Orthodox renaissance in Poland and the Vatican's vigorous campaign to stem defections. The acting custodian of the patriarchial throne in Moscow has also protested against asserted Roman suppression of his co-religion in this, while Sir Eric Drummond has received an official letter from the Metropolitan of Athens, Chrysostomos, protesting against asserted Bolshevist persecutions.

Obviously there is no basis for action by the League on anti-Russian protests; but since the Polish petition charges violation of the treaty of June 28, 1919, it leaves the League no loophole of escape.

Mrs. Chewning Goes Shopping

WASHINGTON, March 5. (Exclusive)—When Mrs. William Chewning, Jr., goes shopping for groceries these days she is just one woman among the thousands in Washington. And that's quite a change for Mrs. Chewning, for in former days when she was Margo Couzens, she made her shopping trips via a large automobile with liveried chauffeur and seldom if ever went shopping for food.

However, the daughter of Senator Couzens appears extremely happy with her bank clerk husband whom she married a short time ago and, apparently, sacrificing all the luxuries she once enjoyed, has worked no hardship on her.

BRITISH DISARM DRY FORCE

Eight Americans Hunting Stolen Rum Boats in Bimini Forced to Give Up Revolvers

MIAMI (Fla.) March 5. (AP)—Seven customs officers and an employee of the customs service marine storage base here were disarmed of revolvers and a machine gun by British authorities in Bimini before they were allowed to land a seaplane there today in search of eight rum boats stolen last night from the storage base.

Report of the disarming was brought here by Cal Latham of the Curtiss-Wright flying service, who piloted the search party from here to the British Island, forty miles away, today.

The boats were stolen from the base last night after the night watchman had been attacked and bound by several men, and then taken into the Everglades area, where he was released. The theft was not made public until after the seaplane searching party returned to Miami from Bimini this afternoon.

Despite the fact that British authorities refused to allow the party to land on Bimini soil before its members were disarmed, the customs men and Williams searched the island without success, Latham reported.

The boats stolen last night had been captured by prohibition or customs officers during various recent seizures of liquor.

HUSBAND NAMED IN MURDER DEAL

Suspect Declares He Was Hired to Kill Woman

Confession Asserts Only Part of $100 "Fee" Paid

Wife of Bootlegger Gives Clew to Transaction

ANTHONY (Kan.) March 5. (Exclusive)—Life is cheap in Kansas, Harper county authorities established as they delved deeper into the death of Mrs. Ben Turner, found slain in her home here Wednesday.

According to a confession obtained by the County Attorney, James Strutton beat and shot Mrs. Turner to death for an agreed price of $100, of which he was paid $65 and the balance of which the husband of the slain woman has refused to pay.

TRIANGLE ASSERTED

Strutton's confession clears up one of the most astounding murder mysteries in the history of Southwestern Kansas. The chain of events as authorities raised the mask of mystery from the brutal crime indicates that Turner had been in love with the wife of a bootlegger.

Because of his love for the other woman, and because she was the wife of a rum runner, Turner is asserted to have attempted to get this woman to hire a member of her husband's gang to kill Mrs. Turner for $100.

DOUBLE-CROSSING

Turner, however, is said to have told the bootlegger's wife to be sure to let him know when the crime was to be committed, as he wanted to be able to slip into his home after his wife had been slain and while the slayer was in the house so he could become a hero in the eyes of the law. In this way Turner is said to have told the bootlegger's wife the actual killer would be double-crossed and the woman would receive the $100.

But the woman refused. Reading of the crime in Wichita papers, she went to county authorities and unfolded details of the plot to them.

The woman's story led to Turner's arrest here Saturday. Turner, however, steadfastly maintains his innocence.

You've enjoyed a wonderful winter vacation in Southern California. To fully complete your outing, travel the Road to Romance on the homeward trip .... come by way of San Antonio! Here you will find a city old in years, young in spirit .... a spot so lovely that Old World Nations warred to possess it two centuries ago.

Sunny San Antonio .... there's enchantment in the very name! Tall palms thrust their rustling crests heavenward from sun-drenched plazas .... missions, old when the Liberty Bell rang out, sit dreaming of past glories .... the sunset gun booms at Fort Sam Houston.

Crisp mornings bring the pungent smell of woodfire and broiling bacon in parks where gay riders breakfast zestfully after an early morning canter .... the call of "fore" on golf courses green in the sunlight .... "serve" echoing from municipal tennis courts .... squeals of delight from children romping in the public playgrounds.

All this is San Antonio, where folks really live!

There is much for you to do and see in this gay, cosmopolitan city of 300,000 .... a community of picturesque contrasts .... site of the nation's largest army posts and flying fields ... mother city of the rich empire of South and West Texas. Come in time for the Battle of Flowers and its attendant festivities in April, commemorating Texas' fight for independence, and revel in the charm of San Antonio on your way home from California.

MALTED MILK was a very popular fountain refreshment long before the "Green Lanterns" were lighted.

But the way that popularity has soared since the Green Lantern Fountains opened is a story all in itself.

Today the Green Lantern Malted Milk is the fastest selling ice cream drink in Southern California. And there are still dozens of you who haven't yet tried this famous "food and drink."

This is your invitation. At any Green Lantern Fountain—for Malted Milks are uniformly delicious wherever you find the Green Lantern. At lunch time—in the midst of a long "dry spell"—when spirits and energy lag—just any time when you need food and drink.

You will like also the clean, sanitary Green Lantern Fountains—the sparkling glassware—the courteous prompt service. Green Lantern Fountains are operated by successful independent druggists who are co-operating in rendering a superior fountain and drug store service.

Viscount Gladstone

DEATH REMOVES H. J. GLADSTONE

Youngest Son of Victorian Statesman Called

Former Home Secretary and African Governor

Battle for Father's Memory Against Traducer Won

LONDON, March 6. (Thursday) (AP)—Rt. Hon. Viscount Herbert John Gladstone, youngest son of William E. Gladstone of Victorian era fame, died at 3:30 a.m. today of an illness which began with an attack of bronchitis in January.

Lord Gladstone was long prominent in politics and in the councils of the Liberal party.

He was Home Secretary from 1905 to 1910 and his career there was stormy as the suffragist agitation was at its height.

In 1910 Gladstone went to South Africa as first Governor-General and High Commissioner. A great general strike developed in 1913 and the strikers on several occasions demanded his recall.

His greatest prominence with the "man in the street" came in the trial of a sensational law case in 1927, when he vindicated the honor of his famous father, William Ewart Gladstone, against immorality charges made in a book by Capt. Peter Wright.

AUBURN CHIEF KEEPER SLAIN

E. L. Beckwith Stabbed by Frenzied Convict

Assailant Clubbed Too Late by Pair of Guards

Victim Third in Succession to Have Been Killed

AUBURN (N. Y.) March 5. (AP)—Within sight of forty-three guards and 875 prisoners, Principal Keeper Edward L. Beckwith of Auburn prison today was stabbed to death by a long-term inmate impelled by a fancied grievance. Beckwith was the third principal keeper in three years to die through the fury of a convict.

Beckwith's assailant, Anthony Mortellito, 31 years of age, serving sentence of twenty years to life, was clubbed into submission in an instant after his flashing knife plunged four times into the officer's abdomen. He immediately was dragged, almost unconscious, to an isolation cell to await full investigation.

DRAMATIC MOMENT

Beckwith's death came at a dramatic moment in the trial of Max Becker, another inmate, charged with the murder of the principal keeper's predecessor, George A. Durnford. Durnford was killed in the riot of December 11, 1929. Court promptly recessed.

The stabbing climaxed two months of calm at the penal institution, a calm which prison officials regarded as that which precedes a storm. Such a lull, they said, has preceded every major disturbance at the prison in years.

Beckwith, known among the inmates as "firm but fair," was standing in the southwest corner of the mess hall as the 876 convicts marched in. Suddenly, as Mortellito came near, he whipped out a secretly fashioned knife and plunged it deep into the veteran officer's body. His face twisted in pain, Beckwith fought back and with one of his blows felled his assailant. Then he collapsed.

GUARDS TOO LATE

Guards Joseph Burke and Thomas Locherin leaped to his defense, but were too late. Warden John L. Hoffmann, who succeeded Brig.-Gen. Edgar S. Jennings after the December riot in which seven convicts were killed, saw the attack. He was standing near Beckwith at the time.

Mortellito was sentenced at White Plains on May 31, 1922, after pleading guilty to a charge of murder, second degree, in the death of Paolo Letti on February 25, 1922. He was received at Sing Sing prison June 2, 1922, and transferred to Auburn July 13. Prison officials said he would have been eligible to parole in 1927 and that a deportation warrant was held against him. He is a native of Calebria, Italy.

Since the Auburn prison riot of December 11, in which Principal Keeper Durnford and seven convicts were killed the cells have been cold and uncomfortable. Mortellito fashioned a crude electric heater with which to warm his cell. That was his first infraction of prison rules. Prior to that time he had been a model prisoner. Principal Keeper Beckwith removed the heater but, according to State Commissioner of Correction Kleb, did not punish Mortellito.

"It looks," said Dr. Kleb, "as if Mortellito had brooded over the incident ever since."

BRITISH SET ON EDGE BY STOCK NOTE

Brokers Advise Clients America Destined to Sway Commerce of World

(Copyright, 1930, Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, March 5. (Exclusive)—London banking circles were startled today when a company of stock brokers issued a circular to its clients advising them to sell their shares of British industrials and invest their money in the United States and Canada. The English company expressed the opinion that Great Britain's present depression is not a passing phase, but marks the end of the period of British industrial dominance, while the American continents are destined to sway the commerce of the world during the coming era.

The concern which made the suggestion is Buckmaster & Moore, one of the senior companies on the stock exchange. It is composed of a number of men who are prominent in many walks of life and the motive, therefore, is above suspicion. Among the members are Oswald Toynbee Falk, who signed the circular and was one of the treasury delegates to the Paris peace conference in 1919; Capt. Walter Buckmaster, famous polo player, and Sir Maurice Bonsham-Carter, son-in-law of the late Lord of Oxford and Asquith and formerly private secretary to Mr. Asquith. Members of the company refused to comment on the circular today, stating it was sent their clients in the ordinary course of business.

New Grade-Peril Battle Planned

PALO ALTO, March 5. (Exclusive)—Plans to form a State-wide organization to place an initiative on the ballot at the next State election that will progressively eliminate the most dangerous grade crossings within cities, will be discussed by the Peninsula Grade Crossing Conference next Tuesday. Prof. William F. Durand, chairman of the conference and professor in the engineering department of Stanford University, will preside.

The measure proposed for the ballot is an enabling act empowering the legislature to issue State aid bonds for the removal of grade crossings where traffic is heaviest, according to Prof. Durand.

The PACKARD EIGHT

"I rather prefer the material now in the car, though the lighter shade is beautiful"

Built expressly for a growing clientele of means, taste and discernment

FOR those who appreciate and have the means to enjoy the finest things the world affords, and their number is steadily increasing, Packard provides two models—the Packard Custom Eight and the Packard Eight De Luxe.

The Custom Eight—with its new and enriched fittings and upholstery, its greater refinement of detail and its liberal range of color combinations—today offers a luxury far beyond that of any famous Packard of the past.

Save for the Packard Eight De Luxe, which is slightly larger and permits unlimited choice of colors, appointments and upholstery, it is truly the world's finest motor car—in brilliance of performance, in beauty and distinction of appearance.

Both models are powered by the famous Packard Straight Eight motor—newly refined and improved—with which is combined a new four-speed transmission. Flashing acceleration is provided—unique ease of control. Shatter-proof glass and an advanced braking system assure increased safety.

Prices at the factory range as follows: For the Custom Eight from $3190 for the Roadster to $3885 for the Seven-Passenger Sedan-Limousine. For the De Luxe Eight from $4585 for the Roadster to $5350 for the Sedan-Limousine. Individual custom models on the De Luxe chassis are available to order at prices up to $10,000.

For those who desire the luxury and distinction of Packard transportation in cars of modified wheelbase and at more moderate price, Packard offers the popular Packard Standard Eight. In reality a smaller counterpart of the larger, costlier models it is priced at the factory from $2425 for the Roadster or Phaeton to $2885 for the Sedan-Limousine.

If you are considering a new motor car this spring, let us discuss the various Packard models with you. A call at our show rooms will repay you with a new conception of what motoring luxury can really be.

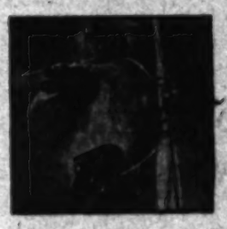
Kinner—Supreme as America's Standard 100 Horsepower Motor



1929 Established It!
Saint Louis Confirmed It!

AT THE 1930 Saint Louis International Aircraft Exposition, six light sport-business planes were exhibited powered by Kinner motors to every airplane powered by all other 100 h.p. airplane motors!

Never before has a 100 horsepower radial airplane motor received such an overwhelming endorsement. In 1929, forty-nine airplane manufacturers selected Kinner motors to power their light sport-business planes, establishing Kinner as America's Standard 100 Horsepower Motor. The results of the Saint Louis International Aircraft Exposition confirm Kinner's unquestioned position of supremacy in its power class!

It is not by chance that Kinner dominates its field. Its dependable performance and its ability to deliver the full of its rated power, and more, has made it the choice of pilots, plane buyers and airplane manufacturers. A complete nationwide chain of Kinner Service Depots provides authorized Kinner service at standard rates the country over. The Kinner Airplane and Motor Corporation has stood firmly behind every motor sold with the full of its resources to assure complete customer satisfaction.

These are the reasons why sportsmen and business men prefer to fly behind Kinner motors. These are reasons why you, too, should specify that your plane be powered by Kinner!

Drastic Changes in Pacific Electric Lines Mapped

Improvement Association at San Marino Suggests Them

Track Removal and Trades in Rights of Way Advocated

SOUTH PASADENA, March 5.—Removal of interurban electric railroad tracks from Huntington Drive and Fair Oaks avenue, conversion of the rights of way into major highways, and substitution of de luxe busses for cars by the Pacific Electric Railway Company, are proposals revealed today by the Oneonta Improvement Association.

Hal P. Gillette, San Marino land evaluation engineer, has been retained by the improvement organization to make an extensive study of the rail elimination project.

Plans for new highways were announced today by Gordon Whitnall, director of the Los Angeles Planning Commission.

It has been suggested that franchise trades be given the Pacific Electric Railway Company providing for operation of a fast system of motor stages to replace street cars in the northwestern foothill district.

The elimination of tracks and paving of the rights of way would develop Fair Oaks avenue, Huntington Drive and other streets bearing street-car traffic at the present time as main major traffic arteries and bus routes.

The first new boulevard under the plan to be opened between this city and beach cities would consist of an extension of Santa Monica Boulevard to Glendale Boulevard, thence through the hills south of Eagle Rock into Pasadena.

BUS HITS CAR, AND MAN HURT

Critical Injuries Incurred by S. D. Hanks When His Car is Hurled Against Pole

MONTEREY PARK, March 5.—Critical injuries were sustained today by S. D. Hanks, 45 years of age, building contractor, when his small roadster was hurled against a telephone pole in a collision with a motor transit bus. The accident occurred in front of Hanks's home at 1217 East Garvey avenue, Walnut Acres.

Hanks was removed to the Garfield Hospital, this city. He has a possible skull fracture and severe lacerations and bruises.

The driver of the bus, John Anderson of El Monte, told deputies of the Temple City Sheriff's office, that he was driving a short distance behind Hanks's car when Hanks suddenly signaled to turn into his driveway. Seeing the bus, he apparently became confused and came to a stop. The bus caught the fender of the lighter car and threw it against the pole. Parts of the roadster were scattered for fifty feet by the crash.

Anderson was held for questioning. According to deputies who investigated, the bus traveled for 100 feet after the impact and finally came to a stop in a field. No passengers were on board.

Bean Men to Study Problem of Marketing

RESEDA, March 5.—Lima bean growers from all parts of San Fernando Valley will attend a meeting and banquet to be given in Masonic Hall on the evening of the 12th inst., at which time there will be a discussion of present phases of the bean industry and the plans that have been made for the coming crop in the valley.

Carlysle Thorpe, manager of the California Walnut Growers' Association, will talk on the value of co-operative marketing and will make an appeal to all growers to join their market associations. M. B. Rounds, County Farm Adviser, will speak on "Extension Work in Co-operative Marketing." R. L. Churchill, manager of the California Lima Bean Growers' Association, will report on the work of the National Bean Marketing Association and its relation to the Federal Farm Board.

The growing of baby lima beans is one of the largest industries in San Fernando Valley. It is estimated that if spring weather conditions are favorable within the next thirty or forty days, about 12,000 acres will be planted to baby limas in the valley area this season.

Rotarians Hold Two for Trial

UPLAND, March 5.—Members of Rotary Club in their weekly luncheon meeting at the Sycamore didn't know just what to say when their invited guests, Ontario Rotarians, charged Roy Bradley, president of the local club, and C. E. Grier, club Tail Twister, with extortion, and ordered a trial in the midst of the dinner hour.

C. W. Randall was elected judge for the trial, H. J. Caldwell was bailiff, H. S. Bailey, clerk, R. D. Newton, prosecuting attorney, and Dr. M. E. Hill, defendant's attorney. Charles Barr was the victim.

It developed into a hilarious mock trial and complete exoneration of the suspected.

TRAFFIC AUTHORITY ON FINAL JOURNEY

Thomas J. Burns

SIERRA MADRE, March 5.—Well known as an authority on railway traffic, Thomas J. Burns, 78 years of age, who since his retirement from active railroad work has made his home here, died suddenly last night from a heart attack while reading the evening newspaper at his home, 65 East Laurel avenue.

According to Mrs. Burns, her husband complained of suddenly feeling faint and before she could administer a restorative of any kind he died without uttering a word.

In 1909 he retired from the service of the Chicago and Alton Railway Company, due to ill health resulting from a severe attack of pneumonia, and spent nine years in Texas recuperating before coming to Sierra Madre, where he established the family home twelve years ago. It has been the opinion of his physicians that the pneumonia left his heart in a weakened condition, although apparently he had never been troubled with his heart before last night.

At the age of 18 years he began his services for the Chicago and Alton Railroad Company at Kansas City, Mo., as a telegraph operator and steadily advanced in the line of offices to assistant general passenger agent and became such an authority on railway traffic matters that even since his retirement he has officiated as general adviser.

Announcement concerning funeral services will be delayed several days while his will is being gone over to definitely ascertain his wishes as to his burial.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Florence A. Burns, and his son, Thomas of this city, he leaves two other sons, Ira C. Burns of Canon City, Colo., and Harry T. Burns of Los Angeles; two sisters, Mrs. Nettie T. Smith of Boulder, Colo.; Mrs. Kate Jones of Denver, and two brothers, Will and Edward Burns of Washington.

Indio School's Twins Numerous

INDIO, March 5.—The Roosevelt grammar school here, is said to hold the record for twins, there being six sets enrolled out of a total of 500 pupils. Five of these sets of twins are girls and one a boy and girl. The local twins are a constant source of amusement and confusion in the school as they look very much alike, and in the case of one pair, each has a loose tooth in the same place. The twins are Yvonne and Elaine Robeson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Robeson; Pauline and Paulette Long, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Long; Jean and Joan Wickwire, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Giles Wickwire; Lucile and Louise Sullivan, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Sullivan; Gladys and Mary Crevision, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crevision, and Lloyd and Loretta Coleman, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coleman.

STATISTICS COMPILED BY CHAMBER OFFICIAL

MONTEBELLO, March 5. — Zola V. Cotton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has just compiled figures and statistics on the growth and development of the city. The combined enrollment at the high school and at the various grammar schools, on which the estimated population of the incorporated city is made, totals more than 7000. It is believed that this figure will approximate that to be compiled by the forthcoming Federal census.

Other interesting data compiled by the secretary in the report just issued gives the location of the city as 33 deg. 42 min. north latitude, and 118 deg. 7min. west longitude, with an average elevation of 202 feet. The record also gives information about the incorporation of the city, taxation, growth and development of the leading business enterprises, rainfall, petroleum production, automobiles owned by the citizens, and the number of deeds recorded during 1929. In hunting data on new subdivisions it was found that approximately 700 lots were put on the market here during 1929.

SCHOOLS GET FORTY RADIOS

ONTARIO, March 5.—There will be all kinds of plain and fancy music in the schools of Ontario and Upland in the near future, T. R. Woodbridge of Upland has given to the schools of the district forty battery-radio sets which will be used in science classes and for experimental work by students.

PLEA FOR REHEARING GRANTED

Superior Judge Gives Mrs. Jennie Ussery Chance to Remove Petty Theft Stigma

RIVERSIDE, March 5.—Superior Judge Freeman today granted Mrs. Jennie Ussery of Hemet a rehearing of the justice court charge of petit theft involving the removal from a burning grocery store of meats and other ice-box perishables on the night of January 8.

Judge Freeman sustained Mrs. Ussery's appeal from the judgment of Justice Dieterrich of the Hemet Justice Court who fined her $10 or five days in jail and suspended the penalty when she paid the complaining witness $15. The second hearing on the matter will be held in Judge Freeman's court, the justice court having lost jurisdiction when the appeal was taken.

The meats, milk, cheese and other articles taken from the burning store were taken by her to preserve for the owner of the store, M. W. Woody, until he could find a place for them, Mrs. Ussery asserted in the justice court hearing, and her husband took the stand and told of notifying Woody the day after the fire where the merchandise was located, and was told to "go ahead and use it."

Woody, however, declared Ussery mentioned only milk and wieners, and not costly pork loins and a case of milk. The charge grew out of the use by the Usserys of some of the things salvaged from the burning ice box. The charge was filed on January 13 and the trial held January 16.

Woody, according to testimony at the justice court hearing, was sleeping in the building at the time of the fire, and escaped, suffering burns on his feet. The property belonged to the Usserys, who lived nearby.

Evidence came out that numerous persons saw and helped Mrs. Ussery remove the meats and milk from the blazing ice box, and saw her remove them to her near-by home where she place them on her back porch.

Valencia Orange Show Promised Strong Support

ANAHEIM, March 5.—Pledging unstinted support for the forthcoming California Valencia Orange Show, twenty-five citrus house managers of Orange county and Anaheim business men met here last night for a dinner and discussion of rack displays. The show is to be held May 24 to June 1.

W. H. Blodget of the Mutual Orange Distributors of Redlands assured the show directors that his organization will take as much rack space for fruit display as in past years, and more, if needed. A like assurance came from Robert Strain of Fullerton, representing the American Fruit Growers.

Packing-house managers were united in their praise of the show as an advertising medium for the Valencia orange, and promised to aid in filling the display racks as well as in supplying packers for the packing contests.

"During the past year the show brought to the Valencia orange and to Orange county 45,000 column-inches of publicity that could not have been purchased," George W. Reid, manager of the show, reported. "Every inch of this publicity matter has added to the value of the Valencia orange.

"The coming show, which is being planned around the story of Rip Van Winkle as a motif, promises to be the finest exhibit of the series presented here."

Reid reported that preliminary work on the exhibit indicates a successful pageant.

Bandit Secures Auto and Cash

HUNTINGTON PARK, March 5. E. K. Russell had just closed his gasoline station at Malabar street and Slauson avenue for the night, and stepped into his car near by, when a bandit stepped up to his side, and pointing a revolver in his face, seated himself beside the motorist. The command was given by the hold-up man that he drive away, and drive rapily. Russell was compelled to go several blocks, and into Vernon, and when Santa Fe and Fifty-eighth street intersection was reached, the unwelcome passenger demanded that Russell turn over his money, which amounted to $36 in cash and a $10 check. He was then ordered out of the car, and the bandit drove away. Russell notified police headquarters, giving the number of the license plate and the make of car. The machine was recovered on one of the streets here a few hours later, abandoned. The bandit was described as being 5 feet 10 inches in height, light complexioned, and wearing a dark suit. This station has been held up twice before within a year or two. At one time $50 was secured and $30 at another.

PLAN COMMISSION TO FIGHT BILLBOARDS

SANTA ANA, March 5.—Ways and means of discouraging the erection of billboards adjacent to public highways, with the resultant disfigurement of the scenery, will be discussed by the Orange County Planning Commission at its meeting tomorrow in the Supervisors' rooms at the Courthouse, Mrs. Clara Cushman, chairman, announced today. A preliminary discussion of the subject has already been had by the planners, Mrs. Cushman said, but no plan of action has been worked out. There is a general complaint against the signs but the rights of property owners militate against a county ordinance to prevent erection of the signs.

"BULLET HOLES" SEEN THROUGH

Inglewood Police Solve Conundrum of "When Is Robbery Not Robbery?" Radio Shop Man, Who Reported Being Held Up, Confesses He Took Cash Himself

INGLEWOOD, March 5.—When is a robbery not a robbery? This is a conundrum which the local police department seems to have definitely solved, at least in the instance of J. H. Malrose, 119 West Manchester, employed at the Bungalow Radio Shop, 214 East Manchester avenue, who last evening summoned officers to that place and exhibited to them "bullet" holes in his clothing and told a tale of a bold bad man who had come in and shot right into him, just missing the body but scoring two perfect hits in the clothing. Then the bold bad man, he averred, grabbed $28 from the cash register and ran far, far away.

Looking around for clews, the police closely scrutinized the bullet holes and were amazed to find that the bandit must have loaded his gun with screwdrivers, as the holes had been pierced with such an instrument.

To further study the strange case they escorted Malrose to jail, where he finally confessed that he had faked the robbery story to cover the loss of $15 which he had planned to appropriate.

He was charged with petty theft and incarcerated.

FLOWER WEEK DATES SET

"Return of Persephone" Theme of Parade of School Children of Redlands; Observance Begins April 22

REDLANDS, March 5.—Redlands' annual week of flowers is to be held from April 22 to 26 and the committee in charge, meeting today, completed plans. Details of the schools' participation were discussed, revealing that the children's parade will be one of the most appealing features of the entire week of blossoms. The return of Persephone, which symbolized the return of spring to the ancient Greeks and Romans, will be depicted in a veritable fairyland parade of nymphs, goddesses and floats, apparently having stepped right out of the clouds of Mt. Olympus.

Horace Williamson, chairman of the general committee, presided. Those present included Henry G. Clement, superintendent of schools; Alice Nickerson, McKinley school; W. C. Collett, Pearl M. Pillsbury, Kingsbury school; A. E. Isham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Leta Scott, Lugonia school; M. Louise Arnold, director of art for the high school; Hubert E. Barnes, junior high school; G. R. McIntire, high school; Sidney Hockridge, Florence Faris, Franklin school; Marjorie Burr, Crafton school, and Marion Walker.

The children's parade this year will not feature individual schools. It will be in the nature of an old Roman festival with Persephone leading her retinue of Cupids, nymphs, dryads and Pans. There will be Greek children in their gauzy costumes and floats depicting this most appealing of all mythological stories.

Each school is to supply five each of dryads, Cupids, Pans and Greek children; ten each of nymphs and one float.

According to present arrangements the schools individually will be responsible for depictions as follows: Kingsbury, Apollo; Franklin, Flora; Crafton, Satyr; McKinley, Diana; Lincoln, Persephone; Lugonia, Ceres.

This imposing company will be accompanied by scores of joyful sprites and attendants, all rejoicing that the daughter of the goddess of the harvest has returned to the upper world.

HIGHWAY PROJECT LOOMS

State Aid Only Now Lacking to Assure Construction of Orlega Route from Riverside County to Sea

RIVERSIDE, March 5.—The Orlega Highway project, to give Riverside county a greatly shortened outlet to the ocean fronting on Orange and San Diego counties, today lacks only favorable action of the California Highway Commission upon the State's end of the finances to become a reality. Following a conference with the other two members of the two counties' joint highway district committee, Chairman T. C. Jameson of Corona announced that a "satisfactory agreement" had been reached between the committee members and that all preliminary details have been completed in readiness for anticipated allocation of funds by the Highway Commission at its meeting the 20th inst.

"Because I am serving only as a representative of our Board of Supervisors," said the chairman, "I cannot make public the details of our agreement before reporting the conference to the board meeting next Monday.

"I can say, however, that we reached a satisfactory agreement and everything now depends upon favorable action by the Highway Commission. It is probable that the matter will be up at the March 20 meeting of the commission," he said.

The other two members of the committee are from Orange county, Supervisor Jeffreys, representing the county governing body, and Frank Champion of Laguna Beach.

Action by the Highway Commission, barring unforeseen developments, probably will be little more than a formality, since the commissioners, on a recent trip to Southern California, indorsed the project and pledged an approximate one-third of the cost from the State joint highway district fund.

It is probable the total cost will exceed $500,000. Orange county has waived the right to aid from the State and will apply its share of the State money to the Riverside county portion of the work. Details of this agreement were understood to have comprised most of the subject matter at the final conference yesterday.

HIGGLEDY-PIGGLEDY ENDS

New Street-Boundary Map in the Valley Annex to Los Angeles Shows Which Town is Where

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, March 5.—The San Fernando Valley annex to the City of Los Angeles is virtually all one tract of ground, and just as much a part of Los Angeles as Seventh and Broadway. However, in this large area are numerous thriving towns, each with its own name and municipal individuality and dignity.

Now that the valley is growing so fast into one integral thing, some times it is difficult to know where North Hollywood starts or where Van Nuys ends; or where the Owensmouth dog catcher has to stop before he gets into the Chatsworth preserves. The same confusion in various ways arises in other towns of the valley.

NEW MAP DRAWN

To allay further trouble of the sort, the district engineering department of the valley has drawn up a new map showing the boundary lines of these towns and hamlets. It is the first one to be contrived.

The new designations will be especially welcomed by Los Angeles firms making retail deliveries in the valley, for now when streets and street numbers are given, drivers will know immediately what particular town in the valley annex they are headed for. The designated segregations also will be of value in numerous other ways.

BOUNDARY LINE-UP

The line-up as adopted shows the street and avenue boundaries of each town or hamlet. It follows:

Van Nuys—Magnolia, Whitsett, Saticoy, Balboa.

North Hollywood—Whitsett, Valley Spring Lane, Kittridge, Valerio and City Limits.

Owensmouth — Roscoe, Corbin, Victory, City Limits.

North Los Angeles—Balboa, Roscoe, Tampa, Devonshire.

Chatsworth—Roscoe, Tampa, City Limits.

Reseda—Topham, Corbin, Roscoe, Balboa.

Tarzana — Topham, Etiwanda, Corbin, City Limits.

Encino—Topham, Woodley, Etiwanda, City Limits.

Sherman Oaks—Magnolia, Woodley, Whitsett, City Limits.

Hewitt—Whitsett, Strathern, Kittridge, City Limits.

Roscoe—Saticoy, Whitsett, Strathern, Wentworth, Clybourn.

Pacoima — Payton, Wentworth, Brand Boulevard, City Limits.

Studio City—Los Angeles River, Whitsett, Lankershim Boulevard, City Limits.

Granada — Devonshire, Brand, Tampa, City Limits.

Sepulveda—Saticoy, Balboa, Lassen and Payton.

CONVICTED MAN SUES FOR $2,000,000 SUM

RIVERSIDE, March 5. (AP)—John W. Hamilton, recently sentenced to San Quentin from Los Angeles county for fraudulent real estate transaction at Ripley, has filed through attorneys a suit for $2,000,000 damages against the Ripley Improvement Company and J. D. Herman Janssen. Hamilton asserts Janssen and the improvement company failed to deliver title to property at Ripley as they had agreed to do after he had executed a $100,000 note secured by a trust deed on the Ripley property March 7, 1929. Janssen is described in the complaint as a "straw man" for the defendants connected with the improvement company. Ripley is located near Blythe, in the Palo Verde Valley, bordering on the Arizona line. Its principal landmark now is a hotel that stands virtually deserted.

CITY TO PLANT TREES

ALHAMBRA, March 5.—The city will purchase and plant 1000 ornamental trees in the Emery Park section in accordance with plans adopted by the City Planning Commission. The cost of the trees and their maintainance over a two-year period will be about $5.90 per tree, it is estimated by City Engineer Otto Rugen.

MAN HELD GUILTY IN ODD CASE

Riverside Convicted of Failure to Provide For Baby Born out of Wedlock

RIVERSIDE, March 5.—Despite his denials of paternity of the child, Louis Buyer, Riverside man, late yesterday was found guilty by a jury in Superior Judge Freeman's court of a charge of failing to provide for a baby born last year out of wedlock. Buyer will be sentenced Monday, the law allowing the court to give a long jail term or impose a heavy fine.

Because the charge generally is made against a lawful parent, the case assumed considerable importance with the State invoking the California law holding a parent responsible for a child's welfare whether born in or out of wedlock. It was one of the few such cases in the history of the county courts, attaches say.

Taking the stand as one of two witnesses to testify for the prosecution, Eva Lawrence, mother of the child, named Buyer as the father. Her mother, Ida Lawrence, also took the stand in the State's case.

The hearing reached one of its climaxes when Judge Freeman denied a motion by Attorney Joseph Seymour, representing Buyer, for a blood test of both the asserted father and the baby, in a purported effort to establish its paternity.

Earle Redwine, chief deputy prosecutor, battled the motion and obtained from the court an adverse ruling after the State had charged the blood test has been discredited for use in such cases as this, because of its inability to present conclusive proof.

Work to Start Soon on Torrey Pines Highway

SAN DIEGO, March 5.—Workmen soon will begin "crushing out" the route of the new Torrey Pines Highway, known as the Cliff route, authorized by the City Council yesterday, it was announced today by City Manager Fred M. Lockwood. He said the center line of the survey was made some time ago and when the brush is removed the outer lines can be surveyed within a short time.

Plans for the highway were almost completed when threats of opposition caused the City Manager to stop engineering work, he said. Now that he has been definitely instructed to proceed with the work, he said it would be but a short time when the plans would be ready for approval by the Council.

The City Manager has not yet decided whether to recommend to the Council that the highway be built by contract or the city forces. The first work is to grade the road. These plans are to be considered by the State Highway Commission so they will work in harmony with plans of the State to extend the new highway from Delmar, the City Manager said.

According to Manager Lockwood, the highway will be graded to a width of fifty feet with a thirty-foot paved strip in the center. The proposed bridge will be about 175 feet long with a forty-foot roadway and a five-foot walk on both sides. The bridge will have concrete arches.

City officials today expressed belief that there would be no further opposition from the Park Board.

State Officials Visit Redlands

REDLANDS, March 5.—N. P. Nielson, chief of the division of physical education for the State Department of Education, and Miss Winifred Von Hagen, assistant, arrived for inspection of the physical education facilities of the local high and junior high schools at noon today and was busy until this evening in conference with Superintendent of Schools Henry G. Clement, Principal George McIntire of the high school, and Principal Hubert E. Barnes of the junior high school.

At a previous visit Nielson praised the local equipment and methods highly and is returning on invitation of the local principals and superintendent for further helpful suggestions.

This afternoon Miss Von Hagen held a conference with the teachers of elementary grades and high schools at the Franklin school. She demonstrated the work as outlined in the new State manual.

The two came from Santa Ana, where they have been doing similar work. During the afternoon Nielson conferred with Clement, Barnes and McIntire on proposed changes and additions to the materials and equipment of the physical education departments.

KENNEDY TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER SET

UPLAND, March 5.—C. T. Kennedy, Los Angeles salesman, will go on trial in Superior Judge Charles L. Allison's court on the 17th inst., to answer a charge of manslaughter filed against him in the death of J. F. Legrande, also a Los Angeles salesman, in a crash February 13, at Etiwanda avenue and Foothill Boulevard. In his preliminary hearing before Judge Allison Kennedy entered plea of not guilty and denied responsibility for the crash and death of Legrande. Witnesses charge Kennedy failed to stop at a warning sign at the highway intersection. His machine and another large sedan carrying a party from Altadena to San Bernardino crashed, sending seven to the hospital and one to the morgue.

ST. VALENTINE IN WRONG, TOO

Store Phones Wife About Box of Candy She Didn't Get, Hubby Didn't Order

SANTA BARBARA, March 5.—Grover C. Drake, district agent of the Southern Pacific, is looking for his shadow. So are the police, so is Mrs. Drake, so is the Diehls Grocery Company.

It all started a few days ago when the grocery company called up Mrs. Drake and asked her how she liked the St. Valentine's Day box of chocolates. Well, Mrs. Drake didn't get any $10 box of chocolates on St. Valentine's Day, so she referred the clerk to Mr. Drake. The latter called the police to straighten it all out, because a short while ago another bill for $17 worth of candied fruit from the same company was presented to him.

While peace still reigns at Drake's, the grocery wonders what to do.

Manslaughter Charge Placed Against Carson

GLENDALE, March 5.—Following a verdict returned by the Coroner's jury investigating the deaths of Mrs. Dolly Carson, 25 years of age, of 1715 West Glenoaks Boulevard, and V. M. Green, 30, of 915-B East Garfield street, who were killed in an automobile accident Sunday on Canada Boulevard, John Carson, husband of the dead woman, was held on two charges of manslaughter. The jury held that the accident was due to reckless driving on the part of Carson.

Police Judge F. H. Lowe, before whom Carson was arraigned today, set bail at $5000 on each charge, reducing it from the $10,000 in each case set after Carson was arrested Sunday night.

Carson was represented by counsel at the inquest and did not testify. Relatives of Green are said to be reluctant to prosecute Carson as the two men were close friends.

Police in Valley Make Record in Raids on Stills

RESEDA, March 5.—If the present raid against bootlegging establishments in San Fernando Valley continues, there is a likelihood that in the course of events there may not be any more left. Since last September twenty-seven stills of various sorts have been captured by the valley dry squad. Nearly 700 gallons of alcohol and 100,000 gallons of mash have been destroyed.

According to a check-up made by Capt. C. A. Hodson, 196 persons have been arrested and the principals convicted. Stills worth about $150,000 and ranging from a small gallon pot to a 1500-gallon underground equipment have been taken by the squad. The average still taken had a capacity of producing about $25 worth of liquor a day.

Capt. Hodson estimates that if all the stills raided were in operation now they would be producing about 675 gallons of moonshine daily, worth about $6750.

WOMAN GETS DIVORCE, CHILDREN, ALIMONY

ONTARIO, March 5.—The domestic woes which recently shattered the S. P. Warren home on South Euclid avenue were believed at an end today with Mrs. Warren in possession of a decree of divorce from her building contractor husband. The divorce was granted by Superior Judge Charles L. Allison on grounds of extreme cruelty, and custody of two minor children and $40 per month was awarded Mrs. Warren. The divorce followed Mrs. Warren's charge of battery against her husband a few months ago. Warren was sentenced to 100 days in the County Jail by Judge George R. Holbrook, but on the appeal the sentence was set aside. The couple were married in Polk county, Wisconsin, March 28, 1895, and separated March 10, 1929. A property settlement was made outside of court.

CHURCH MAKES TAX PLA

Santa Ana Four-Square Gospel Pastor Informs C Supervisors Deed Obtained from "Ma" K

SANTA ANA, March 5.—Complaint of excessive tax on the Four-Square Gospel Tabernacle here, coupled with a re cellation of the assessment, which was refused by the Supervisors today, was intermingled with the announcement that the local church has obtained a deed to the property from Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, after a two-year effort.

The Rev. Wilfred Parham, pastor of the local congregation, evinced open irritation with the Supervisors because they refused to cancel last year's tax bill or reduce the amount, which was $319. He appeared unwilling to accept their explanation that the time provided by law for changing assessments had passed and that the property was taxed last year because it was held in the name of Mrs. Kennedy, an individual, and therefore was not eligible to exemption as church property.

Although the board assured him that it was helpless to act, Rev. Parham insisted that something should be done about it, as the tax was more than the building is worth and that "it isn't fair to expect a congregation of people to pay it."

"It is pretty hard for us these people for that," said.

When a member of the pointed out that a board's fault that the not procured a deed Kennedy and had a that the church property exempted from tax, a church, who accompanied tor, explained that the been trying for two years the deed, and that the payment for the property in escrow for a year had been impossible until recently.

NOT GUILTY PLEA MADE FOR SLAYER

"Texas Jim" Baker Says He Has Kindly Feeling Only for Sweetheart

NEW YORK, March 5, (Exclusive) Although professing to be resigned to the prospect of the death penalty, "Texas Jim" Baker showed no surprise when his counsel pleaded not guilty for him to the first-degree murder indictment charging him with the killing of Henry Gaw, night watchman at the Guggenheim laboratories, on December 27, 1928.

Two lawyers assigned to defend Baker appeared to plead for him. Baker was not his customary jaunty self. He smiled once or twice but appeared on the whole to be in a thoughtful, retrospective mood.

He was asked if he ever felt any remorse for his victims, and replied:

"Sometimes it was either his life or mine. But that's all past stuff now."

He was asked if he had any feelings of kindness toward anyone.

"Yes," said Baker, "but only one. That's that little kid out in Detroit. Gee, she was a sweet little thing. I wish she was here."

He referred to Eleanor Ray, a farmer's 17-year-old daughter who lived in the outskirts of Detroit.

"Has she written you?"

"No, but I'll see her again."

"How are you going to bring her here without money?"

"I'll get money. I've had several offers from newspapers to buy my story. I'll sell it to the highest bidder."

SLEMP AND OTHERS SUED OVER STOCK

Representative Reece of Tennessee Also Named in Fraud Charges

BRISTOL (Tenn.) March 5. (AP) C. Bascom Slemp, one-time secretary to ex-President Coolidge and now Republican National Committeeman from Virginia, and Representative Reece of the First Tennessee District, are among seven defendants named in a suit filed yesterday in Chancery Court here charging misrepresentation in the sale of stock.

W. M. Kay, the plaintiff, seeks to recover $2700 which he asserted he paid for stock in the Aud Life Saving Suit Corporation of Virginia, which is named as the principal defendant.

Kay charges that one of the considerations of his purchase of the stock was statements by Slemp, Reece and other defendants.

He also asserts that the charter of the Aud corporation, issued by the State of Virginia, authorized issuance of only $400,000 worth of stock; that at the time he purchased the stock at least $800,000 worth had been sold, and that of this sum only $65,000 had been placed into the treasury of the Aud company, and that "even this small amount had been spent."

The plaintiff also charges in the bill that representations were made to him by the defendants that the corporation had contracts with the United States government, held patents on the safety suit and that the suit had been adopted by various steamship companies. These representations, Kay charges, were unfounded.

"It was," it is set forth in the bill, "purely a scheme to defraud, cheat and otherwise procure large sums of money by the sale of this worthless stock."

SLEMP DENIES ANY CONNECTION WITH CONCERN

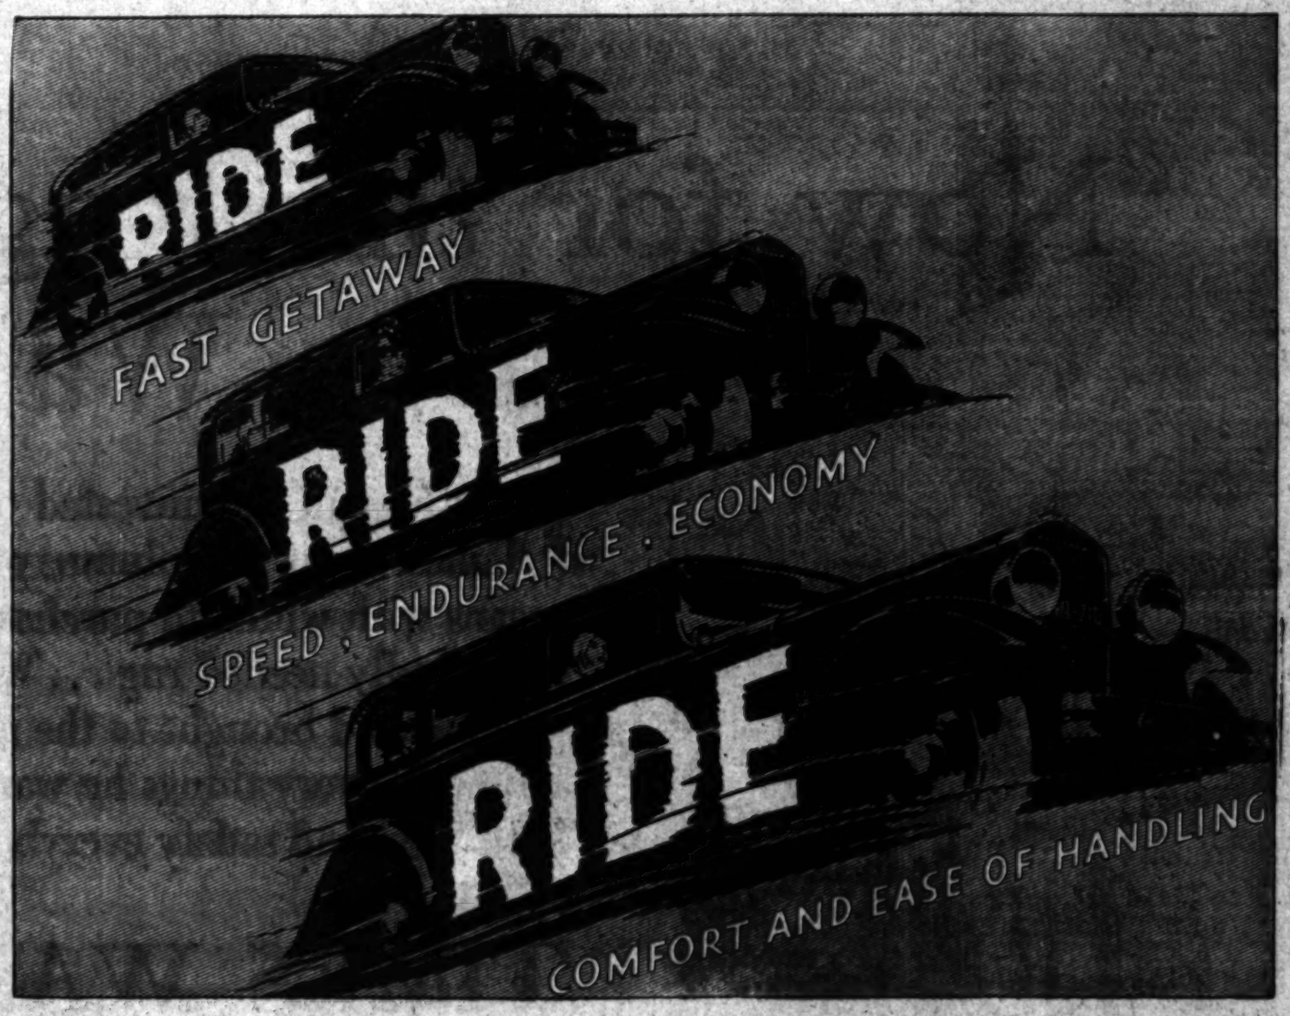
WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—C. Bascom Slemp, one-time secretary of ex-President Coolidge, said today that inclusion of his name as one of seven defendants in a suit filed in Bristol, Tenn., and to recover $2700 from the Aud Life Saving Suit Corporation of Virginia, is "an outrage."

Slemp said he has never had any connection with the Aud corporation.

ROYAL PAIR OFF FOR EGYPT

BRUSSELS, March 5. (AP)—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth left here today for Egypt. It is understood that Marie Jose, who recently became the bride of Prince Humbert of Italy, will greet her parents at Genoa.

ESSEX Challenger Week



Prove it YOURSELF... no lesser car can satisfy!

In Fast Getaway—against any car regardless of price or size.

In Speed—pit it against the cars most famous for speed.

In Reliability—in Comfort and Operating Ease.

In Economy—Note its even greater advantage.

You are invited to be one of the drivers to prove Essex' right to Challenge. We want you to drive and ride in this entirely new Essex Challenger.

This is a "Drive-it-Yourself Challenger Week." A week when motorists everywhere will pit the new Essex Challenger against every performance that makes for driving enjoyment. Thousands will know the thrill that comes when they jump away from all rivals as the green traffic light signals "Go!". As they pass drivers who thought they were masters of the road they will feel the real enjoyment that is known only to the man who drives the super-car. On the hills and on the long open stretches these Essex drivers will experience real enjoyment.

Performance, though, isn't the only satisfaction you will experience. There are appearance and comfort and money-saving value beyond anything you could have imagined in a car that sells at a price all can afford.

Nearly 6000 dealers in the U. S. and Canada have standard stock cars to turn over to motorists for this Challenge. These cars will prove Fast Getaway—Speed—Hill climbing ability—Easy Driving, Easy Operation, Luxury and Comfort. The Challenge is to all and for all to prove.

Drivers of other cars—high-priced cars—that are highly regarded for performance—and of cars considered for their low price are invited. The first will realize that more money does not buy relatively better performance or quality. The others that a lesser car will never satisfy.

Ring us up or call on your nearest dealer now and say you want to be one of the many thousands who this week will prove the right of the new Essex to Challenge.

WEDDING TRUST LAID TO FAMILY

Father and Two Sons Held for Many Marriages

Federal True Bills Returned by Michigan Jury

Trio Said to Have Operated in Southland

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) March 5. (AP)—Wholesale bigamous marriages in ten States were laid to a 68-year-old man and his 21-year-old son in indictments returned by a Federal grand jury here today. A second son, 17 years of age, also was named in the true bills, which charge violations of the Mann Act.

The three are said to have been former residents of Junction City, Colo. Federal officers say that since 1923 they have been traveling about the country in an expensive automobile, contracting marriages and abandoning the wives after obtaining money from them.

The indictments name seven women whom the father, Michael Cates, is asserted to have married and transported from one State to another and named one wife of Richard, who also is stated to have married five other women. The younger son, Howard, was not listed as having been married, but was indicted for assisting in transporting the wives of his father and brother.

RANGED IN SOUTHLAND

The father, whose aliases were given as M. F. Charleston, W. E. Johnson and William Myers, was accused of transporting Ruth Chastine from Berea, Ky., to New Albany, Ind.; Marie Ramsay from Pine Bluff, Ark., to Milwaukee; Mrs. Martha Webster from Polk county, Minnesota, to Long Beach, Cal.; Bertha Brocamp from Dayton, O., to Danville, Ill.; Agnes Weber from Milwaukee to Arkansas; Viola Weber from Joplin, Mo., to California and other States, and Clara Spencer from Sioux City, Iowa, to Oceanside, Cal.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Grettenberger said that Mrs. Webster lost $8700 to the accused men, and Miss Brocamp gave them $500. Amounts asserted to have been obtained from others were not announced.

WOMAN TELLS WOES

Richard Cates was accused of having married women in Michigan, Kentucky, Arkansas and Milwaukee before he was wed to Marguerite Berk in St. Joseph, Mich., several months ago. Father and sons were accused of taking her to Tulsa, Okla., later bringing her back to Kalamazoo, Mich., where they gave her 70 cents for bus fare home.

The woman reported her experience to Federal authorities, who found the Cates family in Tulsa a few weeks ago and returned the trio here.

It is stated by Federal officers who investigated the case that some of the women had obtained divorces from Cates on grounds of desertion. The indictment covered five counts, indicating that some of the marriages were found to have been legally entered into.

ASSERTED BOOTLEGGER SHOT

MINNEAPOLIS, March 5. (AP)—Max Golden, asserted bootlegger and former North Side restaurant proprietor, was shot and killed tonight when he stepped into his automobile after visiting his wife, who is a patient at a hospital.

DIPLOMAT DOES CUBAN DANCE

Ambassador Guggenheim Wins Prize in Contest and High Acclaim

HAVANA, March 5. (AP)—Harry F. Guggenheim, United States Ambassador to Cuba, showed the Cubans how to do their native "danzon" last night and thereby won first prize in a dancing contest.

The contest at which Ambassador Guggenheim displayed his dancing prowess was a charity ball and his several hundred competitors were Cubans. As a result of his winning in a Cuban contest he was today termed by Cuban newspapers as being "apiatansdo" — with having taken root in Cuba and with having become a Cuban.

SECRET OF MUSIC TOLD BY LIGHTS

New York Savant's Device Illustrates Difference in Harmony and Noise

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—The secret of the saxophone's wail, the lure in Rudy Valee's singing and the tang in Vincent Lopez's touch of the piano were shown by the latest magic of light at the New York Electrical Society tonight.

An osiso, which turns sound waves into light waves, visible as a moving line of light on a screen, revealed commonly unanalyzed differences in music. They were explained by Dr. William Braid, White, director of acoustic research for the American Steel and Wire Company, a subsidiary of United States Steel.

The most important element in musical tone production, said Dr. White, is duration of vibration. The musical light waves are wider between crests than those of noise, because the harmonious ones last longer. This is a discovery of the osiso. The osiso shows that the ear requires about one-sixteenth of a second to recognize a definite tone, an interesting period of time, said Dr. White, because it is about the same rate as that of moving picture projection.

When sound waves are faster than this they are noise. He illustrated with the sound track of a vacuum cleaner, the elevated in Chicago and numerous others. Noise, he said, might be scrambled music.

Dr. White hopes for a musical revolution in which light readings will lead to new melodies and get rid of piling dissonances upon dissonance. He said it is practicable for engineers to study in light waves the noises of machines and find ways to reduce the racket.

FRUIT FLY IN FLORIDA MINIMIZED

Opponents of Campaign Get Investigators' Ear; California Gain Cited

ORLANDO (Fla.) March 5. (AP)—Opponents of a $16,000,000 proposed appropriation for Mediterranean fruit-fly eradication work in Florida laid their case before a special Congressional investigating committee here today.

Outstanding in the day's developments were wholesale charges of destruction of property, inefficiency and waste on the part of those responsible for eradication work.

Further charges buried at the committee were that unnecessary and widespread propaganda detrimental to the State had been circulated about the fruit-fly situation and that Florida had been discriminated against by California through distribution by the California State Department of Agriculture of posters depicting ravages of the pest in this State.

Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and Dr. C. L. Mariatt, chief entomologist for the department, were criticised for failure to lift quarantine regulations from Florida "when the situation does not warrant their existence at this time," while both support and condemnation were given the eradication work as carried on by Dr. Wilmon Newell, State Plant Commission, in charge of exterminating the pest.

Other points of interest developed were advocacy of an appropriation only sufficiently large to complete eradication work; strenuous opposition to the use of arsenic spray; hearty support of a program for immediate and widespread inspection and clean-up of groves; introduction of plans for carrying on the extermination task and a general effort to minimize the seriousness of the whole fruit-fly situation.

EX-GANG WIDOW IN WEEDS AGAIN

Late Big Tim's Wife Loses Second Mate "on Ride"

Chicago Racketeer and Pal Found Shot to Death

Killings Believed Re-echo of Hospital Shooting

CHICAGO, March 5. (Exclusive) Big Tim Murphy's widow lost another husband to the guns of gangland tonight, when her second spouse, John (Ding Bat) Oberta and an unidentified companion were found shot to death in Oberta's automobile in Willow Springs, a suburb west of Chicago.

Oberta was a pal of Joe Saltis and had long been a lieutenant in the South Side beer mob. He was 27 years of age.

The police saw in the killing a reprisal for the attack on Frank McErlane, formerly a Saltis gang leader but of late a member of the South Side O'Donnell mob. McErlane was shot ten days ago as he lay in the German Deaconness Hospital recovering from a previous bullet wound.

Oberta married the widow of "Big Tim" Murphy, labor leader and mail robber, soon after Murphy was shot to death in a gang war about two years ago in front of his home.

Oberta was a former Republican committeeman in the Thirteenth Ward and was once nominated for State Senator. He was defeated for re-election as ward committeeman in a contest in which all of the election tricks of his gang were brought into play in an effort to terrorize voters and intimidate polls officials.

Oberta had been directing his beer business and dispensing privileges in recent months from a florist shop which he operated as a blind for his other activities.

DEATH CALLS NOTED WOMAN EDUCATOR

TREAT SENT TO HOOVER SCHOOL IN MOUNTAINS

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—A gift of twelve pounds of marshmallows is on its way to the pupils of President Hoover's little school at Dark Hollow, Va., the absence of postal facilities in that mountainous region notwithstanding.

This treat for the mountain boys and girls who only recently spent their first day in school, was sent directly to the Postoffice Department at Washington because, the sender at Council Bluffs, Iowa, wrote, Dark Hollow is not in the postal guide.

Assistant Postmaster-General Glover lost no time in determining a way to deliver the package, directed to Miss Christine Vest, teacher at the Hoover school. He wrote the postmaster at Madison, Va., the nearest postoffice to Dark Hollow, that the package was being forwarded for delivery to the pupils of the mountain school.

Five Indians in Mexico Die in Rancher Clash

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) March 5. (AP)—Five Indians were slain in a fight between five ranchers led by Moroni Finn and a band of Indians twenty-five miles south of Bacerac, Son., last Saturday, according to word brought here by courier late today.

Finn, owner of a large ranch in the Bacerac district, approximately eighty miles south of the border, was slightly injured when his horse was shot from under him by the Indians. None of the other ranchers was hurt.

The fight started when Finn and his companions overtook the Apaches, numbering between twenty and thirty, who were driving a number of stolen horses and cattle.

STANDARD REFINERIES TO CUT RUN

California Corporation Will Reduce Output by Seventh Without Layoffs

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (AP)—Refineries of the Standard Oil Company of California will operate until further notice on the equivalent of a six-day week, the company announced late today.

Refinery operations being continuous, the company said this change would be accomplished by reducing the weekly runs of crude oil one-seventh, "without the laying-off of any labor and without any reduction in pay."

CHICAGO, March 5. (AP) — The proposal of the Federal Oil Conservation Board for reducing the country's supply of gasoline was indorsed today by Edward G. Seubert, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in a statement to the board of directors.

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—A renewed plea to the State authorities of California and Texas to take a "more active and decisive" stand on the question of restricting petroleum production was made today by R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas Corporation, in an article in that company's house publication.

To "Point-Up" Appetite Just Stimulate Bowels

Whenever the end of the day finds you out-of-sorts; food doesn't tempt you and won't digest; breath is bad; tongue coated, just chew a candy tablet before bedtime. Tomorrow you'll be a new person!

A candy Cascaret clears up a bilious, gassy, headachy condition every time. Puts appetite on edge. Helps digestion. Activates bowels.

Cascarets are made from cascara, which authorities say actually strengthen bowel muscles. So, take these delightful tablets as often as you please; or give them freely to children. All drug stores sell Cascarets for a dime, and no dollar preparation could do better work. —[Advertisement.

ANALYZE THE ALLOWANCE ON YOUR USED CAR

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must make up the difference by extra charges on the new car or re-sell it to some one else at too high a price

PERMANENT value is always better than a temporary bargain in the purchase of an automobile. It pays to look ahead and consider reliability and ultimate up-keep costs, as well as comfort, safety, speed and beauty of line and color.

Since most automobiles are bought for replacement, the value set on your used car is a factor in almost every purchase. Frequently it is given an importance beyond its true worth.

Used cars have a definite market value and you are justly entitled to an allowance based on that value. It is not fair that you receive less. It is not to your best interests to receive more.

IF a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must either re-sell it to some one else at too high a price or make up the difference on the new car. This he cannot do unless he is allowed an excessive profit on the car or on financing, extra equipment and other charges. In either case you pay the bill, for no way has yet been found to give something for nothing. The money must come from somewhere.

You may not get the largest used-car allowance from the Ford dealer, but that very fact should give you confidence that you are receiving full value in the new car. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on your old car.

Because there is no waste, extravagance or undue profit in manufacturing or distribution, every dollar you pay for a Ford brings a full dollar in return. In lower first cost, in reliability and long life, in the low cost of operation, service and replacement parts, the Ford will save you much more than the seeming difference in trade allowance.

FURTHERMORE, at least $75 extra value is given to you in the new Ford in the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, Rustless Steel, five steel-spoke wheels, and four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. The large number of ball and roller bearings, and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings are other features that show the extra quality built into the Ford car.

Clayton Sees Better Prices on Less Acreage

California and Arizona Hold Favored Position

Commercial Opportunities in Mexico Cited

Reduction in acreage planted to cotton in the United States is necessary if better prices are to be obtained, Will L. Clayton, president of Anderson, Clayton & Co., one of the leading cotton brokerage concerns, pointed out in a statement on the present cotton situation issued yesterday.

Indicating the increasing importance of Los Angeles as a cotton center, Mr. Clayton incidentally revealed that his company's Los Angeles office was opened eight or nine years ago as the smallest branch and had grown until it is now one of the largest and most important. His company also has extensive holdings in Mexico, where Mr. Clayton said the company's commercial experience compares favorably with that enjoyed in any other country of the world.

"Cotton, in common with practically all commodities, has suffered a severe decline in price during the past three months," said Mr. Clayton. "It is now on a lower level than at any time since the summer of 1927 and is unquestionably selling below the cost of production, except in California and Arizona.

EXPANSION SEEN

"In these two States, due to irrigation, freedom from damage by storms, insects, etc., the cost of production is considerably less than in the Southern States. As a consequence, cotton production in the West has grown very rapidly and should continue to expand.

"The present low price of cotton is due, primarily, to a material falling off in consumption, brought about by a general recession in world trade and by the competition of foreign growths of cotton—Indian, Chinese, Egyptian, Brazilian, etc. If better prices are to be obtained a reduction in acreage must take place.

"Approximately 48,000,000 acres were planted to cotton in 1929. The Federal Farm Board has stated that the world is not prepared at present to absorb, at compensatory prices, the production from more than 40,000,000 acres. In this I quite agree. If Southern farmers put another big acreage into cotton this spring they must face the certainty of inadequate prices next fall."

OUTLOOK IN MEXICO

Purchase of a controlling interest in the large cottonseed oil mill, refinery and soap works located at Mexicali, Lower California, was announced recently by Anderson, Clayton & Co. In reference to this and other investments his company has in Mexico, Mr. Clayton said:

"Our company established a branch office in Mexico City eight years ago, since which time we have done business in Mexico running into a good many millions of dollars, much of it on credit.

"Our investments in the Republic of Mexico in cotton-oil mills, refineries, gins, compresses, etc., are now of sizeable amount and we have others under consideration. Its compares favorably with that in Its compares favorably with that of any other country in the world.

"The Mexican citizens with whom we have dealt have almost without exception shown a high regard for their obligations. Business men from the United States are visiting Mexico in greater numbers than ever before, and with the building

INVESTMENT CONCERN IN NEW FIELD

Schwabacher Company Adds Stock Brokerage to Banking Arm

Admission of Schwabacher & Co., investment banking house of San Francisco and Los Angeles, to membership in the New York Stock Exchange was announced here yesterday through the Los Angeles office. The partnership has also been admitted to associate membership in the New York Curb Exchange.

Complete brokerage facilities, according to the announcement, have been installed in the San Francisco office in the Palace Hotel Building, and it is expected that a brokerage department will be opened soon in Los Angeles.

Schwabacher & Co. was established in 1919 by Albert E. Schwabacher and James H. Schwabacher. The former has been connected with the Schwabacher Frey Stationery Co. since 1903, and during the war was Federal Fuel Administrator for the State of California. He is now a vice-president of the Schwabacher Frey Stationery Co., governor of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, and director of Roos Bros., Inc., Pig'n Whistle Corporation, Coast Manufacturing & Supply Company, Bond & Share, Ltd., and Edwards Dental Supply Company, and treasurer of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

James E. Schwabacher organized the Schwabacher Frey Stationery Co. in 1906, of which he is president. He is a director of Crown Willamette Paper Company, Crown Zellerbach Corporation, Pig'n Whistle Corporation and Roos Bros., Inc.

Other partners are Edward H. Heller, Francis D. Frost, Jr., and Alan M. Limburg, member of the New York Stock Exchange. Messrs. Frost and Limburg were admitted to general partnership as of the 1st inst. Mr. Frost will direct the brokerage activities of the partnership.

Marshall-Field Issue on Curb

Governors of the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday approved for trading 1,400,000 shares of Marshall Field & Co., Inc., no par value common stock, and $3,914,000 of Pacific Public Service, fifteen-year 6 per cent gold bonds, it was announced by Phillip S. Leo, secretary and manager. Both issues will be called for trading today.

Marshall Field & Co., Inc., has an authorization of 2,000,000 shares of no par value common stock, of which 1,400,000 shares are now outstanding. The officers of the company are James Simpson, president; John McKinley, first vice-president; D. M. Yates, W. G. Burt, P. D. Corley and G. W. Young, vice-presidents; T. H. Eddy, treasurer; and K. C. Reed, secretary. This issue is also traded in on the New York Curb Exchange.

People's Light Tells Profits

Net profits of the People's Light and Power Corporation, controlled by Tri-Utilities Corporation, amounted to $1,090,311.86 for 1929, after all charges, equal after preferred dividends to $4.40 a share on the average number of Class "A" shares outstanding during the period, the company announced yesterday.

Gross revenues, including earnings of companies acquired during the year only from date of acquisition, aggregated $6,632,000.97. Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes, amounted to $3,965,543.07 and after fixed charges of subsidiary companies and other deductions, there remained a balance of $1,919,508.67 for interest requirements which amounted to $828,994.81.

TOBACCO COMPANY PASSES DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive)—Directors of Standard Commercial Tobacco Company today omitted the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents on the common stock due at this time. They explained that the results for 1929 were not profitable due to a narrow market for leaf tobacco, but that the cigarette factory in Germany is making satisfactory progress and it is hoped the future course of the business will be good.

INSURANCE DEAL REPORTED

Transamerica Negotiations for Occidental Life of Los Angeles Rumored Near Completion

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Expansion of the Transamerica Corporation, international holding company, into the life insurance field is an early probability, it was reported yesterday, through negotiations nearing completion for the acquisition of the Occidental Life Insurance Company of Los Angeles.

Formal announcement of the transaction is expected to come shortly from Transamerica officials in San Francisco. The trade, it is understood, would involve the exchange of Transamerica shares for shares of the Occidental Corporation, holding company for Occidental Life Insurance and Occidental Investment companies.

OWNS FIRE COMPANY

Through the Pacific National Fire Insurance Company, the Transamerica Corporation is already represented in one branch of the insurance field. In the general insurance brokerage line, Transamerica is also active through its subsidiary, the Americommercial Corporation, which does a general agency business in life and other forms of insurance. Americommercial in the past has placed considerable of its life business with Occidental Life as well as other of the large insurance companies.

The Occidental Life Insurance Company was incorporated in 1906, and at the end of 1929 reported admitted assets of $21,221,562.85. This was an increase of $2,129,975.98 over 1928, and compares with total admitted assets of $437,366.24 twenty years ago. The company is licensed to do business in fourteen States, Alaska, Hawaiian Islands and the Dominion of Canada.

Life insurance in force at the end of 1929 totaled $150,652,736.12, an increase of $12,597,923.04 over 1928. In 1909, twenty years ago, life insurance in force amounted to $4,054,854.07.

Occidental Corporation, the holding company, and the Occidental Life Insurance Company, are managed and controlled by Los Angeles interests. H. J. Burkhard is president of the life insurance company; J. F. Burkhard and E. L. Blanchard, vice-presidents; Robert J. Giles, secretary and general manager; John W. Vaughn, treasurer, and Donald W. Steel, M.D., medical director.

Early last month the directors of the Occidental Corporation increased the quarterly dividend from $1.75 to $2 a share, or at the annual rate of $8, compared to $7 previously. Outstanding capitalization totals 10,000 shares.

EARNINGS HIGH

Consolidated net earnings of the holding company for 1929 amounted to $276,632.94, equal to $27.66 a share, or an increase of $5.69 a share over the previous year. Net earnings of the life insurance company were $258,069.36, equal to $25.80 a share on the 10,000 shares outstanding.

Transamerica's activities now cover a widely diversified list of enterprises, including three large banking systems, three large investment banking companies, a trading company and an investment trust, mortgage companies, agricultural credit, insurance brokerage and fire insurance companies.

National Bank Elects Austin to Directorate

Election of John C. Austin as a director of the United States National Bank of Los Angeles was announced yesterday. Mr. Austin is president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; a fellow of the American Institute of Architects and a fellow of the Royal Society of Arts of Great Britain, and president of the southern section of the State Board of Architectural Examiners.

Mr. Austin was one of a group of three architects who designed and supervised the erection of the new City Hall.

Among other works that he has designed and of which he supervised construction are the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Building, Los Angeles High School, St. Vincent's Hospital, Al Malaikah Auditorium, the remodeling of the St. Vibiana's Cathedral, El Rodeo de las Aguas School at Beverly Hills, and the First Methodist Church.

Trade Slow in Local District

Trade reports from all lines of wholesale and retail business in the Los Angeles area continue to show declines in sales with collections still far from satisfactory, according to the weekly summary of the Bradstreet Company issued yesterday.

Automobile dealers reported the auto show helped considerably with sales the greatest in the popular-priced car field. Used-car prices are very low in an effort to lower a very heavy inventory. Prices for navel oranges have advanced and prices of citrus fruits in general are slightly higher.

TRUST UNIT STARTS SERIES OF MEETINGS

Frederick R. Behrends, vice-president and trust officer of the California Trust Company, and Charles E. R. Fulcher, attorney, will address the first of a series of meetings of prominent Los Angeles life underwriters and California Trust Company executives which will be held in the California Bank Building auditorium in Spring street at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

BOARD INCREASED

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive)—Loring R. Hoover and J. E. Cushing were elected directors of the American Hawaiian Steamship Company at the annual meeting, increasing the board to eleven members.

The Public Service Corporation of New Jersey operates through subsidiaries all the gas, electric light and street railway business in the larger cities and more popular districts in the State of New Jersey, serving a population of about 2,800,000. The Public Service Co-ordinated Transport controls practically the entire motor-bus business in the territory. It was recently announced that eighteen bus lines operated by twenty-one companies controlled by the Schultz interests in New Jersey and Pennsylvania were taken over on January 1, 1930, by Public Service Corporation. This transaction included New York-Philadelphia and New York-Atlantic City lines.

Net income for the ten months ended October 31, 1929, amounted to $22,537,171 comparing favorably with a net of $16,539,254 reported for the similar 1928 period and nearly equal to the full year 1928 net of $23,972,183. In view of these earnings the common has been advanced to $3.40 dividend basis for 1930 from 1929 rate of $2.60.

Music Company Issues Annual Profit Report

Net income of the Platt Music Company and its subsidiary, the Platt Realty Company, amounted to $301,880.76 for the twelve months ended January 31, last, after charges for depreciation and reserve against losses, according to the annual report released yesterday by B. Platt, president. On the 100,005 shares of common stock outstanding, the earnings were equal to $3.01 a share.

Net sales and other income totaled $4,153,963.94, report shows. Dividends were paid at the rate of $1.75 a share, after which approximately $127,000 was added to the surplus account. Surplus at the end of the year totaled $201,132.12.

Platt Realty Company, the subsidiary, operates the new building occupied by the Platt Music Company on Broadway. During the last half of the year the music company opened new stores in Glendale and Alhambra.

United Founders Branching Out

United Founders Corporation has purchased from Insuranshares Management Company 250,000 Class A common shares of Insuranshares Corporation of Delaware, it was announced yesterday. The purchase, which is for United Founders and its closely associated companies, represents one-third of the present outstanding Class A stock.

Stock thus acquired constitutes the largest single block outstanding and in order to consummate the transaction, the Insuranshares Management Company recently purchased from the Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation its entire holdings in Insuranshares group.

Chain Sales in February Gain

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive)—February sales of the F. W. Woolworth Company totaled $20,029,799, a gain of 3.38 per cent from the February, 1929, total, and for the first two months of the year aggregated $38,436,942, up 3.78 per cent from last year.

McCrory Stores' February sales totaled $2,906,881, up 2.2 per cent, and, for the two months, $5,601,458, up 1.2 per cent.

W. T. Grant February sales totaled $3,911,272, up 11.24 per cent.

Goldblatt Brothers' February sales were 26 per cent greater than in February, 1929, it was reported, while the exact figures are not available.

Los Angeles Gas Head Heard at Annual Meeting

Says Growth of Past Year on Par With Previous

Old Board and Official Staff Given Re-election

Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation in 1929 experienced another year of substantial increases in gross earnings and operations, while expenditures for betterments and extensions were reduced below that of previous years, Addison B. Day, president and general manager told stockholders yesterday at the annual meeting.

W. B. Cline, chairman of the board, and all other directors were re-elected. Officers were also re-elected at the meeting of the board which followed.

The corporation, Mr. Day said, passed through a year in which operation, rather than construction, claimed the major portion of its attention and activity. Gross earnings increased $1,584,000, as compared with 1928, while expenditures for betterments were $3,794,000 less than during the previous year.

GAS ABUNDANT

"This desirable condition," he said, "resulted from two principal causes—first, the abundance of natural gas and the adequacy of your power generating plants, requiring a minimum of expenditure for production needs; and, second, the increasing use of gas and electric service for domestic, commercial and industrial purposes."

Sales of gas increased 13 per cent over the volume for 1928 and sales of electricity increased 14½ per cent. The gas output aggregated 23,571,822,000 cubic feet, up 9.96 per cent and the electricity output increased 12.76 per cent to 304,106,629 kilowatt-hours.

At the close of the year there were 537,824 gas and electric meters installed, an increase of 16,171, for the year. Gas meters totaled 378,570, up 8587 and electric meters numbered 159,254, up 7614.

INVESTMENT INCREASED

Investment in plant was increased $3,678,000, and additions and betterments during the year included the acquisition of real estate as sites for district offices and gas metering stations, an automobile storage building in Los Angeles, an electric substation with a capacity of 10,000 kva., office buildings in Alhambra and Pasadena, three miles of underground electric conduits, 314 miles of main wire and forty miles of gas mains. No additional financing was required.

Net earnings of the corporation, after all charges, were recently reported at $5,832,708.85 for the year, equivalent to $29.96 a share on the largest amount of preferred stock outstanding during the period. This was an increase over 1928 earnings of $915,171.78, or nearly 20 per cent. All of the common stock is owned by Pacific Lighting Corporation.

Power Output for Edison in Sharp Advance

Revealing industrial power expansion in Southern California during the past year reached unprecedented volume, the annual pamphlet report of John B. Miller, chairman of the Southern California Edison Company, now being mailed to stockholders, details the load-building activities of the company. The salient features of the report have previously been published.

The load-building program for 1929 contemplated the addition of 358,000 horsepower of new business and this quota was exceeded with a volume of 364,428 horsepower, 34.5 per cent over the previous year. The estimated additional annual revenue from this total of new business is $7,050,000, Mr. Miller's report points out.

Solid growth of industrial Southern California in the five-year period of 1925 to 1929 is charted in the report and shows that in 1929 in this area the company had ninety-nine services of 500 horsepower and over with a total connected industrial load of 156,082 horsepower. At the close of 1929 there were 209 services of 500 horsepower or over with a total connected load of 346,536 horsepower.

Water Service Earnings Gain

January net income of the California Water Service Company amounted to $31,629, as against $21,675 in January, 1929, an increase of 59.54, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company. Operating revenues increased from $142,947 to $149,195.

Net income for the twelve months closed January 31, last, declined $119,120 from the corresponding period last year to a total of $569,888. The operating revenues for the same period increased $164,329 to $2,129,735.

SIDNEY MUNICIPAL BONDS IN OFFERING

Representing the first financing ever done in this country for the city of Sydney, New South Wales, public offering is being made of $5,000,000 twenty-five-year 5 1-2 per cent sinking fund gold bonds by Bancamerica-Blair Corporation, E. H. Rollins & Sons and Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc. The bonds, which are due February 1, 1955, and are redeemable other than for sinking fund purposes beginning February 1, 1945, are priced at 90 and interest to yield about 6.30 per cent.

TREASURY FINANCING PENDS

March Maturities of More Than $500,000,000 to be Met in Part by Sale of Certificates

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, March 5.—Within thirty days the United States Treasury will have to finance maturities of government obligations slightly in excess of a half billion dollars.

On the 15th inst. United States government certificates totaling $404,208,500 fall due and two days later $100,000,000 Treasury bills will be sold.

The recent sale of Treasury bills, totaling $56,108,000, to the Marine Trust Company of Buffalo was one small piece of financing completed in anticipation of the March situation.

There will be a big difference in the interest rates on government issues of last year and this year. The certificates maturing in March bear 5 1-8 per cent interest, while the new certificates will draw about 3 1-4 per cent.

Then there will be a considerable amount of income tax payments made to the government before the 15th inst. Some of this amount will be available to pay debts. So that the total amount of discount bills and certificates will probably be considerably less than the amount coming due.

This much can be said: That while England has long made it a custom to sell Treasury bills at discount, only recently has the United States Treasury done so. The experiment has worked admirably so far and it is expected that more of these bills will be offered as government commitments fall due.

Think of four Americans during 1928 earning $6,537,300 by their own personal efforts.

Yet this information was brought out at the trust conference of the American Bankers' Association in New York when it was revealed that each of these Americans had returned incomes of over $1,000,000 in Federal tax reports.

"In 1928, 840,893 individuals returned taxable incomes to the Federal government of $5000 or more received from salaries and commissions, or incomes earned by their own personal service," said Joseph S. McCoy, United States government actuary of the Treasury Department.

"In this group, 19,229 returned incomes in excess of $25,000 for the calendar year 1927, and 748 returned incomes in excess of $100,000 annually.

"Of these it is probable that in case of death some 12,000 would leave no estates other than the proceeds from insurance policies, and over one-half of them would be residents of New York."

New York State probably has the largest number of estates where life insurance constitutes the largest asset.

Many New York business men, who command large salaries, spend most of it with the exception of the amount they put into life insurance. This tendency has been growing for many years.

The Bank of England, unlike the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and other central banks of issue, is a private bank, with a monopoly on currency issue. Many British investors are stockholders in the Bank of England and receive from it regular dividends. Many Americans are, too. Edward Lane, president of the Atlantic National Bank of Jacksonville (Florida's largest bank,) once told me he bought a few shares just to say that he was a stockholder in the oldest bank in Europe.

Of recent years, the Bank of England has rarely entered into the field of private financing, although in earlier days it did a considerable amount of it.

Recently the Bank of England

Federal Men Intimate New Indictments Ready

Eight Accused Yesterday Wait Warrant Issue

Ninth Suspect Missing for Past Two Years

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (Exclusive)—United States government authorities intimated today additional indictments may follow those voted by the Federal grand jury yesterday against the president of the San Francisco Stock Exchange, two other members, three of their employees and three former employees of a Bank of Italy branch on charges of stock market speculation with embezzled bank funds aggregating $550,000.

The intimation was given in a way to carry the inference that employees of other brokerage houses and banks have been involved in similar practices but a definite assertion to that effect was refused.

AWAIT WARRANTS

Meanwhile, at least eight of those indicted were reported awaiting the issuance of warrants upon which they can surrender, each, it was said, having made arrangements to supply the bail needed.

These eight are George N. Keyston, senior partner in the brokerage house of Leib, Keyston & Co. and president of the stock exchange; Douglas C. Alexander, Keyston's partner, capitalist, clubman and polo player; Ray S. Rossiter, Los Angeles partner in the Leib-Keyston organization; Charles H. Clay, the latter's clerk; Claud Galmarino, employee of the brokerage company here; Joseph G. Bray, former manager of the Post-Fillmore branch of the Bank of Italy, the assertedly victimized bank; Robert G. Haddow, his assistant, and Daniel B. Burke, teller.

Elmer J. Griffin, former employee of the brokerage company and the ninth man indicted, is said to have left the company's employ two years ago for New York and his present whereabouts is unknown.

KEYSTON STANDS PAT

A report that Keyston was to resign as president of the stock exchange because of the situation apparently was dissipated by the board of governors of that body. The usual board meeting was held this morning. At the conclusion of the discussion it was announced Keyston did not resign, was not asked to resign and will not be asked to do so, unless the case reaches such a stage that evidence definitely indicates his culpability.

Keyston, reiterating his assertion of last night that there is no justification for the indictments against himself, his partners or his employes, also denied the grand jury accusation that he had violated the rules of the stock exchange by allowing bank employees to play the market without consent of their employers, saying he had adhered to the rules of the exchange by reporting the trading of Bray and Haddow to the Bank of Italy in February, 1929. The statement served to indicate the basis of the defense to be presented by Keyston and those of his organization accused.

CHARGES MADE

Almost simultaneously, however, the office of U. S. Atty. Hatfield declared the possession of information indicating that Keyston, his partners and the three indicted employees held numerous conferences with avowedly full knowledge of the situation.

It is also is charged Keyston reported the matter to the Bank of Italy on the day that Bray, Haddow and Burke were arrested.

purchased 250,000 shares of Class B stock of a certain partial-payment financing company, owned by the Commercial Credit Company of England.

This B stock has a par value of $2 and a paid-in value of $1, but it has no voting rights and the bank agreed not to sell its stock without first offering it to the directors, who control the A stock.

The London Economist, "learning with surprise" of the arrangement, says: "This new partnership is so novel an arrangement and, if it is to be a precedent, opens up such remarkable possibilities, that a fuller statement of the relations of the bank toward this enterprise is very desirable."

No such a business relationship between commercial business and a semigovernmental institution, like the Federal Reserve system, would be possible in the United States.

of new hotels, automobile highways, etc., more and more of our people will visit Mexico. This is certain to bring about a better understanding between the two peoples and result in the investment of an ever-increasing amount of American capital in the republic. Foreign capital, if satisfied with reasonable profits, and prepared to respect the laws of Mexico, has nothing to fear there, in my opinion."

ACTION ON DURANT DIVIDEND DEFERRED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (Exclusive)—Directors of Durant Motors of California adjourned the meeting yesterday without taking any action on the dividend. The second dividend of the company was originally payable January 22, but action has been postponed awaiting more conclusive indications of the course of motor sales for the early months of 1930. Dividend consideration, it is said, may come again before the board after complete February figures are available, but as yet no tentative dates have been set for resumption.

ALASKA JUNEAU NET EARNINGS INCREASE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (Exclusive)—Alaska Juneau Gold Mining Company today reported net profits for the year ended December 31, last, of $1,025,208, after interest and depreciation, but before depletion, equal to 70 cents a share on 1,446,000 shares of capital stock outstanding as compared with $781,105, or 54 cents a share in 1928.

MACHINERY EXPORT VOLUME INCREASES

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—American producers of agricultural machinery began 1930 by expanding their exports. The Commerce Department today valued January exports of agricultural implements at $13,688,290, or $1,238,206 more than in January, 1928. The total is one of the largest ever recorded.

PIPE LINE CUTS SCHEDULE

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive) Humble Oil and Refining Company and Humble Pipe Line Company have adopted a six-day-a-week working schedule in response to the Federal Oil Conservation Board's suggestion for curtailment, it was announced today.

CALIFORNIA FARM CROP SURVEY OUT

Santa Fe Bulletin Says Condition Near Normal Except on Citrus

With the exception of a reduction in citrus fruit, agricultural conditions in California are nearly normal for this time of year, according to the report of the agricultural development department of the Santa Fe Railroad which has just been issued. More moisture will soon be needed to enable crops to continue the growth started by the heavy downpours in January, the report states.

The citrus crop with navels now coming to the market will be around 70 per cent of normal, and 60 to 75 per cent as large as last year. In the northern part of the State, the Valencia orange crop has not only been reduced as a result of a freeze, but not to exceed 50 per cent of the crop will be shipped as Sunkist or first grade.

There is a heavy movement of vegetables from Southern California and the Sacramento delta district and production of vegetables is on the increase, especially in San Diego county.

Although the cotton acreage may be reduced, as compared with last year, it will be normal or better. Grain crops are in fine condition.

Warm temperatures following the January rains have greatly improved ranges but owing to the long scarcity of feed, it will be some time before the live-stock situation can get back to normal.

Standard Oil Unit Curtails

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive)—Standard Oil Company of New Jersey announced today that effective the 9th inst., it will reduce its refinery operations one-seventh in volume in accordance with the Federal Oil Conservation Board's suggestion for a six-day week in the petroleum industry.

This will involve a corresponding reduction in the company's receipts of crude oil, and, since manifestly it would be unjust to discriminate between domestic crude and imports of crude products, the reduced refinery operations, it was explained, will continue until further notice.

VAN NUYS CHURCHES OPEN LENTEN SEASON

VAN NUYS, March 5.—The annual Lenten season began here today with Ash Wednesday services at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, on Sylvan street. Rev. George C. Rafter, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Atlix, president of the women's guild of the church, directed the program. Lenten services also were had at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church on Kittridge street, Rev. Father Edmond Keohan saying the masses.

DIRECTORS ADDED

CINCINNATI, March 5. (Exclusive)—At the annual meeting of the Kroger Grocery & Baking Company today stockholders elected Albert H. Morill and John R. Roney directors, increasing the directorate from eleven to thirteen members. Other directors and officers were re-elected.

MINING NET UP

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive)—For the year 1929, Dome Mines, Ltd., today reported net income of $1,778,251 after taxes, depreciation, etc., equal to $1.87 a share on 953,334 capital shares as against $1,493,882, or $1.57 a share, on the same share basis in 1928.

TRACTOR MEETING CALLED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (Exclusive)—The Caterpillar Tractor Company has mailed letters to stockholders calling the annual meeting for the 25th inst. Stockholders will also be asked to amend the articles of incorporation so as to eliminate the pre-emptive rights of stockholders to subscribe to new stock.

OIL SET-UP CHANGE VOTED

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive)—Transcontinental Oil stockholders today approved the reclassifying of the capital stock by issuing one new share for each two shares now outstanding. Directors were re-elected.

"How I Settled This Bothersome Tax Problem Once and for All"

"The necessity for paying heavy Federal Income taxes and California Personal Property taxes no longer worries me," a wealthy manufacturer recently said. "Formerly the coming of March...the month for filing tax returns ...caused me a great deal of trouble and expense. Two years ago, however, a friend recommended that I investigate the 6% tax exempt municipal improvement certificates which are issued by Municipal Bond Company.

"Today, practically all my funds are invested in these certificates which yield 6%—exempt from all Federal Income Tax, including the SURTAX and from all California Personal Property taxes in opinion of counsel.

"What is even more important...my funds are better secured. For these certificates represent ownership in thousands of small municipal improvement bonds, constituting direct liens ahead of mortgages on real property valued at from 20 to 100 times the amount of the issue. I certainly am thoroughly convinced of the strength and convenience of this form of investment."

5 Pertinent Features of Our Current Issue of these Certificates

1 A direct lien, prior to all mortgages, on real property appraised at over 22 times the amount of the issue.
2 Deposited bonds in current issue number 8,366, averaging $92.84 each.
3 A full 6% yield—exempt from all Federal, States and local taxes, in opinion of counsel.
4 Issued by Municipal Bond Company, whose paid-up capital and surplus exceed $2,275,000.
5 Convenient maturities, February 1, 1931-1940; even $500 and $1,000 denominations.

Wheat Futures Point Down on Bearish Mart

CHICAGO, March 5. (AP)—Emphasis given to opposition of an embargo on rural shipments of wheat to domestic terminals had more or less bearish influence on wheat values today. Explanations from Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board lost congestion of wheat in terminal markets was the chief cause for change of the board's buying policy, and that withdrawal of loan value prices was expected to slow up shipments sufficiently to hold off a threatened embargo, were somewhat overlooked. Farm board subsidiaries apparently did not support the wheat futures market and with no other aggressive support, prices headed downward.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1½@2c a bushel net lower, with corn, 1@1¼c downoats unchanged to ¼c off and provisions showing 5@10c decline.

Aesthetic grain values formed the rule from start to finish. Early downturns here received considerable impetus from the fact that the Liverpool market displayed virtual indifference to yesterday's advances in price on this side of the Atlantic. Reports that a statement credited to Congressman Rankin, chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture that there is no chance that Congress will pass a bill this session appropriating $25,000,000 to buy wheat for farming relief in China. Moreover, export demands today for wheat from North America amounted to only 400,000 bushels exclusively Canadian, and domestic wheat crop conditions were announced from Washington as good to excellent, about a month ahead of average in some places.

Adding to selling pressure in the wheat futures market here were authoritative estimates indicating that larger population and increased use of wheat are not keeping pace with more active world-wide growing of crops. Disclosing trends, average world crops of wheat for the last three seasons were figured at 2,544,000,000 bushels compared with average crops of 2,032,000,000 bushels six seasons ago, acreage of 230,000,000 against 211,000,000 and yield per acre 15.4 compared with 14.6.

Corn, oats and rye markets sagged owing to sympathy with wheat weakness. Rye resumed a new low record for the season.

Despite upturns in hog values provisions eased down on account of declines in grain.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Oil Issues React After Early Strength Closing in an Irregular Fashion

Petroleum shares held the center of the stage on yesterday's session of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange following announcement of the six-day week proposal for refineries. The market opened strong with the major oils substantially higher and after running up to firmer levels, turned easier to close irregular with small fractional price changes.

Richfield, one of the most active, shot up to 26 and dropped to end at 24 7-8, off 1-8 net. Standard of California, on sales of 1600 shares worked as high as 61 1-4 only to react to close at 59 3-4, also off 1-8 net. Rio Grande sold rapidly to range between 19 1-4 and 19 3-4 and close at 19 5-8, up 1-2 net. Union Oil and Union Associates held relatively steady, the former firming up 1-4 to 43 1-4 and the latter closing unchanged at 42. Gilmore Oil made a surprise advance of 1 5-8 to 15. Macmillan yielded 1-2 to end at 21.

Transamerica featured trading with a turnover of 4300 shares. Early in the session the stock ran up to 45 5-8, but on light sales toward the close fell back to end at 45, up 3-8 net. Security-First National Bank rallied a point to 116 1-2, and California Bank advanced 2 points to 117. International Re-Insurance, following declaration of an initial dividend at the annual rate of $2 a share, traded actively and advanced 1 5-8 points to a new high for the year at 49 5-8. Final sales were at 49, up 7-8 net.

Western Air Express reacted 1-2 to 29 and Douglas Aircraft a similar amount to 17. Claude Neon sold off 3-4 to 42 and Pacific Finance, 1-4 to 38 1-4.

Sales totaled 27,613 shares valued at $835,929; previous day, 17,722 shares valued at $556,942.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (AP)—Strong buying in early trading today was followed by a reissue in speculative confidence. Orders faded out in midday, but sellers failed to appear, and consequently the tape stood still much of the afternoon. All groups retained a part of the early advance and showed net gains for the day.

The brisk trading of the morning contributed most of the share total of 46,727, with a market value of fair proportions, at $2,063,494. Rights totaled 14,400, bringing $113,596, and bonds $12,000. Transamerica rights were removed from trading at noon after having been on a cash basis during the morning, not a single sale taking place.

Ordinarily the leading group in speculative activity, utilities forged ahead early, but turned reactionary, the closing figures showing few significant changes, and no trend, being apparent. Pacific Telephone was up a point on a report of increased earnings. Pacific Lighting fell off a point from its previous high levels of the current move. Other utility moves were fractional.

Transamerica was up a half-point, and North American Investment went 2½ points higher, while Investors Association added a fractional gain to help the trust shares.

Oils responded to the brightening of the California crude oil situation. Most of the active issues moved fractionally higher, Richfield common suffered a late reversal which carried it a bare eighth below Friday's close.

Industrials which opened the day with sharp upturns settled later, California Packing being the only one to retain more than a point of its advance, although a number of leaders were fractionally higher than yesterday at the close today. Food Machinery was off a point, and I. Magnin 1½. A few declines of minor degree were scattered through the list.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—Relatively easy cables from Liverpool were followed by a renewal of selling pressure in the cotton market today and prices made new low records for the season on all positions. The early offerings were absorbed by trade buying and covering, but demand tapered off on moderate rallies and old crop positions sold still lower during the middle of the afternoon, when the general market was about 12 to 23 points net lower.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Prices worked to lower levels on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday on light offerings and a particularly quiet demand. While the trading was well scattered only a very few issues transferred to any appreciable amount.

Cities Service, feature of Tuesday's session, was traded to the extent of 1100 shares and reacted a point to 37 1-8. Fokker Aircraft, on the same turnover, also lost a point to 21 3-4. Universal Consolidated led the activity but eased 1-8 to 16 1-4.

On small sales, Cypress Petroleum, an inactive issue, plunged 6 points to 9. Neon of New York, eased ½ to 17 and Consolidated Steel, 1-8 to 12 3-8 with the preferred firming up 1-4 to 20 1-4. Pacific Associates dropped 1 3-8 to 25 and United Linen, 1 to 30, while Samson Tire spurted a point to a new high for the year at 7. Kinner, on a particularly active turnover, reacted 12 cents to 1.60 and Mascot Oil dropped 19 cents to 81 cents. Tom Reed scored a new high at 82 cents, up 7 cents.

Sales totaled 51,165 shares valued at $188,142; previous day, 66,884 shares valued at $280,498.

The Third Largest Branch Banking System in New York

More than 400,000 people are depositors in THE BANK OF UNITED STATES. They are served through 58 completely staffed and equipped branch offices located at important points in the Boroughs of Manhattan, Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens.

The following comparative figures tell the story of the growth of this bank, which on December 31, 1929 ranked 28th in size (of deposits) among the 25,000 banks of the entire country:

	Capital	Deposits	Resources
1913...	$ 100,000	$ 1,820,617	$ 2,005,837
1929...	25,250,000	223,664,710	276,561,824

Through its 58 offices, including one at 70 Wall Street, the bank renders personal service to a diversified clientele. These contacts give its officers first hand information regarding the financial and industrial conditions of the districts constituting the metropolitan area.

Inquiries are cordially invited from Financial Institutions throughout the United States, to whom The Bank of United States offers the facilities it is now extending to more than 1,000 Banks.

(New South Wales, Australia)

THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF SYDNEY

Twenty-five Year 5½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

Dated February 1, 1930 — Due February 1, 1955

Authorized $10,000,000. Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1,000—Definitive Bonds registerable as to principal only. Principal and semi-annual interest February 1 and August 1 payable in New York City at the principal office of The Bank of America N. A. in U. S. Gold Coin of or equal to the present standard of weight and fineness without deduction (as to holders not domiciled in Australia) for any taxes of the Municipal Council of Sydney, the State of New South Wales or the Commonwealth of Australia, or of any taxing authority thereof or therein; or with provision for repayment of such taxes as provided in the fiscal agency agreement. Redeemable other than for Sinking Fund on any interest date beginning February 1, 1945, as a whole only at 100 and accrued interest upon 30 days' notice.

Cumulative sinking fund of ½ of 1% per annum operating semi-annually through purchases in the market at or below 100 and accrued interest or by drawings by lot at 100 and interest.

The following information has been obtained from official sources:

THE CITY OF SYDNEY, founded in 1788 is the capital of the State of New South Wales and chief commercial and financial center of the Commonwealth of Australia. The government of the City is the Municipal Council of Sydney. The Metropolitan Area of which the City is the center, has a population of 1,127,000, including 47 other municipalities and one shire; it also includes the principal port of the Commonwealth which serves as an outlet for large agricultural and mineral production and has an annual overseas trade in excess of $500,000,000 or about 40% of the total for Australia.

In the City proper which includes the principal financial and commercial institutions and which has a resident population of over 100,000, the unimproved capital value of land subject to taxation as valued by the Municipal Council is $351,000,000 while the improved value is about $944,000,000. This compares with an unimproved value of $580,468,000 and an improved value of $1,589,584,000 for the rest of the Metropolitan Area.

In addition to the Council's revenues from taxation it derives revenues from properties which it owns, notably from its Electricity Undertaking, which supplies current to the City and to 48 other municipalities comprising 771 square miles of the area and 977,000 of the population in the Metropolitan Area. This Undertaking has, for each of the past five years, yielded net earnings available for interest which have more than covered interest on indebtedness incurred for its benefit. Other revenue producing properties are also owned by the City.

FINANCES: On December 31, 1929, the net funded debt of the Municipal Council of Sydney was $96,500,000. The Electricity Undertaking and other revenue producing properties owned by the Council are valued at about $104,500,000. The Council also owns municipal buildings and other properties valued at $5,000,000.

The Municipal Council has power to levy taxes up to the equivalent of 9% of the fair average annual rental, plus 1¼% of the unimproved capital value of land, or alternatively up to 2.5% of the unimproved value of such property. The present rate is 1.46% on such value.

For the year ended December 31, 1929, preliminary figures indicate that the gross revenues of the Council amounted to $20,473,000 and expenditures to $19,223,000 over one-half of which were received or disbursed in connection with the Electricity Undertaking.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of the present issue of bonds will be used by the Municipal Council principally for the extension of its Electricity Undertaking.

DIRECT OBLIGATION: These bonds will constitute the direct and unconditional obligation of the Municipal Council of Sydney and will be a general charge with other obligations upon its corporate rates and revenues none of which are subject to any charge prior to the general charge securing these bonds. The Council covenants that if while any of these bonds remain outstanding it shall issue any loan bonds or other obligations secured by any superior charge on or pledge of any of its rates, revenues or assets these bonds will be secured equally and ratably with such loan bonds or other obligations.

STATE OF NEW SOUTH WALES has the largest population of any of the States of The Commonwealth of Australia with over 2,400,000 inhabitants or almost 40% of the total. New South Wales produces over three-fourths of the coal and about two-thirds in value of the entire mineral output of Australia and has approximately half of the sheep, in the raising of which that country leads the world. It is also an important producer of wheat.

It is expected that application will be made to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

All conversions in the above have been made at the rate of $4.8665 to the pound sterling.

We offer the above bonds when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to the approval of our counsel. It is expected that delivery will be made in the first instance in the form of temporary bonds or interim receipts.

Price 90 and accrued interest to yield about 6.30%

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, March 5. (F)—Under the leadership of United States government obligations, most of which touched new 1930 highs, the bond market gave a rather impressive demonstration of strength today. Numerous prime rails changed hands in large blocks and the average for ten carriers made the best gain of the year. Pronounced ease in credit was behind the upturn. Not only did time money rates again manifest a downward tendency, but bankers acceptances were reduced and supplies of call funds were plentiful as the renewal charge of 4 per cent.

Governments made the largest turnover in some time. The Liberty 3½s and Fourth 4¼s, as well as all the Hated Treasuries, touched new 1930 peaks and closing quotations were generally at the top. The strongest issue was the Treasury 3¾s, which rose 29-32 of a point to 108.31, while the Treasury 4s went to 108.2 for a net advance of 21-32. Gains in the Liberties were smaller.

Low-coupon rails attracted a huge demand. Chesapeake and Ohio 4½s and Chicago and Northwestern general 3½s made new high ground for the year, the latter rising 2½.

Investment utilities, which closely follow the prime rails, met a quieter market. Industrials were steady. Bethlehem Steel refunding sold off nearly 2 points but Goodyear Rubber is made a new 1930 high and International Paper is now a point. American Smelting 5s, Armour 4½s and other investment issues were firm.

The most active convertible was the American Telephone 4½s, which finished an irregular session with a 2-point loss on a turnover of about $1,450,000 par value. New Haven 6s advanced 1.

Foreign loans fell far behind the domestics. The most impressive listings were the Belgians, with the 7s making 2 new for the year on a gain of 1½. French 5s also assumed above the previous maximum, closing at 116¾, up ¼.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the highest and closing prices in order given, to expedite transmission. Sales are omitted when the same as the last, and both low and close when same as high.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

An entirely new producing horizon, and perhaps a new oil field, was brought to light yesterday by H. L. Whiston, Whittier oil operator, while drilling his Wisecarver No. 1, a semiwildcat well, a mile southwest from the center of the town of McKittrick.

The well blew itself in from a depth of 5038 feet, and last night was reported to be flowing at the rate of 300 barrels a day, with an output of about 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas. The oil tests 32 deg. gravity. Los Angeles oil operators expressed the opinion yesterday that Whiston has found the Temblor formation from which Kettleman Hills production is believed to be obtained.

The Whiston strike is far enough out from McKittrick to be capable of classification as a new field or at least an extension of the old field, and the depth is such as to throw it clear out of the old McKittrick field classification. Heretofore, for many years, production has been found there at depths from 900 to 1500 feet, chiefly from about 700 to 1000 feet, and the wells have been rather small, grading perhaps fifteen barrels each, on the pump.

The Wisecarver well has casing set to 2852 feet, the remainder being open hole. The hole was started October 5, last. It had excellent gas and oil showings at 4650 feet. Present production is said to be coming from several hundred feet of brown shale.

Banquet Plans Complete

With the engagement yesterday of Edwards Davis, prominent actor and film star, as toastmaster, the Wildcat Committee of the California Oil and Gas Association announced last night that all arrangements have been made for the annual banquet of that organization, tonight, in the Biltmore Hotel.

The chief speaker is E. B. Reuter, president of the American Petroleum Institute, and head of the Barnsdall Corporation. A review of California oil problems and association activities will be given by Herbert R. Macmillan, president of the organization. There will be an hour of vaudeville numbers for diversion. Fourteen hundred guests are expected.

Refuses to Interfere

Judge Pat Parker of Mono county, presiding in extra session of Superior Court at Santa Barbara yesterday, refused to interfere with the work of the State Department of Finance in regard to the cancellation of a tideland oil lease near Point Conception.

The department, charging that N. C. Grable had not met the conditions stipulated in the lease, is attempting to cancel the lease. Grable, declaring that he had been unable to obtain a right-of-way to the land and could not start drilling operations within the time allotted in the terms of the lease, asked the court to issue an order restraining the department from cancelling the lease.

After rendering the judgment in favor of the defendant Judge Parker said: "I do not think that it would be wise for the Superior Court to interfere with the work of a State department, as it might set a precedent which would prove to be a detriment to the success and proper operation of the department at a later date."

Stir Bakersfield Audience

More than 400 San Joaquin Valley oil operators and land-owners gathered in a mass meeting held at Bakersfield Tuesday night, applauded vigorously when Roland Rich Woller, Los Angeles attorney, and Dan Danziger, Oklahoma oil operator, asserted that overproduction of petroleum never has occurred in the United States, and scathingly accused the Royal Dutch-Shell and Standard Oil companies of "un-American" tactics in crippling the domestic industry by importation of cheaply produced foreign oil.

Both speakers cited facts and figures that they asserted destroyed every vestige of the arguments put forth by advocates of the present conservation policy and said that at no period in the history of this country has more oil been produced than the domestic demand could assimilate provided no foreign-produced petroleum was marketed here."

Acquiring New Acreage

The California-Ventura Oil Company is blocking up approximately 200 acres of town-lot property at Hermosa Beach, due southeast of the fifty-acre lease of the city's dumping grounds near the corner of Sixth street and Railroad Drive.

California-Ventura's original lease stipulates that drilling will start about April 10, depending upon the response from property owners. The company's operations are based somewhat on the success of the Ohio Oil Company's Recreation Gun Club No. 1 discovery well southeast of Venice, where deep production was found at 6199 feet. Venice is about five miles north from the Hermosa Beach activity.

In the Redondo Villa tract at Manhattan Beach, California-Ventura has moved in equipment for deepening the Western Oil and Refining Company's Carlin Smith No. 1, which has been idle for several months with bottom of the hole at 5500 feet. The project will be drilled to about 6500 feet to give the lower formation a thorough test.

Spuds Another

The General Petroleum Corporation has just spudded in Erburu No. 2 in its new field, nine miles west of Elwood. General's Erburu No. 1, the discovery well, remains shut in, after having obtained production at about 1400 feet. Erburu No. 2 was recently completed for approximately 100 barrels of 30-deg. gravity oil per day at a depth of 1382 feet.

West of General's Erburu lease the Shell Oil Company's Covarrubias No. 1, which found production at 1300 feet, has been shut in, following a thirty-day production test. Location has been made near it for Covarrubias No. 2. About one mile west, Shell's Rutherford No. 3 is drilling below 1000 feet in search of deep production. The company's Rutherford No. 1 and No. 3 were both dry holes.

Notifies Operators

Umpire Paul Grimm has requested oil operators in the various oil fields under his supervision to do all that is possible to observe the State-wide curtailment program calling for a daily output of 609,000 barrels, instead of 703,000 barrels a day.

The Poso Creek and Kern Front fields are reported to have backed up to their quota, while Round Mountain, Inglewood, Coyote Hills are endeavoring to bean down their daily flow.

Because of excessive sand troubles, Maricopa Flat operators are having difficulty in beaning down their projects. In many wells a steady circulation of oil must be maintained because of sand trouble, and it will be several days before a report will be ready for that area.

Yesterday's production for Santa Fe Springs was approximately 157,000 barrels and is showing a slow decline despite a few completions brought in during the past week. At Signal Hill the daily flow is about 110,000 barrels and that field must be beaned down to 80,000 barrels, the figure set by the general committee.

To Resume Operations

The Prairie Oil and Gas Company is preparing to resume operations tomorrow in the Sexton No. 1 on the Sexton ranch in Ventura county. This project was recently taken over from the Federal Oil Company, which drilled to a depth slightly below 5000 feet in search of deep production. Present plans are to drill it deeper.

Will Refine Less

The Standard Oil Company of California announced yesterday that it has accepted the spirit of the "no Sunday refining" suggestion of the Federal Oil Conservation Board, and will cut down one-seventh of its present runs to stills, but will keep the wheels turning seven days a week on a six-day supply of crude.

The Federal board suggested that Sunday refining be discontinued in order that the country might use up the big stock of gasoline in storage. Standard thinks it impractical to let the stills grow stone cold one day a week, but will run seven days on the customary supply for six days of refining.

The company said yesterday that if the six-day schedule does not provide it with sufficient gasoline to meet its own requirements it will buy the remainder from companies having too much on hand.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The moderate mid-week receipts sold in good season with prices generally showing little change. Nothing of outstanding quality was available but with a better undertone on killing classes it is probable that such stock would sell to good advantage.

Two loads of 923 to 1131-pound intermountain steers made 11.40 and 11.50, with a 1058-pound load at 11.25. A few head were sorted out of one load at 10.40. A part load of 1029-pound intermountain brought 11.00.

Small lots of 567 to 848-pound intermountain heifers turned at 9.85@10.15, with odd head at 8.00@9.50, and some down to 8.00. Odd head of good lightweight cows brought 8.25, with small lots of medium quality at 8.00@8.75, with common and down to 7.00. Low cutters and cutters bulked at 4.00@5.75. An outstanding 1226-pound Z-bull made 9.25, with others at 7.25@8.50, and a few down to 6.50.

CALVES—Better grade vealers were scarce, but prices were generally steady. One load of choice vealers made 18.00@17.00, with bulk of calves averaging up to 200 pounds going at 11.00@14.00. Cull and common kind and heavier weights at 8.50@10.50.

HOGS—One fresh load and two loads of holdovers from previous sale were paid at strong to 15c higher prices. A load of good 185-pound New Mexico butchers scored at 11.25, with two loads of 190-pound holdovers going at 11.00 and 11.75. Small lots of 172 to 247-pound averages brought 11.50@11.85, bulk 180-pound averages at 10.60. A package of 33-pound stock pigs scored 10.50.

SHEEP—Receipts consisted of six decks of medium to good lambs, bulk of which fully steady at 11.00 straight, averaging 92 pounds.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"The Sky Hawk." Opens today.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Happy Days." Fox Grandeur film, amazes the audience of the first practical possibilities of the future. The subject matter is a national story by Hart.

Criterion, 645 South Grand—"Men Without Women." Opens today.

Figueroa, Fig. at Santa Barbara—"They Had to See Paris." See below.

Filmarte, 1236 Vine—"The Yellow Pass." A series of events in Egypt, Italy and Spain, some Russian scenery which is very beautiful.

Goldman's Chinese, 6823 Hollywood Blvd.—"Lummox." Lawrence Tibbett makes a powerful impression on screen this time in a vagabond romance of nearly grand opera.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Blvd.—"New York Nights." "Tin Pan Alley" is again the scene of drama. Norma Talmadge tries for the first time and rather successfully.

Lowe's State, Broadway at Seventh—"The Third Alibi." Held No. 7 over today.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Embarrassing Moments." Reviewed in today's Times.

Palace, Broadway between Sixth and Seventh—"Hollywood Revue." One of the biggest ventures in film revues, featuring M-G-M stars and their talents.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"The Vagabond King." Opens today.

Rita, 6560 Wilshire—"Taming of the Shrew." Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks in their 6th William Shakespeare picture. Fine entertainment, and a good laugh is had by all.

R.K.O. Hill at Eighth—"Murder on the Roof." Today.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"The Case of Sergt. Grischa." Reviewed in today's Times.

Tower, Spring at 9th—"Sunny Side Up." Farrell Macdonald and Janet Gaynor will appear. "Sunny Side Up" is the most amusing thing in Paris. One of the most popular comedies of the year.

United Artists, Bdwy. at 9th—"Condemned." Ronald Colman somehow finds romance on Devil's Island, but when you see Ann Harding you won't wonder.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th—"She Couldn't Say No." The title, not the play. Winnie Lightner does a lot of talking and singing with music which is rendered loud and lustily by Winnie Lightner.

Warner's Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"The Green Goddess." Excellent, as might be expected from George Arliss, who adds to his laurels in this.

Wiltshire, 8358 Alexander Brown Davis' Kentucky Minstrels, Harris' Whimsy and Gay Orpheo performance tend to make the bar and its effects endurable.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Journey's End." R. C. Sherriff's fine war play is produced splendidly by an English company.

Biltmore, 6th, nr. Grand.—"Gone Hollywood." Part of Athletic Club celebrations in this lively entertaining revue.

El Capitan, Hollywd's Blvd. nr. Highland "Let Us Be Gay." A sophisticated bit of nonsense, presenting Violet Heming, the New York star.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1721 Vine—"Hall Waterhouse" stayed and nicely enacted comedy of the sea, starring Frank Conroy.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th—"New Moon." The popular operetta is well put on, favorably sung and fair. Lovers Come Back to Sorrento, Perry Askam and Reverdine Hamilton.

Mission Play, San Gabriel—The beautiful annual pageant of the settling of California up to its usual standard. With R. D. Macdonald.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Hit the Deck." This is Clarence Nash's impersonation of one of England's prominent. Ian Maclaren is featured.

Pantages, Bdwy. at 9th—Vive and Zelaya, Mr. business in a gaucho factory, with knife and dirk arguing a lot and the audience laughing just as much.

Vine Street, 1616 Vine—"The Not Perfect." Hollywood is pictured as some thing a laugh is, which in this case can't matter at all. With Emerson Treacy.

VARIETIES

Burbank, 6th and Main—Burlesque.

Follies, 4th and Main—Burlesque.

Baggage Laden With Morphine Seized at Pier

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—Morphine valued at about $500,000 was seized on Pier No. 57, North River, foot of West Fifteenth street, leased by the French Line, last night.

The drug was in two large trunks apparently owned by a first-class passenger on the liner Ile de France, who had left the vessel a few minutes before. No arrests have been made.

RANNEY ARRAIGNED ON THEFT CHARGES

STOCKTON, March 5. (AP)—W. J. S. Ranney, 52 years of age, formerly prominent in local business and social circles, was arraigned by Justice of the Peace Kenyon here today on twenty-three charges of grand theft preferred by George H. Harris, president of the Harris Manufacturing Company. General manager of the concern two years ago when he disappeared from Stockton, Ranney is accused of stealing more than $21,000 of its funds. He was apprehended last week in Little Rock, Ark., and was returned here and jailed last evening. Dist. Atty. Darrah said he will present the case to the grand jury. Ranney would not discuss the accusations.

THREE DIE IN PLANE CRASH

Inquest Set for Tomorrow, in Deaths of Trio on Side of Canyon Near Santa Monica

From investigating officers a Coroner's jury tomorrow will hear a theoretical account of Tuesday evening's airplane crash in which three men were killed when their Travelair biplane struck a mountainside on the Will Rogers ranch between Bone and Mitt canyons, near Santa Monica. The inquest will be conducted at 9 a.m. in the Price-Daniel mortuary, Sawtelle.

The victims of the crash, which was not revealed until daybreak yesterday, have been identified as Morris Johnson, 25 years of age, owner and pilot of the plane; Eugene E. La Voire, 28, and William H. Hogge, 35. The latter was known also as William Taylor.

J. T. MULHERON

It is the belief of police and Sheriff's officers that rain and approaching darkness caused Johnson to become confused in his bearings and to drive head-on into the side of the canyon about 5:45 p.m. Tuesday. No person reported hearing the crash, nor was there any ensuing fire; but Charles Stanley, a stable boy employed by Rogers, helped officers fix the time of the accident. He said he had heard a plane flying at low altitude in the vicinity about 5:30 p.m. His statement was confirmed by Jessie Warrington, Ruth Millard and Zeta Meetch, residents of Pacific Palisades.

M. J. MULHERON

R. B. Curtis, manager of Lincoln Airport, told police the three men took off about 4:45 p.m. Tuesday. Johnson having informed him they were "just going up for a little spin over the field." The plane disappeared in the encircling gloom of

ARGUMENTS CONTINUE IN JULIAN CASE

Frank Finlayson Starts Where Tuller Leaves Off in Stockholders' Action

Taking up the argument where it was left by Walter K. Tuller, counsel for the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, Frank Finlayson representing other defendants in the Julian Stockholders' recovery action against the exchange and others will continue today in Superior Judge Tappaan's court. Finlayson is expected to argue for at least a day.

Tuller began his argument on demurrer Monday morning and concluded just at the end of the court session yesterday. Finlayson, whose address probably will be the last for the defendants, will be followed by Guy R. Crump and Joseph L. Lewinson for the plaintiffs.

S. C. Lewis, formerly president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, is expected to return to the witness stand Monday morning. It is expected he will require several days in which to complete his testimony.

O'Leary Named as Chieftain in Fitts Campaign

Appointment of Dave J. O'Leary as secretary of the committee in charge of his campaign for Governor of California was made by Dist.-Atty. Fitts yesterday.

O'Leary, who has been a member of the District Attorney's bureau of investigation since Fitts took office, is a veteran of Fitts's previous campaigns. He was associated with Fitts in 1925 while campaigning for relief for widows and orphans of World War veterans.

O'Leary also figured in Fitts's campaign for the office of Lieutenant-Governor and for the position as District Attorney of Los Angeles county which he now holds.

According to O'Leary, campaign headquarters will be opened in Los Angeles within the next fortnight.

STATE MAY AID BEACH FUND

Proposal of Dollar-Matching in Purchase of Ocean Property Studied by Supervisors

Proposals for the county to join the State in the purchase of more beach land for public recreational purposes were placed before the Board of Supervisors yesterday, but after debate action on the proposition was delayed until next Monday.

Chairman McClellan told board members the State is willing to match "dollar for dollar" purchases of unincorporated beach land by the county and that the State wants to hold as State parks the land that thus might be acquired.

It was pointed out that, under the law, the State cannot join in the purchase of any beach land lying within a municipality and that for this reason there is little land available in the county in the purchase of which the State might join.

MAY DISINCORPORATE

One proposal was that the city of Manhattan Beach disincorporate so that the State and county may jointly purchase 1200 front feet of beach in that district. It is understood the Manhattan Beach city government is amenable to this proposition and already had taken preliminary steps paving the way for the disincorporation proceedings.

The county already has purchased a large amount of beach in this area and in addition owns 1200 feet of beach above Santa Monica and 4400 feet fronting the ocean and the bay in the Alamitos Bay district.

QUICK ACTION URGED

Supervisor McClellan urged the board to give the State's proposal immediate consideration before the State "changes its mind," but Supervisors Shaw and Beaty urged delay until such time as various parcels of available land and their respective prices can be compared. All of the Supervisors were unanimous in the opinion, however, that the county obtain as much beach for public purposes as possible by taking advantage of the State's offer.

Prices quoted on available beach property per front foot were $75 at Manhattan Beach, $65 at Redondo Beach and $300 north of Santa Monica.

LAND PRICES QUOTED

Former County Counsel Hill advised the Supervisors that there is a 500-foot strip available in the North Santa Monica district at the

ORDER MADE COMMITTING KEYES TO PRISON TUESDAY

Arrangements for the transportation of Asa Keyes, convicted former District Attorney, to San Quentin penitentiary next Tuesday night were approved yesterday by Sheriff Traeger. The order for the prison trip was issued by Undersheriff Wright and will not be altered, the Sheriff said. At the present time Keyes is the only prisoner scheduled to make the trip, according to J. H. Harding, transportation clerk.

The convicted ex-official conferred with his attorney, Paul Schenck, for about half an hour yesterday, discussing legal phases of his case. Keyes admitted that he does not share Schenck's optimistic views in respect to a favorable ruling should the case be taken to the Federal Supreme Court.

The conference developed nothing of consequence, Schenck said. Whether an appeal will be made to the higher court depends on the raising of money by friends of Keyes to finance necessary expenses, aside from attorney's fees, the attorney said.

"I have devoted a year of my time without remuneration to Keyes's defense and I told him yesterday that I would continue if sufficient money can be raised to meet bare expenses," Schenck said. He said that efforts now are being made to obtain the money, though Keyes has stated that he himself will not impose on his friends in such a manner.

According to present arrangements Keyes is scheduled to make the prison trip in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Cochran of the transportation detail, who a few weeks ago made a similar trip with Ed Rosenberg, codefendant of Keyes in his bribery trial.

FAMOUS BRITON MAROONED HERE

Earl of Rosslyn Held Over by Passport Error

Rich Scotchman Member of Sea Freighter's Crew

Noted War Correspondent Talks on Disarmament

The Earl of Rosslyn, one of the wealthiest men in the British peerage, distinguished soldier, journalist and economist who traces his lineage to the kings of Orkney, intended to spend only yesterday in Los Angeles but because he arrived on a ship as a member of the crew at a shilling a month his short visit was prolonged.

When the Barber liner Penrith Castle docked at Los Angeles Harbor and Lord Rosslyn presented his visa to the immigration authorities it was discovered that he had failed to have it signed by the American Consul in Colon, Panama.

If immigration rules were to be observed it would have been necessary for Lord Rosslyn to go aboard the ship again as a crew member. But C. G. Gately, inspector-in-chief of immigration at the local harbor, came to the rescue and permitted Lord Rosslyn to remain ashore. His ship left for Manila and under immigration law Lord Rosslyn could not stop on American soil with his crew visa.

WIRES WASHINGTON

Gately dispatched a wire immediately to Washington for permission to issue a special transit visa but pending receipt of an answer the distinguished visitor was released to British Consul Godfrey Fisher with orders not to leave Los Angeles.

Lord Rosslyn planned to leave here last night by train for San Francisco, where he is scheduled to board a boat for Honolulu tomorrow.

Gately explained that the Englishman came here on the Penrith Castle as a member of crew with the shilling a month salary stipulation because the ship is a freighter and is not licensed to carry passengers. Other persons ride as passengers on freighters in this capacity, but Gately was forced under law to consider Lord Rosslyn technically as a crew member because of his unsigned visa.

Lord Rosslyn, after getting the temporary release to come to Los Angeles for a visit to the motion-picture studios, forgot his passport tangle long enough to express some expert views on what to expect from the London conference for naval limitation.

TOUR OF PACIFIC

He is on his way from England for a tour of the Pacific on a study of the strategic and economic situations. He will inspect Pearl Harbor naval base, then go to Australia and New Zealand and back to Vancouver and Montreal.

"The feeling is general in influential circles in England that nothing will come out of the naval conference except a more intimate understanding of the naval needs of each power by the other four conferring powers," declared Lord Rosslyn. "We feel, also, that the discussions may germinate a sort of international family out of the five great powers.

"In England it is felt that France, with her demands for a navy of 725,000 tons, and Italy, with her demand for parity with France, will furnish the obvious block to the conference. But in a broader sense the fact that Great Britain cannot afford to cut her navy overshadows all other considerations. If England got rid of her navy, then she would surely lose her colonies, because it is the navy that is the one strong cord that holds the Empire together.

"We people outside the conference do not know what is transpiring behind those closed doors, anyway. If the delegations want the confidence of their respective peoples then their deliberations should be open, not confined to terse communiques, which do not always tell what the situation actually is.

GAINED WORLD FAME

"The gist of the whole matter of peace and disarmament is this: Let England and America work together, both as to naval needs and the merchant marine and foreign trade. The peace of the world rests with these two great Anglo-Saxon nations and the world knows it. Japan, dominating the Orient, is willing to grant Anglo-American dominance in naval affairs, chiefly for her own security.

"Armaments, if they can be had without destructive building races, are the best guarantees of peace. The best proof in the world of this is Pearl Harbor. As long as America maintains the present great naval and aviation base in Hawaii, together with an adequate mobile battle fleet, the peace of the eastern Pacific is absolutely secure."

The present Earl of Rosslyn first gained world-wide fame in the Boer War, both as war correspondent for

EPISCOPAL CHURCH MAY HONOR BEAL

Cathedral Dean Favored as Suffragan Bishop to be Elected on 11th Inst.

According to a request made by Bishop Stevens at the January convention of the Episcopal Diocese for a suffragan bishop, a special conference of ministerial and lay delegates of the diocese will be conducted at St. Paul's Cathedral on the 11th inst. for the purpose of electing a suffragan bishop.

REV. HARRY BEAL

Although it is said that several prominent clergymen have been mentioned as possible candidates for the office, it is rumored in Episcopalian circles that the probable choice of the electors will be Dr. Harry Beal, dean of St. Paul's Cathedral.

Dean Beal, who is a graduate of Yale, served two years as a master at St. Paul's School of Concord, N. H., and later received his degree from Cambridge Theological School. He served as rector at Auburndale and New Bedford, Mass., and later became dean of the cathedral at Havana, Cuba. Dean Beal formerly was chairman of the board of examining chaplains for Massachusetts, special preacher for the cathedral at Boston, and president of the Central Council of Social Agencies for New Bedford.

Junior Olympic Star Injured by Hit-Run Driver

Vane Baker, 13-year-old National Junior Olympic Games division champion, suffered a double fracture of the right arm when he was thrown from his bicycle by a hit-and-run driver at Fourth street and Broadway yesterday afternoon. Dr. Robert Rough, Junior Olympic Games physician, attended the boy.

The accident has temporarily blocked young Baker's aspirations to win the senior championship this year. He won junior honors last year following his qualification for the national finals at Atlantic City in a field of 35,000 Southern California boys. According to Dr. Rough, the young athlete will be kept out of training for from four to six weeks. The Junior Olympics in Southern California are sponsored by the Los Angeles Times.

TIDELANDS OIL WARFARE ENDS

Peace Will be Made Today in Long Legal Fight

Santa Barbara County Strip Worth $30,000,000

Prospectors Used Boats to Foil Land Owners

The Elwood oil field tideland fight, involving more than $30,000,000 worth of Santa Barbara county property, and in which more than 100 persons have been involved in legal battles for the past year, comes to an amicable end with the signing of papers here this morning.

Armed guards patrolling property; invasion of tidelands from the sea in boats; staking of claims and the actual drilling of oil wells from barges and later pumping the oil a considerable distance through lines buried in the sands featured the fight for possession of the black gold beneath the breakers of the Pacific. The fight has been carried on not only in California, but in Washington and a score of attorneys have given their entire energies to the battle during the past year.

MILLIONS AT STAKE

The controversy arose out of the filing of conflicting applications for oil and gas on State-owned tidelands in front of the historic Bell rancho, near Santa Barbara, which was a part of Dos Pueblos rancho granted by the Mexican Governor of California in 1843 to Nicholas A. Den.

The present adjustment involving oil permits valued at more than $30,000,000 is due, according to the attorneys for all parties concerned, to the present owners of the Bell rancho; Dr. George R. Luton and his wife Caroline Bell Luton, Charles D. Bell, Katherine Bell Cheney and Mary Bell Cheney.

The battle has been waged between the Barnsdall Oil Company of California, the Rio Grande Oil Company and the Reservoir Hill Gasoline Company and the Bankline Oil and Gas Company, the Elwood Exploration Company and C. J. Mahoney, all of which were engaged in developing the property.

LAND TITLE ATTACKED

When claims were staked from the sea, right of way across the Bell ranch was denied the venturesome prospectors. In turns the sea drillers attacked validity of the title to the Bell lands.

By the terms of the compromise, which is being concluded this morning through the formal exchange of documents which were executed here yesterday, the members of the Luton-Cheney-Bell family and their lessees recognize the validity of the tidelands permits issued approximately a year ago by W. S. Kingsbury, Surveyor-General of California, to applicants who posted their applications on tidelands in front of the Bell ranch.

These permits, which now have become leases by reason of discovery of oil on them, are State oil and gas lease No. 89, belonging to the Bankline Oil Company; Permit No. 90, belonging to the Elwood Exploration Company, and Permit No. 91, belonging to C. J. Mahoney, which is operated by the Seaward Oil Company, Ltd.

GET RIGHT OF WAY

Under the terms of today's settlement the operators of these permits acquire the right of way across the historic rancho from the mean high tide line off the Pacific Ocean to the State highway and also acquire locations on the ranch for their offices and pipe racks, pipe lines and temporary storage. The granting of the right of way for the use of the tideland lessees brings to a close a series of suits by means of which the lessees themselves, the county of Santa Barbara, the State of California have fought to open a road across the Bell property.

The settlement also obtains for the upland owners a recognition of the validity of State permit No. 88, issued to members of the Bell family and similar recognition as to a permit issued to Joseph Archambeault, a neighbor, whose property also is leased by the Rio Grande-Barnsdall combination.

FEDERAL ATTACK ENDS

It also brings to an end the determined attack made before the Department of Interior by Edward W. Lloyd of Los Angeles, upon the title of the Bell family and their

BACK-TO-HOME PLEA MADE

Chicago Business Man Visitor Crusades for New Trend to Overcome Jazz Era

Home life—threatened by false and unenduring pleasures—must be fostered to overcome the growth of cynicism, the reign of waste, the development of a nonsense jazz era; in short, to repel attacks upon the stability and progress of the nation.

That is the opinion of C. E. Stedman, vice-president and general manager of the Celotex Company, of Chicago, here on an annual tour of inspection of western and middle western branches and making his headquarters at the Los Angeles office at 816 West Fifth street.

C. E. STEDMAN

Stedman, pointing to statistical evidence showing a marked decrease in the construction of single-family dwellings, urged a "back to the home" crusade to inspire an appreciation of the importance and possibilities of home life, at the same time simplifying the problems of home acquisition and development.

"The flame of the home fire must be rekindled," declared the visitor. "There are strong indications that the American home is losing its high character. It is a time of carefree jubilance over nothing. It is a time of spending through debt-making, for another generation to pay, because the glitter of amassed gold blinds the eyes to the slow but sure increase of saving and thrift. Homes are sacrificed that highways may be filled with roisterers intent on speed and vanity. Work dwindles, waste reigns, cynicism fattens, the jazz jubilee is on.

MERELY EXIST

"Statistical evidence of this sacrifice of the home for other things," he continued, "is shown in the marked decrease in construction of single-family dwellings and the corresponding increase in construction of multifamily dwellings. These statistics show, too, a steady decrease in the number of rooms per dwelling unit. Families, children, are existing—not truly living—in two of three characterless rooms.

"Is this the proper setting for home life?" he questioned. "Does it

EUGENE BISCAILUZ, chief of the new State motor patrol, is making a State-wide inspection of his force this week.

SAVED

The United States is safe at last.

The rioting Reds "may possibly" be deported. One of the Pisan orators has been in trouble some fourteen times. His case is still under advisement, but if he lives long enough who knows but that he may be sent back.

But anyhow—by gum!—they have decided to deal severely with a little Hollywood actress who seems to have overstayed the limit of her permit. They are just going to show her that she can't monkey with the power and might of this government.

A BLESSED EVENT

This is certainly getting to be a candid world.

There was a day when what my friend Walter Winchel always writes up as a "blessed event" was whispered around behind the corners. One said in the most delicate possible way that "Hortense is not in society at present," and the recipient of that portentous information looked at the chandelier and made a graceful remark about the weather.

Not only do they now proclaim the event in public; but yesterday the King of Italy sent one of his boy friends to make a stump speech to both houses of the Italian Parliament concerning a blessed event that is scheduled for this month in the family of the Duchess of Apulia.

All of which would seem to require a new category. Not "interesting but not important." Rather "important but not interesting."

HERRING AND COFFEE

Julian Johnson, who fell from the high estate of a dramatic critic for The Times to be a movie producer, is fascinated by the case of an old Russian woman who has lived to be 107. Asked for the reason for her long life, she says that she has never eaten anything but kippered herring soaked in black coffee. Julian says that the angel of death just sits with his head in his hands—stumped.

SILENT

Charlie Chaplin has surprised the movie world by his plan for organizing a big company to produce silent pictures.

After the first flurry of novelty of the talkies has passed there may be silent pictures. There are subjects better handled so.

It would be impossible, for instance, to fit words to a Chaplin picture. There are moods and ideas too sensitive and delicate for anything as awkward as words. You might as well try to fit words to a rainbow as to a Charlie Chaplin comedy. After all, he is the one supreme artist that this generation has produced.

BERMAN TRIAL DATE REFUSED

Judge Denies Possessing Jurisdiction in Case

Court Holds Prejudice Action Must be Settled First

Naming of New Jurist in Judicial Council's Hands

Holding that he has no jurisdiction in fixing the trial date for Ben Getzoff and Jacob Berman until the affidavit of prejudice filed against him ten days ago is properly disposed of, Superior Judge McComb yesterday continued the matter until the 19th inst.

The controversy over whether or not Judge McComb shall continue to hear the matter arose when the Getzoff-Berman case was called for trial in his court and the judge declined to dismiss the case at the request of both the defense attorneys and Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

AFFIDAVIT FILED

Subsequently an affidavit of prejudice was filed against Judge McComb. When the District Attorney and defense attorneys failed to agree upon an unprejudiced judge to preside at the hearing on the affidavit of prejudice, the matter passed into the hands of the Judicial Council, which is expected to name the judge.

Yesterday, Robert P. Stewart, chief deputy District Attorney, sought definitely to dispose of the Berman-Getzoff matter in conformance with the recent ruling of the Appellate Court which granted the writ of habeas corpus brought by defense attorneys to obtain the release of the defendants after Judge McComb had remanded them to the custody of the Sheriff. In ordering the release of the defendants, the Appellate Court held that the men had been once in jeopardy, and, therefore, could not be tried again.

MOTION OVERRULED

Arguing his position before Judge McComb, Stewart declared that since the Appellate Court held that at the moment the pleas of double jeopardy were entered by the two defendants and when the motions for dismissal followed, Judge McComb immediately lost jurisdiction to proceed in the case. It naturally follows that proceedings of prejudice are void and have no effect in fact, Stewart argued, urging Judge McComb to issue an order disregarding the prejudice proceedings and again placing the matter on his calendar for consideration.

Judge McComb, however, overruled the motion and stated that he would take no action in the matter until the matter of prejudice has been disposed of.

ALLIANCE WILL MEET

The meeting will be called at 8 p.m.

DETECTIVE PLAYED BY WAITRESS

Cafe Robbery Suspect Recognized in Crowd and Policeman Called

Good detective work by Miss Marion Clark of 1416 Tenth Place was complimented yesterday by police following the arrest of George Hayes, 30 years of age, of 948 Georgia street, on a charge of suspicion of robbery. His asserted victim is Howard Holtzman, proprietor of a cafe at 944 1-2 West Tenth street. On the night of February 7, last, a robber entered the bedroom at the rear of the cafe, stunned Holtzman with a blow that fractured his skull and robbed him of $35. He is in General Hospital.

Police found the slugging weapon was a lawn sprinkler end in a sock. When Holtzman said he thought he recognized Hayes, who had been a customer, detectives searched the latter's room. They report finding the mate of the sock dropped in Holtzman's room. Although watch was kept on the place, Hayes did not return. Miss Clark, who is a waitress in Holtzman's cafe, sighted Hayes yesterday while she was at Broadway and Fifth street. She set her companion, Roy Kircher, to trailing Hayes while she notified Traffic Policeman Haynes. The latter took into custody Hayes and his woman companion. The woman was merely questioned.

invite that love of home which makes it the 'dearest spot on earth?' Does it satisfy the aspirations of those thousands of people who crowd to the beaches and public parks on holidays in a vain attempt to find some peace and beauty?

"If the idea of 'home' is to be shattered, if transitory pleasures are to supplant it, the stability of the American people is threatened. The anchor, the wholesome, healthful and happy atmosphere of the 'old-fashioned' home, will be lost. This will weaken the very foundations of American citizenship and progress."

As to how the back-to-the-home movement might be brought about, Stedman asserted that good construction and publicity are among the essentials. Activity of this kind has a tendency to make real estate collateral more liquid, he commented.

In connection with his Los Angeles visit Stedman installed L. J. Hacketi of Chicago as manager of the Los Angeles office, with supervision over activities of his concern in California, Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico and West Texas. The Los Angeles office, it was said, ranks fourth among the concern's fourteen divisions, being surpassed only by the branches in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia.

FITTS PLANS TO PROMOTE TOM O'BRIEN

Chief of Investigation Bureau Will Be Regular Deputy District Attorney

Tom O'Brien, who has been chief of the bureau of investigation for Dist.-Atty. Fitts since the resignation of Lucian Wheeler nearly a year ago, will leave that position within the next week to become a regular deputy District Attorney concerning himself principally with prosecutions, Fitts announced yesterday.

O'Brien, a veteran investigator of the Los Angeles Police Department and also an attorney, will be given a position in which he will be asked to handle many of the most important cases going before the District Attorney's office. His work in many instances will include both investigation and prosecution, Fitts said.

Blaney Matthews, who has served as assistant chief of the Bureau of Investigation since it was organized by Fitts, was appointed to succeed O'Brien. Matthews is a veteran investigator. He also is an attorney and was chosen for the position because of his ability to co-ordinate the principles of law in conducting investigations, according to the District Attorney.

At the time of announcing O'Brien's appointment Fitts also said he has appointed Leon Whittaker, Los Angeles attorney, as a deputy, and has made permanent the temporary appointments of David Coleman, Robert J. O'Connor, W. W. Burgess and Grant Cooper as deputies in his office.

THREE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

dusk and rain. Curtis waited for them to return and then ordered the field floodlights put in operation. At 9 p.m. Curtis relinquished his vigil.

POLICE CALLED

The plane wreckage and its victims were discovered about 8:45 a.m. yesterday by H. J. Mulheron and his son, J. T. Mulheron, who are building a new road on the Rogers property. While walking to work they saw the tangled wreckage in the brush far above them. They summoned Sawtelle police, who cleared away the surrounding brush and found the three bodies. Johnson had a broken neck, broken jaw and crushed chest and both legs were nearly severed. La Voire's head was badly crushed and many bones in his body broken. Hogge was severely mangled.

In one of Hogge's pockets police found a box of burned matches. The impact apparently had ignited them and his clothing as swiftly smothered them. In another pocket they found fragments of glass, leading to the belief Hogge had been carrying a bottle.

PLANE TOTAL WRECK

The plane itself is a total wreck. Wings were crushed and torn and the engine driven back into the cockpit, buckling the fuselage and rendering the ship a tangled mass of steel, fabric and splinters. Police and ranch workmen were forced to secure the wreckage by chains to prevent it from dropping into the canyon.

From Mrs. Myrtle Searway, proprietress of Crenshaw Arms, 2444 Crenshaw Boulevard, the officers learned La Voire and Hogge had occupied an apartment at that address for several months, but had packed their belongings and checked out late Tuesday afternoon. They left no forwarding address.

La Voire's body was claimed by Mrs. Bertha Dinsmore, operator of a maternity hospital at Hawthorne, who said she was the dead man's aunt. She said his father and mother are Mr. and Mrs. John La Voire of Meriden, Ct., and that he had been here for several years, employed by a real estate concern with property at Lake Arrowhead.

MOTHER IN SEATTLE

The body of Johnson was identified by an aunt, Mrs. Beulah Robinson of San Pedro. She said he had been living with his father, Dr. John Phillip Johnson, wealthy retired dentist, at 747 North Wilcox avenue, Hollywood. His mother, whose name is given as Mrs. Katheryn Symington, left Los Angeles two weeks ago for Seattle.

At one time it was learned, Johnson operated a haberdashery store on Santa Monica Boulevard. He took up aviation recently, obtained a pilot's license and flew occasionally for motion-picture companies. He is said to have stunted in "Hell's Angels."

It was also learned that Johnson was engaged to be married to Miss Lillian Seine of 233 East Glenarm street, Pasadena, and was to have taken her to a theater here last night. Miss Seine said her dead fiance was a University of Oregon graduate.

Little was learned of Hogge, or Taylor. Police ascertained, however, that he came from West Virginia, where he leaves a wife and four children, and had been working here as a mechanic. His body lay unclaimed at the morgue last night.

GILLIS BACK AND STILL LACKS WIFE

New England Executive Returns Following Trip to San Francisco

Andrew J. (Bossy) Gillis, known to fame as the Bad Boy Mayor of Newburyport, Mass., returned to Los Angeles from San Francisco yesterday afternoon on the final lap of his California vacation—and without a wife. He arrived here during the latter part of February with the announced intention of seeking a California bride, but yesterday declined to say whether his failure to wed was due to his own bashfulness or to a lack of feminine proposals.

In five hours of furious sightseeing yesterday the Mayor visited Angelus Temple, shook hands with Aimee Semple McPherson, toured through Hollywood and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, where he was photographed behind a set of "prop" prison bars, and again posed for a picture clasping the hand of the petite and smiling Bessie Love.

"Aimee is a regular guy," Gillis said after his visit to Angelus Temple. But he was shy and bashful again when he tried to describe Bessie Love.

Gillis will be the guest of honor today at the noon meeting of the United Veterans of the Republic at the Arcade Leighton Cafeteria.

STATE MAY AID IN BEACH BUYS

price of $300 a front foot—making a total price for the piece of $150,000. Although Hill declared that adjoining beach property is held at prices of $400 a foot and up, an informal canvass of the board showed that most of the Supervisors believe the price of $300 a foot too much for the county to pay. It was also pointed out that the State could not join in the purchase of this tract as it lies within the corporate limits of the city of Los Angeles.

It was reported the county has approximately $500,000 available for the purchase of beach lands for public recreational purposes, and that if the State adds an equal amount the county will be in the position to furnish its residents with an additional large amount of beaches, if and when sites and terms are favorable.

The board members generally were of the opinion that it did not much matter whether the county or State held title to the lands proposed to be purchased jointly, so long as the public had their use.

The distinguished Scotchman is the present head of the ancient house of Sinclair, who were the Kings of Orkney, until under the English succession they traded their feudal lands in Orkney for territory in Fife. The present Earl of Rosslyn, otherwise James Francis Harry Sinclair, sold the Fife property in 1923 for a fabulous sum—the entire grant having been found to be rich coal beds.

stupid, common vulgarity of receiving the German commander of the cruiser Emden in his pajamas is an evidence of that culture.

The Governor of a sovereign State receiving an official is not a man; he is the visible symbol of the dignity and power of the State.

The Germans are particularly sensitive on this point. In the days of the Kaiser a German army officer was taught that—no matter how tired or how ill—he must always dress and act like the empire. That was the reason they sometimes appeared to strut.

COUNCIL DENIES PROTESTS

The City Council yesterday denied protests against the establishment of setback lines in Camador Drive between Camador street and Avenue 33.

LITTLE DAUGHTER HELPS MOTHER IN BATTERY SUIT

When Mrs. Florence Threlkeld went into the court of Superior Judge Edmonds yesterday seeking $10,000 damages of R. S. Minamato, Japanese grocer of Hawthorne, for asserted assault and battery, her daughter Helen, 12 years of age, was one of her best witnesses.

Mrs. Threlkeld asserts that Minamato struck her with his fists during an argument over a grocery bill on March 31, 1929. Minamato in a cross-complaint seeks the same amount of damages, charging that Mrs. Threlkeld struck blows causing him to lose two teeth.

Helen, testifying for her mother, said:

"Mama and I went to the store. She and the Japanese man argued about a bill. He pushed her, then kept on pushing. She fell over a vegetable stand. I ran out to the car. When Mama came out she was limping and there was blood over her right eye."

The trial will continue today.

Another Held in Drug Round-up

Continuing their round-up of asserted narcotic peddlers as part of a co-operative law enforcement program started a week ago by city, county and State authorities, members of the police narcotic squad yesterday arrested Salvadore Chavez, 31 years of age, at his home at 1831 East One Hundred and Ninth street.

Detectives reported Chavez sold them three tobacco tins of marihuana for $9 and that they later discovered eleven more tins and seventeen cigarettes in his room. He is held for violation of the State Narcotic Act.

WIFE GRANTED DIVORCE

Harry F. O'Hara was a "perfect gentleman" when he was drunk but was so "stupid" that he caused his wife extreme embarrassment, she testified in Superior Judge Archbald's court yesterday, where she obtained a divorce.

Friendship Between Neighbor Lands Fostered

Wife Declares She Had to Jump

Mrs. Anna M. Yoder once had to jump from a window to escape her pursuing husband, she asserted in her divorce complaint against Charles M. Yoder. Her testimony at her alimony hearing in Superior Judge Guerin's court yesterday, however, concerned $100,000 which she believed her husband had when he married her four years ago.

Yoder testified that he only had a $7000 mortgage, in addition to $15,000 he already turned over to his wife. He demanded the return of an automobile.

Judge Guerin refused to give Mrs. Yoder any alimony and ordered her to keep her automobile until after the divorce trial.

Sick Wife Plea Made by Suspect in Tire Inquiry

To defray expense of keeping his wife in a hospital in Las Vegas, Nev., James P. Passno attempted to sell an automobile and a quantity of tires he is said to have stolen in Las Vegas last Sunday, according to police.

Passno was arrested in a garage at 218 East Manchester avenue yesterday after he aroused suspicions of the garage owner by offering tires at a low price.

Detective Lieutenants Heinzman and Beard, called by the garage man, posed as prospective buyers and went through the transaction of purchasing tires. When Heinzman drew out his handcuffs Passno is said to have made an attempt to flee. Beard grappled with him and he was caught.

Passno admitted taking the car and tires in Nevada and told the story of a sick wife, the detectives asserted. He is held on suspicion of grand theft.

Storm Clouds Thwart Search for Lost Plane

Storm clouds that surrounded the territory of Lake Arrowhead where the missing Western Air Express trimotored air transport is believed to lie kept searching planes on the ground yesterday.

No ground crews either were reported to have resumed the hunt for the plane and its crew of three, Pilot James E. Doles, Copilot A. W. Bieber and Steward John Slaton.

The search by ground and air will be resumed as soon as the weather clears. Doles and his two companions have been missing since February 23, last, when they took off for Los Angeles from Kingman, Ariz., in a storm.

Council Favors More Venice Oil Well Petitions

The City Council yesterday approved another group of six applications for permits to drill for oil in the Venice district. One of the applicants is R. Lee Heath, former Chief of Police. Councilman Cooke wanted to know when the granting of applications is to stop, but got no definite answer. The applications now go to the City Attorney for drafting into ordinances.

The City Attorney also was instructed to draw another restriction to the drilling ordinances which have been adopted. The restriction is that the derrick shall be of standard size and steel construction, adapted to deep-well drilling.

SLAYER'S KIN WIN ESTATE

Court Decision Favors Relatives of Mrs. Hughes, Who Killed Husband and Ended Own Life

Definite proof that Mrs. Mary H. Hughes shot her husband, C. C. Hughes, and then herself, July 18, 1929, was submitted in Superior Judge Fleming's court yesterday and resulted in a decision that the relatives of Mrs. Hughes are to inherit the couple's joint $1022 bank account, a house and lot and some diamonds now in possession of the public administrator.

Judge Fleming, in rendering his decision, pointed out that the State law preventing a murderer from benefiting in the probation of his victim's estate, does not apply to the Hughes case, because she had not been convicted of murder.

"If I could have taken the testimony of the police officers who investigated this case, and rendered a decision that Mrs. Hughes killed her husband, I would have done so," Judge Fleming said. "But this would not be in strict conformance with the law. There is no provision for convicting a dead person, no matter how equitable such a conviction might seem.

"The Legislature should pass a law making it impossible for a murderer to inherit his victim's property, or for the heirs of a murderer to inherit a jointly held estate. Under the law as it now stands, it is possible for a person to marry another, obtain joint tenancy of property, then kill the victim, and indirectly leave his heirs the victim's property."

The suit tried in Judge Fleming's court was an action for declaratory relief, directed against the public administrator and the Security-First National Bank, in which institution the Hughes bank account was deposited. It was filed by Mrs. Lillian M. Nielson, Hughes's sister, represented by Attorney C. L. Kilgore, and S. V. O. Prichard, deputy county counsel, appeared for the public administrator and other defendants.

RUINS FAIL TO SUPPLY FIRE CLEW

Destruction of Untenanted Mansion Laid to Match Cast Aside by Tramp

Careful examination of the ruins yesterday failed to disclose the origin of a fire which shortly after midnight Tuesday destroyed an untenanted two-and-one-half story mansion at Woodrow Place and Mulholland High Way, causing an estimated loss of $25,000. Fire department officials report the blaze probably started from a lighted match tossed by a tramp believed to have sought shelter in the dwelling for the night.

Reports that a body had been seen in the ruins after the fire are without foundation, Detective Captain Miller of Hollywood stated following an investigation. He said sifting of the ashes revealed no loss of life.

The mansion, owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Keenans of New York and vacant for a long period, figured recently as the scene of boisterous parties in which schoolboys and girls participated. As a result of complaints by neighbors, police raided the place one night and took a score of pupils in custody. The boys and girls later were released to their parents.

Fine or Jail Penalty for Striking Girl

Charged with punching a girl in the face, Elmer Tepoorten, film director of 1536 North Western avenue, yesterday was tried in Municipal Court on a charge of battery preferred by Helen Madden of 1535 North Western avenue. Judge Wilson gave Tepoorten the option of paying $250 fine or serving fifty days in jail. The judge explained the fine alternative by saying he did not wish to add to the number of unemployed by taking Tepoorten from his job and putting him in a cell. He granted a stay of execution until today.

Miss Madden testified that Tepoorten appeared at her apartment door on January 13, last, seeking Mrs. Gladys Koenig, with whom he had quarreled. When she told him Mrs. Koenig was not in Miss Madden said he punched her on the mouth. Tepoorten says she was hurt accidentally when he jerked open a door behind which Mrs. Koenig was hidden. Miss Madden called police and obtained a battery complaint.

CHINA TO BE TOPIC

SHASTA WALL ORIGIN TOLD

Former Representative Fairchild of New York, One of Builders Back in '83, Visitor Here

'Way back in '83, three young men, working for the United States Geological Survey, endeared themselves to hardy mountain hikers by erecting atop Mt. Shasta a stone wall, about four feet high, as a protection to campers against chilling winds.

This was recalled here yesterday with the arrival of Benjamin L. Fairchild of Pelham, N. Y., former Representative, with the record, incidentally, of having been elected as a Republican five times in a Democratic district. Fairchild was one of the surveyors responsible for the Mt. Shasta wall.

At the Biltmore, the visitor related that on two subsequent occasions he camped within the shelter of the wall. Each time, folk in the neighborhood, after vainly seeking to dissuade him, told him that if he were determined to camp he would find the rock wall a haven. But the visitor was obliged to listen to eulogies of others, given credit for the erection of the wall.

Fairchild uttered high praise of President Hoover's first year at the White House, stating that the executive has laid an excellent foundation for later accomplishments.

"The public at large," he said, "may not realize the importance of the fact-finding and other basic achievements of the President, but the latter, with his goal in mind, can well afford to ignore criticism from certain sources, as well as from those who, perhaps, received disappointments."

HIGHER RANK GIVEN FLYER FOR SHERIFF

Capt. C. F. Morgan Named as Major by Authorities at Bay City Presidio

Capt. Claude F. Morgan, head of the Sheriff's aviation detail, has been commissioned a major in the Air Reserve, according to a dispatch received yesterday from the San Francisco Presidio. The promotion, the dispatch stated, was announced by Maj.-Gen. John L. Hines at headquarters of Ninth Corps Area. Capt. William A. Frye, 3820 Pine avenue, Long Beach, has received a similar promotion.

The dispatch also stated the following reserve officers have been reassigned as indicated: First Lieutenant Wesse L. Brockow, 960 South Wilton Place, Los Angeles, First Lieutenant Ralph C. Warne, Capistrano Beach; First Lieutenant Alfred B. Wilcox, Santa Barbara, and First Lieutenant Robert E. Wyers, Spadra, to Medical Reserve; First Lieutenant Palmer A. Fallgren, Santa Monica, and First Lieutenant Guy C. Goessard, Pasadena to Dental Reserve.

ACADEMY GROUP GRANTED PROMOTIONS

Ten San Diego Army and Navy Academy cadets from Los Angeles and vicinity are included in the midwinter list of promotions in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, it is announced in a dispatch received yesterday from San Diego. They are First Lieutenants-elect Frank Jones, 1105 South Indiana street, Los Angeles; Clifford A. Bowman, 1123 Mendocino street, Altadena; Second Lieutenants-elect James W. Gower, 617 Angeleno avenue, Burbank; Leslie E. Rice, 1321 East Colorado Boulevard, Glendale, and Corporals-elect John S. Jenson, 118 West Thirtieth street, Los Angeles; Parker N. Howell, 710 West Surf street, Balboa Beach; George H. Abeel, Jr., Santa Monica; Edward Grigsby, Redlands; Leo M. Breithaupt, 214 East Chestnut street, Glendale, and Arthur C. Small, 141 North Grand avenue, Monrovia.

WEST AND EAST ROADS COMPARED

Santa Fe Officials Say Mountain Lines More Expensive to Keep Up

Operating conditions on railroads west of the Missouri River were compared to conditions east by representatives of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system yesterday before Interstate Commerce Commissioner Disque at a hearing on the application of western trunk lines for an increased share of transcontinental freight divisions.

H. R. Lake, superintendent of transportation for the Santa Fe; T. Quirk, assistant to the general manager of the Santa Fe Coast lines, and A. L. Conrad, assistant general auditor of the Santa Fe system, were among the witnesses.

They said greater expenses are incurred in operating trains west of the Missouri River because of more frequent interruptions to service as a result of washouts, heavy grades and curvatures.

Officials of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific systems are to offer detailed testimony on these matters.

The hearing will continue a week or ten days more.

Chancery Club Plans Banquet

The Chancery Club of America, a round-table organization of the younger attorneys of Los Angeles, will hold its annual banquet tomorrow evening at the Jonathan Club. A varied program, it is announced, has been arranged by the committee in charge, comprising Dana Latham, Delvy T. Walton and Raymond Tremaine.

HARRY C. MABRY

Officers of the club are Harry C. Mabry, president; Paul R. Watkins, vice-president; Philip H. Richards, secretary, and Clive W. Johnson, treasurer. At the weekly luncheon to be held at the University Club on the 14th inst., Watkins will be installed as president; Richards, vice-president; Latham, secretary, and Walton, treasurer.

New Clause on Parking Sought

The Police Commission's proposed ordinance giving the police department authority to impound automobiles parked on any city street between the hours of 2 and 4 a.m. in violation of parking laws was referred to the City Attorney's office yesterday on request of the traffic division for insertion of a clause providing that there shall be a maximum towage charge of $3 and 50 cents a day for storage for seized cars.

Under the ordinance cars which are locked up so that police cannot see the owner's registration license in order that he may be cited will be towed into storage pending disposition of the charges.

Today's Bible Text

I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.—Acts xxiv, 16.

CLOTHES
An average man doesn't know enough about women's clothes, moans a magazine. From observation, he knows all there is to know.

MORE TALKIE
An automobile which obeys the human voice has been invented. We can see now that we are about to lose our place at the steering wheel.

RELATIVITY
Recently thousands in New York fought to hear Einstein's theory explained. We didn't know there were that many optimists out of captivity.

SLOW SOUND
The Noise Abatement Commission of New York promised to make a report in ninety days. The concussion must have been a considerable distance away.

CURTAINS
A California bishop delivered an address in Los Angeles recently on "The Taming of the Pew." The good churchman was taking a whole lot for granted.

ALSO SHOTGUNS
The dispute with Moscow calls for composition rather than rhetoric, is the conclusion the Nanking government has reached. Likewise tear bombs and deportation!

HORSE SENSE
Horse sense often brought the driver safely home from his debauch in olden days. But sixty mechanical horses seem to become confused and do not always know what is expected of them.

LIKE SIXTY
"Like sixty" didn't mean so much at one time. But now when grandmother steps on it and gives the motor cop a run for his money, the old phrase as well as the old lady become livid with excitement.

CONSCIENCE
Conscience is that queer feeling you have when you hear the chug-chug of a motorcycle behind. It is also that strange alchemy that shrinks a man in his seat until he is only half the size he was a few moments before roaring for his right of way.

THE LOST ART
The art of conversation is said to be returning. The symptoms are especially noticeable over the radio as the announcer becomes facetious and intimate with the talent and you are not able to talk back.

GOD OF GET-THERE
The fastest auto a-wheel is being built in Los Angeles. A sixteen-cylinder is being groomed to make an assault upon the 231.36-miles-an-hour record. It would seem that Los Angeles with its various speeds along numerous lines ought to be a sympathetic environment in which this new child of the mechanical world may be born.

As long as it is held strictly to making assaults upon records, Miss Los Angeles is likely to be for it. But if it attempt to demolish safety zones or other gentle conveyances, the inventor, Harry Miller, may find tacks in his tires.

The greatest menace Los Angeles has to face at the present time is not the willy-wobbly moves on the City Hall by crazy Communists; but the racing of supposedly good American citizens on the next intersection.

Huge sacrifices are offered up daily upon the altar of the God of Get-there. Maniacs are roaring about with gear in fourth speed and the throttle jammed through the future. The juggernauts of India likely never did more ruthless damage than the speed boys of this city furnish daily—and nightly.

However, if the new car can be depended upon to confine its industries to breaking records and not telephone poles, plate-glass windows, electric-light posts, ribs and legs of pedestrians, it will be highly esteemed. Racing cars have given us many of our most useful devices. Possibly this new one with its departure from orthodox lines will do the same. At least we are saved by hope!

AN INSPIRED DEDICATION
In dedicating the Coolidge Dam to religion, education and the home, our ex-President, for whom it was named, struck a vein of noble thought seldom reached in such ceremonial and too-often perfunctory speeches. Since his retirement from the White House Calvin Coolidge has revealed in many ways the secret of his extraordinary hold, while in office, on the hearts and affections of the American people. The words, few in number, but pregnant with meaning, with which he has answered the acclaim accorded him in his brief visit to the Southwest, were fitly crowned in Arizona by his inspired dedication of a great work of man to the glory of his Creator.

Ex-President Coolidge, after raising the thoughts of a typical representative throng of the Southwest to the higher motives behind their progressive empire building, added some earnest counsel and advice on the adjustment of the difficulties and differences hindering the consummation of a greater project than that which has harnessed the waters of the Carlos and Gila rivers. Without injecting himself into the material points under dispute, he aimed direct at the human element involved in all final agreements, and drew vociferous applause from all who heard him speak.

Through some strange physical alchemy this quiet, practical, single-minded New Englander seemed to divine the warm but turbulent heart of the Southwest far better than many of its leaders who fail to see the forest for the trees. His simple advice went straight home when he thus approached the subject of building the Boulder Dam:

> You have not been able to agree on the details of the project. I think it might be helpful when you get home—and I am speaking now to the people of Arizona and Utah and Colorado and California, and all who will benefit by the Colorado River development—if you will take down your Bibles and read where it says something about agreeing with thine adversary quickly.

The hard-headed bargainer and the supple trader of advantages may find little practical help in this referring of the people's decision to a chapter from the Scriptures. At least it demonstrates that the man who for six years guided the destinies of this nation with consummate skill and efficiency had a hidden well-spring of strength and inspiration these lesser leaders are unable to draw upon. And it shows besides that Calvin Coolidge has a better understanding of the sentiment animating the Southwest as a whole than the politicians, the self-seekers, the little frogs in the puddle who have expended billions of words over a period of many years without advancing one jot or title the building of the Boulder Dam.

With all his grasp of affairs and addiction to the practical and concrete, there is something of the biblical prophet in the attitude of this unemotional arouser of popular feeling, something of the deep religious feeling and of the understanding and love of his fellow-being that made Abraham Lincoln the foremost of all American citizens. Nobody but Calvin Coolidge could have delivered so concisely a message of hope and faith to the conflicting thousands assembled at the dam dedication in Arizona while their minds were still fixed on the heavier task before them in the Black Canyon of the Colorado. And received from all spontaneous applause.

Standing on the parapet of a monument to Arizona's enterprise, before a colorful multitude of Indians, frontiersmen, farmers, modern business executives and local leading citizens, a slim, gray figure between the purple mountains and the thirsty plains, the ex-President evidently caught the spirit of his romantic surroundings and the crystal clearness of desert air and sky. He said nothing on the material aspects, the costs and profits, the financial gains to be expected, no statistics, no figures.

But he dedicated the massive dam to the better promotion of our religious life, to a better system of education, to the comfort of the home and to the making of better citizens. In one striking passage he must have brought to his hearers the vision of a still greater American on an even more historic occasion when he called upon his countrymen to consecrate the nation to a new birth of freedom. In the same manner Calvin Coolidge said, "I do not know what I could say down here that might help this project particularly. I could not speak to the dam itself nor could I speak to the water. They will go on functioning through all the years . . . It would be impossible for me to dedicate them to anything."

What is the secret of the power of the man who spoke these words? What made it so easy for one of such scarce and simple speech to win the West? Who will say that the inspiration of the Bible has no practical application for those who would emulate his successes?

AFTER MANY YEARS
San Francisco now has its own water system. It is the owner and operator of the Spring Valley waterworks, acquired at a cost of $39,962,606.51, a check for that amount having been handed over to Samuel Eastman, president of the Spring Valley corporation, by Mayor Rolph in the midst of ceremonies that were attended by a large number of citizens who gathered at the City Hall to witness the transaction which was closed by the passing over of a deed to the company's properties to the city.

The people of the Bay City did not take over the Spring Valley water system because of anticipated joy in the handling of it by a political crew which has made such a sad bungle of the operation of the municipal railways. "They did it," as the Chronicle of that city says, "because they had to." The voters had resisted the purchase time and again ever since 1875. Only because of the approaching completion of the Hetch Hetchy project and the fact that no use could be made of Hetch Hetchy water without the Spring Valley reservoirs and pipes did they finally give their consent. The Spring Valley corporation has made enormous profits in the past. Will the city of San Francisco, with its loosely run, happy-go-lucky political crowd, and its notorious mismanagement of other affairs, be able to show anything but a deficit? It seems doubtful.

What they have done with Hetch Hetchy affords a good example of their ability to run a municipal enterprise. That project has been under way in one phase or another for more than twenty years. Three years before his death in 1927 Gavin McNab, one of San Francisco's leading citizens, said that "if Los Angeles had had the handling of Hetch Hetchy the water would have come in years ago."

But now, after the passing of two decades, the water is about to "come in." Mayor Rolph and the City and County Supervisors are pledged to give the people an economical management of the system. San Franciscans as well as sympathetic outsiders will await with interest the outcome of what seems at the present moment none too good a bargain.

MALIGNING THE SENATE
Current criticism of the United States Senate is apt to be too inclusive. It is a good idea for the public to remind itself occasionally that the most conspicuous Senators are not necessarily the most influential. The antics of Heflin, Blease, Brookhart, Johnson and their like attract the most public attention; but they are not truly representative of the Senate's work. They are as annoying to the conscientious, hard-working majority as they are to the public—probably more so. Many of the men in the Senate are able and a few are brilliant. Public policies, for the most part, are shaped by these men rather than by the noise-makers.

There have been times when the average caliber of the Senate was higher than it is now. That was when Senators were selected with more care and before the direct primary and direct election made it possible for demagogues to gain the popular fancy and bedazzle unthinking majorities. But the present Senate is by no means lacking in men of intelligence and probity, and it is unfair to indict the whole body, including these men, for the derelictions of a small group, correctly, but not tactfully, called "sons of the wild jackass" by Senator Moses.

Even Senator Borah has his lucid moments, and while The Times abates no criticism it has uttered concerning his recent activities, it does not wish to be understood as denying that he is, in the main, a conscientious and useful Senator. It is only fair to say that he is probably right more often than he is wrong, often as he is the latter.

Proposals sometimes advanced with some seriousness for abolishing the Senate would, if adopted, destroy the American scheme of government. This scheme has its defects, but so has any other and most of the other governments have more serious defects than the American. It has stood the test of more than 140 years, on the whole with unexampled success, and it does not deserve destruction. If the Senate occasionally runs wild, there are more times when it does not, and its tendency to dilatoriness is on the whole beneficial.

The Senate is too much maligned. Its critics need a sense of proportion as much as do some of the Senators.

THE LESSON
By James J. Montague

I've disposed of the cook and the flivver,
I have moved to a cheap little flat,
I have sold my small store of denatured prewar
And got rid of the dog and the cat.
For I lost all I had in the market
And the future, at present, looks black,
But my course I shall shift to the pathways of thrift
And I hope, by and by, to come back.

Hard luck can be turned to good fortune
If we learn, while it camps on our trail,
That saving each day in a sure steady way
Alone is of any avail.
I shall hoard each superfluous dollar
And exist on the plainest of fare,
And sternly refuse to peruse any news
That relates to a bull or a bear.

Afar from the maddening ticker
I shall stick to my own little trade,
Without any part in the financial mart
Where fortunes are lost or made.
I shall save a good half of my earnings
As the hard-toiling workingmen do,
Holding luxury down with a self-righteous frown
Till I have, say, a thousand or two.

And then I shall phone to a broker
And observe from a heart filled with hope:
"At last I can flash a small fistful of cash
If you happen to have some hot dope."
For I hear that the market is rising
So why keep on plugging away,
When by taking a chance in the game of finance
You can double your wealth in a day?

LEE SIDE O' LA
By Lee Shippey

CALIFORNIA has been enjoying a few personal glimpses of the Coolidges; but the most delightful glimpses of them we have been enlightened by were given us by James Morgan, one of the editors of the Boston Globe, who is spending the winter in Pasadena. Mr. Morgan has attended every national convention of the two major parties in the last thirty years.

"I have no doubt that Mr. Coolidge has a warm spot in his heart for the Pacific Coast, and especially for Oregon," Mr. Morgan said, "for he probably never would have been President but for Oregon. After Harding had been nominated in 1920 the men who had engineered that thought they had things well in hand, and practically served notice that they would complete the job by nominating Lenroot for Vice-President. Then the convention adjourned for dinner and everything seemed so settled that most of the Massachusetts delegates didn't hurry back. Most of them weren't even in the hall when things were going again and all the leaders understood that Lenroot was to be nominated in a few minutes. There had been an undercurrent of Coolidge sentiment, but Senator Lodge, who was presiding, had never given it a chance to make a noise.

Coolidge Wasn't Happy

"One speech was made, designed to clear the way for Lenroot, and nobody in any delegation not supposed to be favorable to Lenroot could attract the chairman's attention. He looked blandly past them all, and away over in one corner a big Oregonian got to his feet. He looked safe and was recognized. When he announced that Oregon wished to put in nomination the name of Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts it was like a bombshell.

"But it set the crowd on fire and the delegations caught fire, too. A big Indiana politician was sitting beside me. 'That's just a gallery play,' he said, but in a moment half his own delegation had joined in the demonstration. Before many of the Massachusetts delegates could be rounded up and told the news the man from Massachusetts had been nominated.

"Lodge got out as soon as he could and telephoned Coolidge congratulations. Coolidge's voice came back, unenthusiastic and a bit raspy:

"'Well, I guess that's just one more duty that will have to be shouldered.'

Didn't Overdo It

"When the news of Coolidge's nomination reached Boston the Globe hurried a reporter to see the Coolidges. It was a very warm day and the reporter, Bentley by name, was perspiring from his hasty exertions. The observant Mrs. Coolidge noted this.

"'Cal,' she said, 'maybe Mr. Bentley would like some cool ginger ale.'

"A glass was brought and Bentley sipped it. He couldn't get much out of Mr. Coolidge and was about to go when two other newspaper men arrived. Bentley decided to stick a while and see if anything more striking were said.

After the interview had lasted some moments and was dragging, Mrs. Coolidge again suggested: 'Cal, wouldn't these gentlemen like something cool, too?'

"Mr. Coolidge poured a glass of ginger ale for each of the newcomers. Then, noting that one of them looked inquiringly toward Bentley, he explained, 'Bentley's already had his.'"

Not Silent, Just Unpretentious

After Coolidge retired from office, Morgan sent another reporter to Northampton to write a story about how the ex-President was fitting into private life. The reporter couldn't learn much about the town, for nobody seemed to know much. They said Coolidge drove to his office every morning, drove home for dinner, at noon; drove back in the afternoon and home again in the evening and that was all they saw of him.

When the reporter called on Coolidge he imagined he would be lucky if given a five-minute interview. To his surprise, Coolidge reached for a box of good Havana cigars and offered him one. The reporter didn't smoke cigars, but did some lightning calculating. If he sat there and interviewed till his cigar was out it would take half an hour—so he seen his duty and done it.

To his surprise, Coolidge talked to him freely and frankly for three-quarters of an hour—and then offered him another cigar. By the time the second cigar had been smoked, the interview had extended to an hour and a half. Then it was the reporter who arose to terminate it—the two cigars had made him dizzy. Coolidge had broken a world's record by outsmoking a reporter!

Editor Who Writes Books!

This Boston editor is the author of an important string of historical books, several of which were written in California. "I always take a little tatting with me when I go vacationing," he says. His sister, Mrs. Lucinda Morgan Green, widow of the first Baptist missionary to Mexico, has lived here since 1914, and this winter celebrated her ninetieth birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan had intended spending this winter in Switzerland, but changed their plans in order to be near Mrs. Green.

Moral Values Involved

LOS ANGELES, March 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The court decision which, for the sake of expediency, "Mongolized" the Filipinos and invalidated their marriages to white girls in this county as far back as 1921 has at least two far-reaching implications which the newspaper-reading public cannot afford to overlook.

In the first place it implies a prejudiced attitude on the part of the "Mongolizers" which unnecessarily breeds a misunderstanding between the Mongolians and the United States people. The Filipinos know that they are not Mongolians. Furthermore, some of them also can realize that there is nothing wrong in being any type of person since no one ever had anything to do with his being.

The second implication arises from the alleged invalidation of the intermarriages which occurred between now and 1921. This is more serious than is commonly realized, for it has something to do with the American sense of moral values.

Such an invalidation would proclaim to the world that the Americans would rather have their girls lead an unhappy, maladjusted life than live under the legalised home life with a Mongolized person.

It must be borne in mind always (1) that practically every white girl that married a Filipino has been a taxi-dancer. (There are exceptions.) As such, they were unadjusted girls. (2) That those marriages, more often than not, have proven to be the stabilizing influence upon the characters of the parties concerned. Marriage as such became the conservator of moral values which every sane citizen must recognize.

That Premature Experiment

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I read your editorials this morning as usual and was very much interested in the way the "Philippine Problem" was presented. The Times, as I see it, has always been opposed to granting the Filipinos their freedom. Whether it is more advantageous for our country to hold the islands any longer for commercial and naval purposes, or what not, it is hard to say, but most certainly, we should be fair to the islanders in what we have promised them through the pronouncements of our duly elected spokesmen.

The Times editorial said: "A premature experiment in autonomy tried under Gov.-Gen. Harrison plunged the islands' finances in such a mess that it is now barely straightened out." The Times again has forgotten that almost all the financial institutions of the world at that particular time, by reason of the effects of the World War, were bankrupt or suffered the same as the Philippines did. That incident, therefore, should not be cited as an example of Filipino incapacity for independent existence, for financial institutions as old as the world even suffered from the crisis.

Week-Enders

LOS ANGELES, March 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to congratulate you on the timely editorial in your issue of Saturday, March 1, on the subject of "Week-Enders."

It is to be hoped that a great many people will do some serious thinking on the different points mentioned in this editorial. I often wonder if, for a great many people, the week-end is not an additional tax on their energies, rather than a means of rest, as it is intended to be. W. O. SAMPSON.

At the beginning of each school semester, the English class at the Bell Evening High School, 4328 East Bell avenue, Bell, votes on which English topics will be studied during the next five months. This term the instructor gave a list of twenty-eight topics and the class voted on the following as being those phases of the subject which they needed most: Ten spelling rules covering the chief difficulties, derivatives, vocabulary, diction, grammar in ten lessons based on actual difficulties, parts of sentences, constructive work, parallel structure, punctuation, sentence analysis, paragraphing, rhetoric, business and social letter writing, theme writing and diagraming.

There is no charge of any kind. Grammar books are loaned free for a deposit of 15 cents.

JOHN DEWEY

BY K. A. SARAFIAN, PH. D.

In the middle of March Southern California will have the privilege of enjoying John Dewey's visit to this land of sunshine and flowers. He comes to the University of California at Los Angeles to take part in the inauguration ceremonies of this excellent institution.

A few months ago, on October the twentieth, a brilliant group of leading intellectuals from various parts of the country assembled in Columbia University to celebrate the seventieth anniversary of this great American. Among the few speakers our own Dr. Ernest Moore took a leading part. On this occasion the newspapers and magazines of the East paid generously their tributes to the achievements of John Dewey, one of the foremost Americans who has contributed immensely to the culture of the world.

Born on a Vermont farm, educated in the United States, an alumnus of Johns Hopkins, Dewey is a genuine product of American educators. He started his academic career as a philosopher and psychologist, but soon devoted his energies to the development of the fertile field of education. In this he achieved a phenomenal success. He applied his trained mind as an adroit philosopher to the solution of burning problems in education, analyzing, criticising and evaluating the prevailing theories and practices of education. As a result we have today in the United States a more advanced educational philosophy and a more progressive educational practice. Through the influence of his experimental school at the University of Chicago in 1896-1903 and also through his numerous students in Columbia University and through his prolific writings and lectures he brought about a revolution in the field of education.

No wonder that today our schools are entirely different from what they were formerly. New type organizations, methods, text-books, buildings and even furniture are the outstanding features of this new school. Instead of the cold-storage type of knowledge our youngsters are being trained in creative thinking and in original investigations; in short, education for discovery rather than memorizer type of learning is stressed in our best schools.

The center of gravity of our education has been shifted also. Instead of lifeless subject matter the child has been placed in the center of our educational process; the child with his instinctive tendencies to play, to manipulate, to explore and to achieve.

The school is no more a preparation for life, but it is life. It is a miniature society. The child placed in this simplified and purified environment takes part in the activities, learns by doing, disciplines himself by actual participation in school government, trains himself in co-operation and mutually helpful living. As a natural consequence of this type of dynamic learning he grows constantly, his growth has no end, his education has no end. "Growth for further growth, education for further education," is the slogan of the modern school today. In this new school the experience of the child is exalted. He builds new experiences in the light of the knowledge gained by his previous experiences. Hence, education has become "the reconstruction or reorganization of experiences which add to the meaning of experience and which increases ability to direct the course of subsequent experience."

It goes without saying that it is a very difficult task, if not impossible, to epitomize in a few paragraphs the educational doctrines of John Dewey. It is exposed and explained in several volumes written by the great master. It is not an exaggeration to state that his "Democracy and Education" alone will suffice to immortalize the name of the author, as one of the most precious classics on education ever written by an American.

In closing, I must add that John Dewey's influence has not been confined only to the area of the New World. He has numerous followers and imitators throughout the world. His recent visit to China, Japan, Mexico, Turkey and Russia has had tremendous influence in the reorganization of the educational policies of these countries. His works have been translated into French, German, Russian, Hungarian, Bulgarian, Greek, Armenian, Italian, Spanish, Swedish, Arabic, Turkish, Chinese, Japanese. Prof. Nunn thus appraises the influence of John Dewey over England: "Dewey is one of the educators who did much to emancipate the professional intelligence of the present generation of teachers." Dr. Kerschensteiner, a foremost educationist of Germany, frankly admits Dewey's influence in the clarification of his thoughts along similar lines in education.

The Old World is proud, and for good reasons, for the precious contribution to education, of Rousseau, Pestalozzi, Frobel, Herbert and Spencer. America today is entitled to be proud of the enormous contributions of John Dewey, who is, as Prof. Irwin Edman of Columbia University puts it aptly, "the prophet of intelligence and freedom in a world of science and machines—his philosophy is as American as it is prophetic and universal." He is the unrivaled interpreter of an education which is designed to meet the needs of a changed and changing civilization.

Asserted Intoxication Nets Quartet for Trial

Eccentric Course Enough to Cause Arrests

One man was sent to jail for ninety days following his conviction for reckless driving after drinking and four others were ordered held for trial on drunk-driving charges in Municipal Court yesterday.

Traffic Judge Bush imposed the ninety-day jail sentence on William Liege, after H. O. Kravik testified that Liege's automobile, traveling at high speed, sideswiped his at the intersection of Fountain avenue and Effie street. Police surgeons reported Liege had been drinking.

Municipal Judge Turney held James N. Young, 109 North Avenue 24, and Dominick Cerruti, San Fernando rancher, for Superior Court trial under $500 bail each on drunk-driving charges. Young, according to Police Officers Doolan and Gaunt, ran through a safety zone at Twelfth and Main streets and nearly wrecked his car on the curb when ordered to pull in. Cerruti, witnesses declared, collided with another machine in front of the Pom Pom cafe on Santa Monica Boulevard at 3 a.m. on the 2nd inst.

Municipal Judge Russell held Fletcher Norton, film actor residing at 822 North Gower street, for trial on drunk-driving charges after officers testified they saw him drive through a safety zone at Melrose avenue and Ardmore street shortly after midnight on February 25, last. Municipal Judge Ballard held Benjamin P. Springald, 3018 West Seventy-fourth street, on similar charges after police officers declared they observed him turn into Main street from Eighty-third street and continue driving in low gear. In each case police surgeons testified that when the men were examined shortly after their arrests they were drunk.

BREAKFAST CLUB NAMES NEW CHIEFS

Von KleinSmid Selected President and DeMond to be Head of Directors

Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, was announced as the newly elected president of the Breakfast Club at that organization's weekly meeting yesterday. He succeeds Maurice DeMond, founder of the club, who has been elected chairman of the board of directors with the title of founder-president. DeMond will perform the same duties that came under his direction as president. The announcement of a change in the plan of management came on the fifth anniversary of the founding of the club.

The club has entertained hundreds of notables and its roster contains the names of more than 1000 well-known men of Southern California. More than 600 members were present at the meeting which welcomed the new president yesterday. The new method of electing a different chairman for every month is to be adopted at the next meeting. C. Gordon Whitnall has been selected as chairman for the first month.

Other officers elected include Dr. W. W. Beckett, Joseph M. Schenck, James Woods, W. T. Kester and Fred E. Keeler, vice-presidents; Dr. L. D. Hollingsworth, secretary, and John Boyce-Smith, treasurer. In addition to Chairman DeMond other directors are Gilbert H. Beesemyer, E. Elmer Moreland, R. C. H. Rupp and Edward L. Doheny.

Delay Granted to Mother in Neglect Case

The trial of Mrs. Pearl Tharp, 29 years of age, of 1648 Ricardo street, for failing to provide for her three children, was continued yesterday by Municipal Judge Bullock until April 2, next. Probation Officer Mathews testified he has been unable to find any trace of the children's father, who deserted them and Mrs. Tharp more than seven years ago in Colorado. Judge Bullock ordered a more thorough search made for him.

Mrs. Tharp is accused by her mother, Mrs. Mabel Luman, 200 North First street, Alhambra.

Mrs. Tharp, who has been in jail since her arrest five weeks ago, was ordered released without bail to await further action in the case after Flora Nelson, deputy City Public Defender, told the court the woman has promised to return to her mother and help her care for the children.

Many Attempt to Crash Gate at Land Show

Two days in advance of the opening of the California Land Show, set for Saturday night, hundreds would have invaded the pavilion at Hill and Washington streets yesterday except for vigilance of gate-keepers.

A small army of artists, interior decorators, modelers and artisans yesterday was putting finishing touches to the $100,000 show. More than 4000 star-centered poinsettias were illuminated last night for the first time, in a test of the lighting scheme of the pavilion.

An attendance that will fill to capacity the two-acre steel tent was predicted yesterday by members of the Land Show executive committee.

Mayor Porter will be principal speaker at the opening program, beginning at 7 o'clock.

NEW HEADS OF ELKDOM ANNOUNCED

Frank S. Hutton Will Be Installed on April 2 as Exalted Ruler of Lodge

Los Angeles Lodge of Elks, No. 99, announced yesterday that the newly elected officers, who will be installed at the session of lodge, April 2, will include many prominent business men of the city with Frank S. Hutton heading the list as Exalted Ruler.

Hutton has been a resident of Los Angeles forty-seven years and is a graduate of the University of Southern California law department. During the World War he served as major. He has been associated with D. A. Schweitzer in the practice of law for twenty-six years.

Other officers are Charles J. O'Hara, Esteemed Leading Knight; Judge Marshall P. McComb, Esteemed Loyal Knight; J. D. Thomas, Esteemed Lecturing Knight; Dean K. Barris, Secretary; Henry B. Learned, Treasurer; M. A. Vargo, Tiler, and Charles M. Morgan, Trustee.

Retiring Exalted Ruler Edward A. Gibbs was elected delegate to the Grand Lodge convention in Atlantic City in July, and Norman A. Bailie, newly elected president of the Los Angeles County Bar Association, alternate delegate.

CITY CLUB CHEERS AT TAX RULING

President's Announcement of $25,000 Recovery in Court Wins Applause

Announcement by Jess E. Stephens, president of the City Club, that United States District Judge James has decided in favor of the club in its suit to recover $25,000 in taxes paid to the Internal Revenue Department, was greeted by loud cheers at the club's luncheon yesterday.

The tax funds were collected on the grounds that the City Club was a social club.

Mr. Stephens quoted the court as ruling that, from the undisputed evidence, the plaintiff is not a social club within the meaning of the Revenue Act.

"The City Club probably will receive the money asked in the complaint within the next three months," said Mr. Stephens.

Walter Brown Murray, psychologist, spoke on "Why We Behave as We Do." Calling attention to the various instincts common to man and the lower orders of animal life, Mr. Murray told his audience that every instinct and motive of man may be so employed as to develop the best in individual character and to advance the general welfare of humanity.

Doug and Mary Honor Nobility

Lady Mountbatten, whose husband is a cousin of the Prince of Wales, yesterday arrived here to be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks at Pickfair, Beverly Hills. A dinner party in her honor assembled a select list of Hollywood notables at the Fairbanks home last night.

Lord Mountbatten is first Marquess of Milford. The house originally was Battenberg, and was changed at the time of the World War to Mountbatten.

CROWDS DRAWN BY HORSE SHOW

Yesterday's Attendance Tops Week's Record

Chief of Longview Carries Off More Honors

Championship $2000 Stake Won by Ailsie

The largest crowd of the week, more than 6000 persons, watched Chief of Longview, noted five-gaited stallion, reap further triumphs at the ninth annual Los Angeles Horse Show last night. Another event of unusual merit was the junior fine-harness stake, the first time this event has been held on the Pacific Coast.

Two bad spills in the last event of the program brought spectators to their feet when Mrs. Alma Spreckels Rosekrans and Roy D. Bayly lost their mounts and landed on the tanbark. Mrs. Rosekrans was riding Dr. Leggo and was thrown at the first hurdle when the animal refused the jump. Mr. Bayly was thrown backward from his mount when Waterford reared after the second jump. Neither rider was injured and the two were able to walk from the ring.

The riders of mounts in the several hunter classes in the course of the show have displayed varying degrees of horsemanship, several of the horses having been penalized by the evident fear of the rider when about to jump. The win of Kentucky Bob, the entry of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Heid in the Handy Hunter class was aided by the good handling of the groom.

Several large stakes were competed for last night, four being for $500 and one for $2000.

HUNTER CLASS

Champion model hunter—Ailsie, Aaron M. Frank Farms; Golden Glimpse, Alma Spreckels Rosekrans; Mahogany Mare, Alma Spreckels Rosekrans; Little Miss Muffet, Alma Spreckels Rosekrans.

Handy heavy harness horse—Duke of Richland, Carnation Farm Stable; Earl of Lavender, Mrs. A. C. Thompson; Junction, Mrs. W. P. Rush; Washington Victoria, Dulwich City Riding School.

Saddle horse, three-gaited—Beggar Boy, Mrs. Alma Carlton Mercer; Gladden Hall, Bel-Air Stables; Royal Sensation, Marcorets Hollman; Sonr, Bel-Air Stables.

Pairs, two harness mares—Punkin, Mrs. T. M. Mercer; Magna McDonald, Marcorets Hollman; Pete, J. C. Jeffreys; Jenni, Louise Batterman, Adobe Stock Farm.

Matrons pony—Tandems—Fireflash and Pete, Mrs. R. Mercer; The Minister and Susanna, George J. Peak and sons.

CHAMPIONSHIP STAKES

Championship $2000 stake—Ailsie, Aaron M. Frank Farms; Hummingbird, Alma Spreckels Rosekrans; Golden Glimpse, Alma Spreckels Rosekrans; Mayflower, Aaron M. Frank Farms.

Three heavy harness horses—Carnation Farm Stables, first; John Rubio entry, second, and Mrs. A. C. Thompson, third.

Single roadsters—Mr. Sprunt, Mrs. W. P. Rush; Patty Miller, Marjorie Marston; Al Sharp, George J. Peak and sons; Phantom Chief, George J. Peak and sons.

Saddle horses, five-gaited, $500 stake—Chief of Longview, Mrs. W. P. Rush; Carnation Chief, Marjorie Marston; Majestic Charm, Mrs. A. C. Thompson; The Nobleman, Mrs. Charles R. Bell.

Single harness ponies—Sunshine, Aaron M. Frank Farms; Miss Dixie, Mrs. R. Mercer; Mysterious, Aaron M. Frank Farms.

Handy Hunters—Kentucky Bob, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Heid; Wings, Mrs. Mary J. Meigel; Tony Dundee, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Heid; Trinket, Mary Elizabeth and Cameron Leonard.

Today Moving Day for Police of Hollywood

The police of the Hollywood division will move into their new station house at De Longpre and Wilcox avenues today. Headed by Capt. McDowell, the members of the day watch will report this morning at the present station house at 1629 Cahuenga Boulevard and then march in a body to their new headquarters.

The new building, with its hospital unit, as yet uncompleted, will cost $60,000, and is much larger and more modern in its facilities than the old station house, which was erected in 1913. The old jail has only four cells, while the new building has thirty-two, four of which have been set aside for women prisoners and four for prisoners arrested on felony charges. In addition there will be accommodations for twenty-four trusties.

When the hospital unit is completed, within about a month, it will become the emergency hospital for the entire Hollywood district. In addition to its emergency hospital facilities it will contain ten beds for members of the police and fire departments injured in the line of duty.

Russia Ruled by Small Minority, Lecturer Says

Only 5 per cent of the Russian population, the Bolsheviki, rule that country at present—a 5 per cent whose number embraces many who do not understand the theory on which it bases its government, Max Eastman, author, lecturer and expert on Russian affairs, pointed out to the Jewish Institute at the Beaux Arts Auditorium last night.

Not only are many of the Communists themselves hazy on their theory, but the mass of the Russian people are in complete darkness concerning the intricate social and economic revolutionary ideas of Communism, Eastman pointed out.

A visit to Russia would impress a foreigner with the facts that the Russians are not different from anyone else; that they have made great strides in the last six years and that it is evident they will rise again to a place of recognized power, Eastman declared.

The speaker criticised American prison conditions as compared to those in Russia, pointing out that all criminals who are jailed in Russia on poverty-caused crimes are released if an expert psychologist recommends the release and that those incarcerated are kept employed and paid for their labor.

SYRACUSE ALUMNI TO MEET

Members of the Syracuse Alumni Association will meet at luncheon in the University Club at noon Saturday, it was announced yesterday by Leona Tackabury, president. The oldest alumnus, Dr. Francis D. Blakeslee, '76, will relate personal reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln.

A CLEAN GIVE-AWAY

It's a trade secret not generally known, but a number of leading hairdressers use White King Granulated Soap for shampooing—even though it's specifically designed for household use!

That's because White King Granulated Soap is the purest, safest soap made. It contains no "filler" nor foreign matter of any sort. It's made of vegetable oils good enough to eat! If water won't hurt it, White King won't ... blankets... dishes... or lingerie.

And it's economical too. Because it's condensed, a little goes a long way. A teaspoonful to the basin of water, or a cupful in the washtub, and your washing troubles are over. Your grocer has it.

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Mr. and Mrs. James Worden Roberts (Virginia Deardorff) entertained Sunday evening with a charmingly appointed supper at their home, 109 North Sycamore avenue, the decorations being artistically carried out in gold and peach tones, with great baskets filled with jonquils, freesias and yellow roses and a profusion of maidenhair ferns and foliage.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Worden Ballinger Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Deardorff, Mr. and Mrs. James McCarthy Rounds, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Max Gebgen, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Tremaine, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Hull, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Langley, Miss Harriett Andrews, Miss Katherine Jean, Miss Edith King, Miss Alva Woodhouse, William Witherspoon, William Hellen and Harry Holton.

Approaching Wedding

The marriage of Miss Beatrice Frank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Frank, to Jack William Lane of San Francisco will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, 131 South Wilton Place, Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, in the presence of the immediate relatives only. A wedding supper will follow the ceremony and a reception will be given from 8:30 to 10 o'clock.

Afternoon Tea

Mrs. Lulu Clark of Chevy Chase-Flintridge is entertaining this afternoon with a tea, honoring members of La Canada Club and guests have been bidden from Pasadena and Los Angeles. An interesting feature of the afternoon will be the reviewing of "Journey's End," of R. C. Sheriff, by Mrs. Alice Grannis Botsford.

Wedding Announced

Midst a profusion of spring flowers in the spacious living-room of the Hollywood home of Mrs. Harriet B. Garrison the marriage of Mrs. Grace E. Weber of Glendale to Lionel B. Dube was solemnized Tuesday morning, February 25, with Rev. Adolph E. Jones of Tropico Presbyterian Church officiating.

The bride was gowned in eggshell silk lace with cape to match and carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds and lilies of the valley. Miss Ethel B. Garrison, bridesmaid, wore rose beige silk lace and carried orchid sweet peas. Mrs. Stanley Aiken of Hollywood played the wedding marches with violin and vocal numbers by Duci di Krerekjarto and Ethel B. Garrison.

Barbara Jean Weber, daughter of the bride, carried the ring, and the maid of honor, Miss Charlotte Holmes of Pasadena, wore a gown of rose silk lace and carried rose sweet peas.

Guests at the ceremony and wedding breakfast included Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Aiken, Mmes. Marie E. Kuehmann of Toledo, O., Harriet B. Garrison, Oscar Hofsof, Lettie C. Goodmansen, Caro Senour, Misses Edith Kuehmann, June Truegensen, Alpha Murray, Charlotte Holmes, Ethel B. Garrison, Barbara Jean Weber and Messers Duci di Krerekjarto, Harold B. Townsend and Kenneth T. Martin.

After a brief honeymoon in Santa Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Dube will return to make their home in their chalet in the Hollywood Hills.

Felicitations

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Davey of 1716 Stanley avenue, Hollywood, over the arrival February 5 of a tiny daughter who will be called Joan Frances Davey. The little stranger is being gladly welcomed by her young sister Wilma.

Smart Affair

Among the smart affairs of last week was the luncheon and bridge, with which Mrs. T. G. Skinner entertained Thuraday afternoon at the Mary Louise, honoring her sister, Mrs. D. A. Odell, who with Mr. Odell of Minneapolis is passing some time at the Biltmore. The decorations were beautifully carried out in the pastel shades of the early spring flowers, and bridge followed in the ballroom. Those included were members of Mrs. Skinner's bridge club, Mrs. L. N. Olds of Los Angeles, Mrs. W. H. E. Bravender and Mrs. A. B. Linbach of Baldwin Park, Mrs. J. B. Ferguson and Mrs. Eola Hughes of Redondo Beach, and Mrs. C. R. Dyer of Montrose.

For Bride-Elect

Honoring Miss Dorothy Baxter Rogers, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter Rogers, whose engagement to Alfred M. Fritschi was announced last Saturday, at a beautifully appointed luncheon, Miss Mary Becky Dearing entertained Sunday evening with a bridge and buffet supper at her home, 145 South Beachwood Drive.

Luncheon-Musicale

In accordance with her charming annual custom, Mrs. D. M. Clemson of Pittsburgh, who is passing the winter at the Huntington Hotel, entertained a coterie of her closest friends at a luncheon and musicale at the hotel Tuesday afternoon.

As Christine Miller before her marriage to the Pittsburgh Carnegie Gas executive, she was a renowned contralto concert singer and is still a patron of music in her own city.

Mrs. Grace Wood Jess of Los Angeles entertained with a delightful program of dancing and music in the ballroom following the luncheon.

Mrs. William M. McKelvy of Pittsburgh was guest of honor while other guests, most of whom are wintering at the hotel, included Mrs. Peter Alexander, Mrs. Howard Abbott, Miss Beatrice Barnes, Mrs. J. Willis Baer, Mrs. R. M. Bennett, Mmes. B. P. Craig, A. Costello, E. A. Cudahy, P. C. Case, B. H. Conkling, I. H. Denton, J. A. Darsie, John P. Ewing, B. A. Eckhart, P. B. Eckhart, B. G. Fat Folks Eat Less Than the Thin

A Gland Is Weak

VERY often we find that fat people eat less than thin people. They are naturally careful in their diet. So it is evident, generally, that something else causes excess fat. There is usually an under-active gland. Modern physicians, in treating obesity, seek to supply the deficiency.

The factor they use is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. It largely explains the results. A book in each box of Marmola gives the formula and states why it leads to reduction.

Marmola is prepared in a famous medical laboratory, to deal in the right way with excess fat. People have used it for 22 years—millions of boxes of it. They have told the results to others, until people now employ it in a larger way than ever.

Do what those people have done. Don't starve, don't over-exercise. There is danger in both. Let Marmola supply the gland factor which is probably too scant. Watch the results for a little while, in lower weight, new health and vitality. Those results will tell you if this is the right way for you.

Do this for your own sake, for your family and friends. If your condition is abnormal, correct it. Go try Marmola now.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

There's naught, when all is done and said,
Like curiosity to spread.
—Old Mother Nature.

CURIOSITY SPREADS

Curiosity is contagious. In other words, it is catching. If one person becomes curious, other people are almost certain to become curious. It was Peter Rabbit who first became curious as to where the home of Whitefoot the Wood Mouse was. When Chatterer the Red Squirrel discovered that Peter was looking for Whitefoot's home, he in turn became curious. He had told Peter that he was sure that Whitefoot's home was not in a log, a stump or a hollow tree near that particular part of the edge of the Green Forest. To make doubly sure, Chatterer visited every stump, hollow log and hollow tree.

"I knew it," declared Chatterer, talking to himself. "Peter Rabbit doesn't know what he's talking about. Whitefoot the Wood Mouse certainly hasn't a home around here. Still, now I think of it, I have seen him about two or three times. It didn't occur to me to wonder what he was doing over here on the edge of the Green Forest. It is a long way from where he used to live."

Meanwhile, Sammy Jay had come along and had discovered Peter sitting in the bramble-tangle. "What are you doing over here, Peter Rabbit?" demanded Sammy. "You ought to be at home in the dear Old Briar-patch. Does Mrs. Peter know where you are?"

"No, she doesn't," replied Peter crossly. "And it isn't any business of yours, Sammy Jay, what I'm doing over here."

"He's over here looking for the home of Whitefoot the Wood Mouse," spoke up Chatterer, who happened to be in a tree near by.

"Ho, ho, ho!" laughed Sammy Jay in a most provoking manner. "Ho, ho, ho! Whitefoot the Wood Mouse doesn't live around here. He lives farther back in the Green Forest."

"That's what I told him," said Chatterer. "But you know Peter is

"What are you doing over here, Peter Rabbit?" demanded Sammy stubborn and he won't believe it."

"He told me himself that he's got a new home and he was right over here when he told me that," declared Peter. "What is more, I have seen him around here several times. So you can't make me believe that Whitefoot isn't living in this neighborhood."

"Well, when you find his home let me know," said Sammy Jay airily, and flew away as if he had no further interest in the subject.

But this was all pretense on Sammy Jay's part. He kept thinking about Whitefoot and he went about, peering here and peering there with those sharp eyes of his. You see, Peter's curiosity had spread to him as well as to Chatterer. There are no sharper eyes in all the Green Forest than the eyes of Sammy Jay. There is no one knows more about his own neighborhood than does Chatterer the Red Squirrel. So that home of Whitefoot's had to be very well hidden indeed to escape these busybodies. It was well hidden. Yet, curiously enough, Sammy and Chatterer, and Peter, too, saw it many times and didn't know it.

"Although I am only 22 years old I have four babies to care for. Words cannot explain what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. My mother always kept it in her house for years. She calls it "the old reliable." Before my last baby was born she urged me to take it because I was so terribly weak, and I gave it a good trial. After three bottles I could feel a great improvement. At one time I had to lie down four or five times a day. I still take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I need it for I find that it gives me strength to be a good mother to my little family. I will gladly answer letters asking about it."—Vern L. Dennings.

MRS. WILLIAM PARENT
1415 W. 62nd St., Seattle, Washington

"When my little daughter was born, we were living on a homestead way up in northern Alberta, Canada. I had four other children and I worked so hard that I suffered a nervous breakdown. The doctor's tonic didn't seem to help me and when a friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to take that instead. One day I felt good, the next day I might feel bad but I kept on with the Vegetable Compound until I felt well again. It is a wonderful medicine for it surely brought back my strength. Today I can do anything, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If any woman will write to me I will tell her all I can about this medicine."—Mrs. William Parent.

MRS. DELLA HUTSELL
626 E. 1st St., Casper, Wyoming

"Three years ago I was in bed three months with a nervous breakdown. For years I suffered, having to lie down frequently and often I felt so weak I could hardly stand up. I have four children, the youngest 21, and I board two little school girls. I try to keep my home as a mother should but I am at the age so many women dread. Since taking six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I feel 100% stronger. I am not so nervous and my appetite is better. My head only bothers me once in a while for which I praise your Vegetable Compound. I am always recommending it to other ladies when we get talking together."—Mrs. Della Hutsell.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

DISEASES OF THE FINGERNAILS

Sometimes the matrix or nail base becomes inflamed and we have a condition called onychia. A popular name for this is a "run-around." The end of the finger looks red, is congested and feverish. The nail throbs and hurts. Pus may be formed at the root and the nail is unusually lost but it generally grows again. The treatment for relief is hot applications. When the nail is not lost it may loosen and become roughened. Any work which keeps the hands in irritating fluid, such as scrubbing or dish washing, due to the continual soapy water, may bring about this condition. Keeping the nails in cool water compresses overnight will sometimes relieve the pain and allow the patient to sleep. Only one nail may be thickened, or every nail may be attacked at one time.

The ingrowing toenail is an extremely bothersome experience. This is usually caused by pinching from shoes that are too tight, causing the nail to irritate the skin and an ingrowing toenail may cut right into the flesh. If this type of shoe is continually worn, an abscess of a very painful sort may be developed which will exude pus and produce quite an irritating sore. The cure is to buy shoes which give the nail plenty of room. The nail may also be scraped thinner toward the center in the back so that it will be permitted to curve normally.

Paronychia or whitlow is a disease in the bone of the fingertip under the nail when it becomes inflamed, throwing off pus and causing extreme inconvenience and subsequent pain. The nail may be either lost or else separated from its bed and raised. It may be thickened, become ridged and turn brown. Since the growth of the nail has been distributed, the ridge remains until it grows out and is indicative as to the length of time that the inflammation was present.

Ridges across the fingernails may also indicate an acute disease or weakened condition at the time when the ridge was first formed. After a fever the nail often crumbles, splits and discolors. In this case the treatment should be constitutional since it indicates that the blood stream is not bringing proper nourishment to the root.

Following an accident, the nail often turns black and comes off. If the nails are injured they will probably grow in again, but this often takes time, especially with toenails. Almost every child loses one or more nails during the process of growing up.

A badly formed nail may be due to any influence which keeps the nails from growing right during the embryonic period. The habit of children biting the nails may also result in deformity of the nails. When the malformation of the nails has occurred before birth, the nail of the big toe is usually thickened or horny and discolored. The trouble may not appear immediately but come on later in life. Sometimes in a disease called anoychia, the nail of a finger or toe may be completely absent at birth.

Deformity of the nail may also occur in diseases of the lungs and heart. Sometimes in these cases the nail becomes very much enlarged or it may curve under the end of the finger.

The most severe change of the nail may occur in leprosy and ichthesis. Neuritis often causes nails to whiten, usually with streaks showing longitudinally. Ichthesis causes the nails to be brittle and dry.

From the foregoing you can undoubtedly see how closely related is the health of the nail to the health of the body, and shows that it is often more important to pay attention to the general health than to special parts.

IT'S TIME FOR BABY TO START ACQUIRING HIS SUMMER COMPLEXION!

Daily sun baths may be started again in the first week of March—good news for those housed-up babies of ours! Sun-bathing has assumed an enormous importance in baby's life since the discovery that the action of sunlight on the bare body helps it to make the best possible use of the minerals in the diet. The minerals may be present in abundance, yet without the magic mystery worked by sunlight, the body cannot always use them to the greatest advantage.

Lack of sunlight is the chief cause of rickets, for the vital rays of the sun do not pass through ordinary window glass nor through clothing. Dark-skinned babies, of any race, living as they do in a climate which does not offer them enough sunlight, are most susceptible to rickets. The light-skinned races, accustomed as they are to long seasons of cold, minus sunlight, may not show such marked ill effects of this deprivation.

Most of our babies get very little exposure to direct sunlight even if they get outdors daily. Mothers have an excusable reluctance about undressing a baby and putting him in front of an open window even in a warm room. Therefore, the chances are that all the protection the baby has had against rickets during his first winter is through the medium of cod-liver oil, which "pinch-hits" for sunlight.

START EXPOSURE EARLY

Now it is March. There are going to be warmer, summer days during this month and it is well to give baby the benefit of them. Any baby over six weeks of age may be taken out in the middle of the day when it is warmest. Tip the cover of the carriage so that his face is exposed to the sun. Turn him on his side and let the sun play on one cheek for ten or fifteen minutes. Then turn him on the other side and repeat the exposure. This will not hurt his eyes, especially if he is asleep. If the day is warm and the mother's hands are comfortable in the sun without gloves, uncover baby's hands and let them lie in the sun too.

Do this every day until the small cheeks and hands are well tanned. Soon the arms can be uncovered, too, and later the feet and legs. The mother can determine, by her own perfect comfort when this time has arrived.

On these warmer days baby may be placed in front of an open window through which the sun is streaming. Let him lie there naked for five minutes or more, turning him from side to side and back to front.

If the room is warm and all doors are closed, there will be no draft so baby won't be the least bit chilled. Sun baths in front of open windows always sound much more terrifying than they ever prove to be.

Meanwhile, keep up the daily doses of cod liver oil until baby is able to get a full sunbath daily. After that, cod liver oil can be dispensed with for the summer months.

Corner-stone to be Laid Sunday

Corner-stone laying ceremonies for the new Second Presbyterian Church are announced for 3 p.m. Sunday at the site, North Griffin avenue and Altura street. Rev. Henry C. Buell, pastor, will be in charge. There will be special music by a male quartet and cornetist from the Bible Institute. Dr. Moses Breese, of the Board of National Missions, will speak.

The new edifice is to cost $35,000 and will be Gothic in design. The old church at the corner of North Broadway and Daly street will be replaced by an office building.

PETITION FORMS SENT OUT

The City Engineer yesterday notified the City Council that he has forwarded to property owners petition forms for the opening and extending of Tonsor street from Hickey avenue to Lankershim Boulevard.

NORMAND WILL NAMES MOTHER

Actress Leaves Her Entire Estate to Parent

Property Made Up Largely of Personal Goods

Clause Says Cody Possesses Enough for His Needs

An estate principally comprised of personal property, all of which goes to her mother by the terms of her will, was left by Mabel Normand, screen comedienne, it was revealed yesterday. The estate consists of several bank accounts, jewelry, stocks and bonds and in addition to that, some real property in Beverly Hills.

Attorney William R. James is handling the affairs of the estate. As soon as a petition for probate of her will is filed in Superior Court there will be opened several safe-deposite vaults in banks which will reveal, the attorney believes, the approximate value of the estate.

The Beverly Hills property, the house which Miss Normand occupied before her marriage to Lew Cody, screen actor, is believed to be the only real property. It was also learned that she for a number of years maintained a trust fund in New York for the benefit of her mother. The principal of this trust will go to the mother, Mrs. Mary Normand, the attorney stated.

The petition for probate will be filed in several days, James said. Cody will ask to be named executor of the will, Miss Normand having failed to name anyone. Cody is not mentioned in the will except in a clause in which she set forth he has sufficient means to provide for himself.

Miss Normand executed her last testament February 27, 1927. Her mother and sister, Gladys, have decided on a crypt in the new mausoleum at Calvary Cemetery as her final resting-place.

WIFE DIVORCES WOMAN HATER

Mate Has No Use for Anyone Who Wears Skirts, Suit Charges

Chester A. Pope said he despised anyone who wore skirts and that he had no use for women, Mrs. Frances M. Pope, his wife, testified yesterday before Superior Judge Price when asking the court to grant her a divorce.

The couple married at Washington, D. C., September 11, 1920 and separated March 12, 1929.

Mrs. Pope was granted a decree.

Coughs

You know the feeling. Full of pep. Can't be beaten. Sitting on top of the world! Doing something every minute and wondering what you'll be doing next...

Then suddenly a cough develops! Ambition is just a memory! You're run-down—dead tired—all in—worn out.

No wonder!

For coughing uses up your energy more quickly than any other bodily exertion. Don't let a cough "hang on."

Medical science has proven that 15 minutes of coughing is more exhausting than a mile swim or a 3-mile walk.

Pertussin brings quicker results by a safer method. It relieves the cough by getting at the immediate cause. Made by the Special Taeschner Process, it helps to loosen the phlegm, soothe the irritation and quiets the cough.

Remember: Don't cough unnecessarily. Conserve your energy. Take a spoonful of Pertussin the moment you feel a tickling in your throat.

WHAT NEXT?

NEW STORE SIGHTED FOR HOLLYWOOD

Height-Limit Department Structure Contemplated for Prominent Corner

Negotiations are under way for the construction of a large department-store building at the northwest corner of Hollywood Boulevard and Vine street, Hollywood, it was disclosed yesterday.

The property has been owned for the past several years by Carl Laemmle, Sr., president of the Universal Pictures Corporation, and negotiations for improving the property are being carried on by his son-in-law, Stanley Bergermann.

When reached yesterday Bergermann admitted negotiations are under way, but he said the deal has not reached a stage as yet to permit the disclosure of particulars. From another source it was learned yesterday a New York department store was negotiating for the site several months ago, but Bergermann declined to say whether it is this firm that is now discussing terms or whether a Los Angeles company is negotiating.

For a time it was believed Laemmle would improve the property with a theater building, but apparently this project has been given up. If the present negotiations go through the property will be improved in all probability by a height-limit structure to be taken over on a long-term lease.

Girl Winner of First Award in Poster Contest

A prize competition in poster design among the students of the Otis Art Institute which was sponsored by Paul J. Howard, head of Paul J. Howard's Horticultural Establishment, 250 South La Brea avenue, was ended yesterday with the award of the $50 first prize to Esther Sweeney. It was a desire for originality and distinction in a poster to be used in advertising his business which caused Mr. Howard to enlist the students of the institute in the competition and he announced that he will use Miss Sweeney's winning design in his future advertising.

The second prize of $25 was awarded to I. Chooh, a young Korean student. Those who received honorable mention are Norman Pulmor, Marie West and Dorothy Kilgore.

WILMINGTON BOY WINS P.-T.A. CONTEST

Award of a $25 prize to Arthur Willey, pupil in Class B-11, Phineas Banning High School, Wilmington, was announced yesterday in connection with the poster contest conducted by the Tenth District Parent-Teacher Association. Jesse Irvin Pettit, of the same class, won honorable mention. The youthful poster artists will receive their awards today at the Venice Pier. The prize posters will be exhibited in Riverside and Denver.

Supreme Court Hears Argument on Deed Powers

Arguments on whether restrictions in deeds can prevent property owners from granting easements across their property for municipal improvements, such as highways, were heard by the State Supreme Court yesterday, and taken under advisement after County Counsel Mattoon had argued that such prevention will do serious harm to programs of municipal, county and State improvement.

The question arose when the city of Glendale appealed lower court decisions sustaining the action of Dr. H. J. Friesan of Glendale to prevent the city of Glendale from taking advantage of a forty-foot easement for highway purposes granted by a neighbor.

County Counsel Mattoon and Deputy County Counsel Fayden declared in their arguments that their stand is backed by the State, fourteen cities and eight other counties in addition to Los Angeles county.

Army Transport to Call at Port

The United States Army transport Cambrai, which sailed from New York February 21, last, will make a short call at San Pedro Saturday to take on 103 officers and men of the Third Coast Artillery, according to a dispatch received yesterday from the Presidio at San Francisco. The men will be taken to San Francisco for duty at Fort Scott, where they will replace troops sent recently to Fort MacArthur with the Sixty-third Coast Artillery anti-aircraft regiment.

Aboard the Cambrai is Col. Archibald F. Comiskey, United States Cavalry, who has been in command of the troops on the voyage from New York. He will disembark here for duty with the reserve area, it is announced.

RUMANIAN UNIVERSITY HEAD TO SPEAK HERE

Prof. Nicholae Iorga, president of the University of Bucharest, will lecture on "Byzantine Art" in Hoose Hall of the University of Southern California, Thirty-fifth and University avenue, today at 9 a.m. Lantern slide illustrations will be used. Prof. Iorga is a member of the Rumanian, Spanish and Swedish Academy, director of the School of Art of Venice, Italy, and an authority on Byzantine history and art. Author of about 200 books in Rumanian, French, Spanish, German, Italian and English, Dr. Iorga also is editor of a Rumanian newspaper.

SEWERS TO BE INSTALLED

Ordinances calling for the sewering of the Blair Drive and Troy Drive district and for abandoning the proceedings for the improvement of streets in the La Rue-avenue and Oneida-street district were adopted yesterday by the City Council.

The New in Stores & Homes

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

Another reason for owning a mountain cabin, a rancho or a beach cottage, is that one may therein find a place for out-moded furniture and fixtures. Grandame's none too beautiful old chair, in no sense an heirloom piece, but attached to the family through years of bondage—to the daily chagrin of the younger generation—may be painlessly removed to one of the more remote homes, upon plea that it is greatly needed there.

Old books, never willingly perused by moderns, but too good to sell, too highly prized to give away—but occupying coveted space in the city home—may be sent to the camp or rancho, there to assist in the cultural elevation of casual visitors. So assistful in storage facilities are those dwellings a few times removed—like southern cousins—how can any family get on without a few!

Renovation

You may suspect, from the above remarks, that we are diligently engaged in renovating the city home! It is imaginable that you-all may, at some time, have been similarly afflicted.

Cretonne Quarters

That big Broadway store—always au current with the wants of the public—is at this most opportune time, holding a sale of cretonnes. An entire section in the basement has been devoted to an exposition of this much-wanted material—a stock having been secured at great reductions in price for this especial sale. Just when spring redoing for the home is in progress, an opportunity to purchase the enlivening cretonne, excellent for so many purposes, will attract profound interest. From the simple chintz designs—small flowrets, growing upon small squared or diamonded backgrounds—to bold designs in tropic blossoms, interflown with gorgeous plumaged birds, there is a color scheme to suit every taste. And the prices! Just wait until you see those tags! You will, forthwith, wish to cretonne every room in the house, and at the same time, to fulfill your dreams of loveliness for the beach home.

Gay and Somber

The gayly-flowered dress in silk, may choose for variety to take by the hand a coat of plain silk in the predominant tone—an ensemble singularly pleasing for spring and summer wear.

And by the Way

At least one of the leading stores has a cutting and fitting service for the benefit of those purchasing yardage at its counters. A vital service, I would term this: doing away with the guilty feeling one has when, after acquiring yards of beautiful material, intending to "make it yourself," you wrap it away in tissue and let it lie for months and maybe years, cheating you of the frocks you feel too stingy to buy, just because you have that goods which should be made up.

"On Your Conscience"

How many such matters are "on your conscience?" Closets crowded with dresses, coats, shoes and hats which you really ought to wear, but will not; rooms filled with stumble-over furniture, too good to do away with; even dishes which you wish would break but which determinedly outlive others better prized, or still others which you would like to buy, were those old ones gone. A friendly swapping place, would be a benefit all around, I think. Oh, let's!

Shantung

Shantung, determined to be "all things to all" women, has taken to being washable with all its other appealing qualities.

An offering, in that basement store, to celebrate the twenty-three years, since its inauguration, exercises a double interest: That of being an up-to-the minute, ready-to-don, and at the same time exceedingly wearable, since declared washable.

Costume Rondels

Possibly you had not thought to name them—those new costume necklaces, in flat beads set similarly to Indian wampum. Rondels are "all the go"—and in that sale, celebrative of inauguration, are strikingly offered.

Other Wampum

As a matter of fact, beads—whose derivation unquestionably is from the days of the aboriginal—many of them come in similarity to Indian wampum. So, you with real wampums, may doubly rejoice in the newly revived mode—or shall we say in the "civilized" fashion?

Tot Sweaters

The season's sweaters for tiny tots, how simply adorable! Just as one has decided that nothing can be more lovable than these knitty garments now possessed, but some others, even more enticing. Not only are colors more enlivening than heretofore, but the quaint figurines, either knitted or woven in, or onto, are of more than passing interest.

Blacks and Black-ands

Not only is the black ensemble a favorite for spring and summer, but black—and—oh, almost any other color, is likewise favored. Black-and-white, of course; but also black-and-green in its many variants; black-and-mustard; black-and-blue; black-and-red; black-and-pink. Well, black-and almost any color flattering to the wearer.

Dusty Pink

This new shade of pink, a shade softened as if by the evening afterglow, seen as the aura of the mountain or the sea, is singularly becoming to both young and the more advanced. See how carefully we avoid the term "old?"

CONSUL TO BE GUEST AT FAREWELL DINNER

Godfrey Fisher, for the past seven years British Consul in this city, and Mrs. Fisher will be the guests of honor at a farewell dinner to be given Wednesday night at the Pollyanna, 2228 West Seventh street, by the Women's Canadian Club of Los Angeles. The transfer of Mr. Fisher to Naples, Italy, was recently announced and he expects to leave for his new post some time this month.

COMMITTEE SELECTED

The 1930 executive committee of the Los Angeles Fire and Police Protective League is composed of John A. McCaleb, William H. Bachman, Bertrand C. Lynn, A. E. Adams, Charles F. Becker and E. E. Cook for the police and L. L. Notley, Samuel V. Owen, J. L. Richards, William J. Healy, George Dean and E. H. Henry for the firemen, according to a notice filed with the Police Commission yesterday.

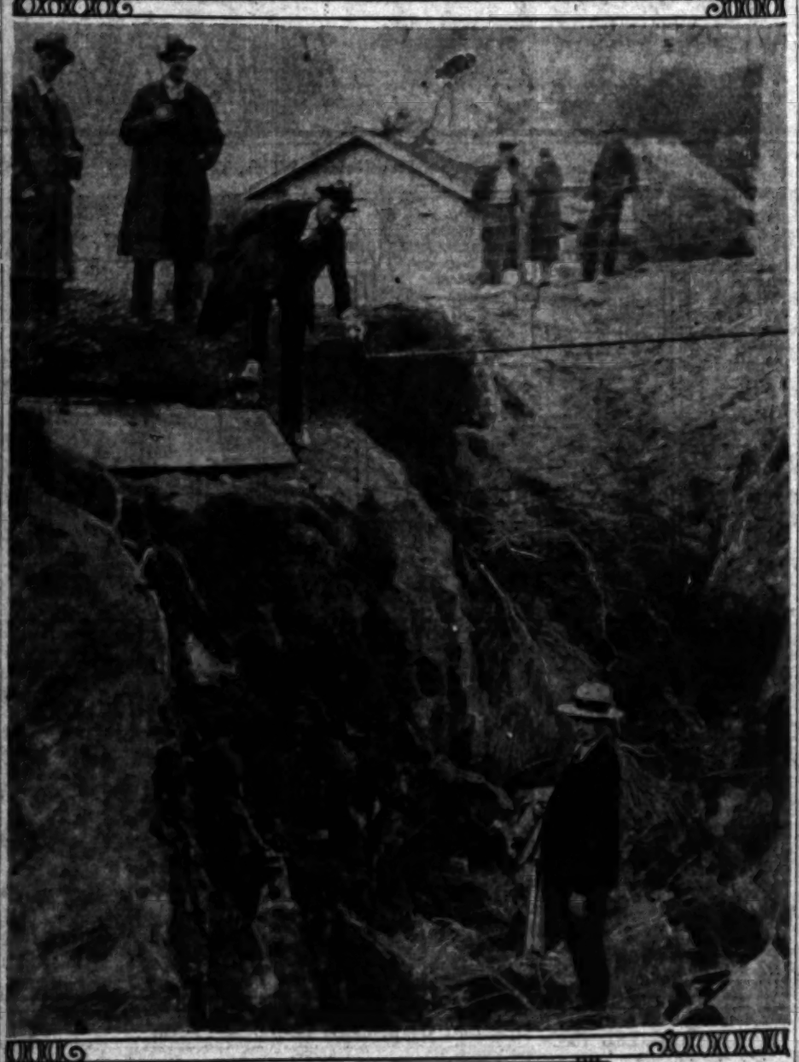
Pimples So Disfiguring Was Ashamed. Healed by Cuticura

"Pimples started on my face and my shoulders were [illegible] them. The pimples on my shoulders were large and red [illegible] They itched, causing me to scratch, and my clothing aggravated [illegible] I was ashamed of them because they were so disfiguring, and was discouraged because I had used so many creams and remedies.

"My mother recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment, so I sent for a free sample. After using it I purchased one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and was healed." (Signed) Miss Dorothy McLaughlin, 210 W. 89th St., Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 1, 1929.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. H, Malden, Mass."

Judicial Eye Surveys Absconding Territory



Seeing's believing

Defendant Tells Judge Air Mail Brings Him Dope

Harry J. Middleby, 53 years of age, owner of a billiard room, admitted to United States District Judge James yesterday that he had received morphine by air mail from New York and that he was in possession of a small quantity of the drug when arrested by Federal narcotic agents.

While Middleby did not plead guilty, he was found guilty upon his own admissions to the court. He said he had used drugs about fifteen years and is anxious to quit the habit. Time for passing of sentence was continued until the 24th inst.

COLLEGE MAKES APPEAL

Occidental College yesterday appealed to the City Council to establish a thirty-foot building line on the east side of Campus Road between Greek Theater Road and Campus Drive. It was referred to the City Planning Commission and City Planning Committee.

Council Rejects Howe Fund Plea

The plea of James Eads Howe, who has obtained considerable notoriety as the millionaire hobo, for an appropriation of $100,000 for the unemployed was denied yesterday by the City Council. Councilmen Randall and Williams, after an outburst of oratory, voted against the report of the Public Welfare Committee, which proposed to file the request. The report was adopted, 13 to 2.

Councilman Lewis characterized the matter as "a demand to turn over $100,000 of the taxpayers' money to a small, irresponsible group to divide among themselves."

COUNCILMEN CONFIRM MENN'S NOMINATION

The City Council yesterday confirmed Mayor Porter's nomination of William H. Menn as a member of the Board of Building and Safety Commissioners. Mr. Menn replaces former Commissioner Toms, who resigned.

LANDSLIDE INSPECTED BY COURT

Point Fermin Earth Slip Figures in Suit Brought Over Abandoned Lease

Municipal Judge Pope yesterday visited the Point Fermin earth slide in the case of J. P. Nash vs. the General Petroleum Corporation, the first litigation arising out of the seaward movement of the five-acre tract.

Nash, who before the crack developed, leased his corner to the oil company for a service station, contends the latter is liable for continuance of the lease regardless of the phenomenon. The defense holds that since the area has been condemned and closed by the Board of Public Works the corner cannot be used as a service station and that therefore, it is not liable. The company has moved its structure off the lot.

The question of whether the Board of Public Works was within its authority in closing the area is said to figure in the case also.

With Judge Pope on his inspection were Wilbur Bassett, attorney for Nash; W. L. Appleford, attorney for General Petroleum; S. E. Murphy, clerk of the court, and T. E. Bassett, surveyor for General Petroleum Corporation.

POOL TABLE CURB PLAN CONSIDERED

Council Refers Proposed Licensing Ordinance to Committee for Hearing

An ordinance which will require all owners of pool or billiard tables, even though they be located in private homes for the use of the family and guests, to obtain a permit from the Police Commission was submitted to the City Council yesterday, but was not passed. Instead, it was referred to the Police and Fire Committee for a hearing and report.

Councilman Martin, who appeared to be sponsoring the legislation, said persons desirous of operating pool halls evade the city ordinances by obtaining a State charter for a club and thus defy the Police Commission.

"I've heard of men who couldn't rake up the $1000 it took to get a permit from the Police Commission going to the State for a charter as a club," said Councilman Jacobson.

Martin suggested that if his colleague had such information he should take it to the proper authorities and Jacobson declared the present commission is all right. He referred to past commissions, he said.

Councilman Webster wanted to know if the ordinance includes private homes. He was told it does.

INQUEST ORDERED

An inquest has been ordered into the death of Mrs. Alice Mickler, 1013 Alma Street, who was fatally injured in a traffic accident last Tuesday night, for today at 2 p.m. at the Coroner's office. Mrs. Mickler died at the General Hospital about an hour after being struck by a car driven by Luis A. Luna at the intersection of Whittier Boulevard and Indiana street, according to a Sheriff's office report.

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

From the shadows of a tent Meriem and Baynes each gave a gasp of horror. They had come at the very moment the elephant rescued Korak. Quickly it had all happened and now bedlam reigned throughout the village. Men, women and children ran helter skelter for safety. Curs fled, yelping. The horses, camels and donkeys, terrorized at the trumpeting of the pachyderm, kicked and pulled at their tethers. A dozen or more broke loose.

The galloping horses gave Meriem an idea. Motioning Baynes to follow she led him to the far end of the village. Here she knew were kept always ready for use a few of the camp's fleetest steeds. Luck was with them, for they flung themselves into the saddles without hindrance. The shortest path to freedom led straight through the center of the village and this Meriem took, Baynes close behind her, their horses running at full speed.

So sudden and impetuous was their dash for escape that it carried them half-way across the village before the surprised inhabitants were aware of what was happening. Then an Arab recognized them and with a cry of alarm, fired his rifle. The shot was a signal for a volley. Amid the rattle of musketry Meriem and Baynes leaped their flying mounts through the breach in the palisade and were gone up the well-worn trail toward the north.

And Korak? Tantor carried him deep into the jungle. When no sound came from the distant village the elephant laid his burden gently down. Korak struggled to free himself from his bonds, but even his giant strength was unable to move the strands of hard-knotted cord. While he lay there, working and resting by turns, the elephant stood guard above him. Dawn came and still Korak was no nearer freedom than before. Was he to die of thirst and hunger?

Where Mary Hale Martin creates and serves her famous dishes

Here Libby's luscious California peaches are tried in many inviting recipes

The authentic air of early America in a dining room unusually gracious and inviting! A dining room specially built so that dishes made with Libby's 100 Foods may be served as they would be in a home. Here Mary Hale Martin, Libby's Home Economics Expert, entertains many distinguished guests, some of whom broadcast with her in her Wednesday morning radio talks

THOUSANDS of visitors, seeing the sights of Libby's Chicago plant, have stopped, surprised before the windows of this dining room. It is a charming discovery, this gracious room with its flavor of early America, here in the center of a great cannery.

And opening from the dining room, visitors see this modern kitchen, highly practical and efficient. It is the kitchen of Mary Hale Martin, Libby's Home Economics Expert, who is well known to housewives all over the country through her lectures, her many printed recipes, and, most of all, through her Wednesday morning radio talks.

These popular talks are broadcast right here, from this laboratory-kitchen, so that Miss Martin speaks to her immense audience directly from her own special environment.

In this kitchen, too, Miss Martin experiments with Libby's 100 Foods, creates and tests her famous recipes.

Then, in this delightful dining room, her dishes are served just as they would be in your own home—given the final test which makes Mary Hale Martin's recipes entirely practical for home use.

Think of it! A dining room built solely so that dishes made with Libby Foods may be served and tasted in the atmosphere of a charming home! Forethought and imagination carried further than most of us would dream of going.

Peach dishes tempting and unusual

Among the most inviting of the dishes tested here are those made with Libby's California Peaches—a fruit famous around the world, the choice of millions of particular housewives.

These women choose Libby's Peaches because they are so exquisitely firm-textured, yet so tender. Because they have the matchless flavor of fruit tree-ripened under the California sun. Because they are uniformly excellent; delightful to look at and to taste.

You can get Libby's California Peaches from your grocer. Ask him for a can today. And tune in on Mary Hale Martin's radio talks to hear about tempting new ways to serve these peaches and others of Libby's Foods. Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago.

To get choice varieties of all fruits: Hawaiian Pineapple, Bartlett Pears, Apricots, Plums, Cherries, etc. as well as Peaches, be sure to ask for Libby's.

TUNE IN ON THIS!

Every Tuesday evening at 5:30 over KECA—"Around the World with Libby" concert cruise.

Also Mary Hale Martin's Household Period, Wednesday mornings at 10:15 over KFI.

Through leaded casement windows, visitors to Libby, McNeill & Libby in Chicago get their first glimpse of all the interesting detail of this early American dining room. Corner cupboards hold graceful bits of china, burnished copper kettles, unusual old pewter pieces. Yorkshire maple chairs surround the trestle table . . . door hinges and hardware are hand forged wrought iron

Your grocer has Libby's California Peaches or can get them through Libby, McNeill & Libby's local branch

3 more Libby Foods that are served and tested here

In Mary Hale Martin's modern kitchen, tempting dishes are created with Libby's Foods—among them Libby's Catchup, full-flavored, with all the concentrated goodness of perfectly ripened tomatoes; Libby's Corned Beef, tender and gristle-free, delightfully mild and fine flavored; and Libby's delicate, exquisitely flavored Bartlett Pears.

HOSPITAL QUIZ PLAN REVEALED

County Institution Will Get Grand Jury Attention

Step Prompted by Request of Supervisor Shaw

Investigators to Delve Into Series of Charges

An intensive inquiry into the administration of the General Hospital will be made by the 1928 grand jury, Percy Hammon, deputy District Attorney in charge of grand jury matters, indicated yesterday. The investigation is prompted largely by the request of Frank Shaw, County Supervisor.

Among the matters to be investigated are charges of mismanagement, inefficiency and mistreatment of patients, many of which date back for several years.

Included in these charges are assertions of numerous citizens, that the bodies of deceased patients were cremated without consulting relatives, that patients have died while awaiting treatment for their injuries because of the red-tape involved in gaining admission to the hospital and that several charity patients have been subjected to operations of an experimental nature.

Before the matter goes before the grand jury, Supervisor Shaw is expected to confer with Dist.-Atty. Fitts regarding the general situation at the county hospital.

Although the grand jury will be in session today, it is not considered probable that the General Hospital matter will be brought up for investigation at that time.

Large Judgment Given to McFate

A judgment of $35,000 was awarded to Joseph N. McFate, Jr., yesterday by a jury at the close of his law suit against H. Lew Zuckerman and S. E. Gordon wherein he asserted that he was defrauded when he traded his ranch at San Luis Obispo for the Knickerbocker apartment-house. The case was tried before Superior Judge Archbald.

McFate was represented by Attorneys Troy Pace, R. H. Purdue and Burton Crane.

Howard Spellman and the Merchants' National Trust and Savings Bank, also were named as defendants, but the action was dismissed.

OLD MISSION WILL BOAST NEW GARDEN

Natives of California Plan Restoration and Will Have Benefit at San Gabriel

The Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West of Los Angeles have taken in charge the restoration of the beautiful old garden at the San Gabriel Mission. Memory Garden will be dedicated in honor of the pioneers mothers of the Golden State, according to the suggestion last year of Dr. Louise C. Heilbron, Past Grand President of the Native Daughters.

Memory Garden chairmen were appointed in each parlor and the project finally was adopted by the Native Sons and Daughters jointly. In order to raise the necessary funds the Mission Play Corporation at San Gabriel has offered the Playhouse to the Native Sons and Native Daughters for the night of Saturday, the 15th inst., retaining from the receipts only the amount of expenses.

Many persons have donated all necessary materials and shrubbery, while the architects have provided the plans gratis. The money raised from the Mission Play performance will be used for labor, about three months being required to lay out the plats.

STATE OFFICIALS WILL JOIN IN PARLEY TODAY

J. P. Mispley, State Purchasing Agent; Arthur Mathews, chief of the Division of Service and Supplies, and Lowell Smith, assistant State Purchasing Agent, are scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles today to meet with the Machinery Dealers' Association, The Metal Trades Association and the Automobile Dealers' Association relative to mutual problems. The officials will also confer with the Bureau of Domestic Trades of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in connection with plans to increase the State's purchases in Southern California.

ART LECTURE ANNOUNCED

"What Shall We Consider Art to Be?" is the subject of the first in a series of ten lectures on art to be given by Schwankovsky under the auspices of the Manual Arts Evening High School. It will be given at 7 o'clock next Tuesday in Room 265, English Hall, Forty-second street and Vermont avenue. Other lectures are scheduled for the 15th and 25th inst., and April 1, 8, 22, 29, May 6 and 13. All will be illustrated.

RAILROAD SHIELD ON HIS OVERALLS

Buddy Blanchard

When a regular boy gets dolled-up in a pair of regular overalls he looks like Buddy Blanchard. Buddy has a new pair of overalls manufactured by the Lee Overall Company and it is the first pair carrying the shield of the Union Pacific System, used by special permission of President Carl R. Gray, of the railroad.

Young Blanchard is the son of Howard B. Blanchard, secretary to Mr. Gray.

Los Angeles County Vote Now 561,497

Registration of county voters now totals 561,497, Registrar of Voters Kerr announced yesterday. Of this total 307,142 represent registrations in the city of Los Angeles and 254,355 in territory outside of the city.

City registrations are classified as follows: Republican, 205,433; Democratic, 66,462; Socialist, 2039; Prohibition, 2897; declines to state, 30,246, and miscellaneous, 245.

County classifications are Republican, 173,005; Democratic, 53,358; Socialist, 1348; Prohibition, 4596; declines to state, 22,739, and miscellaneous, 309.

The registration books will close April 19 and will not be reopened until after the special municipal election set for May 20.

Court Delays Sentencing of Mrs. Blackburn

Sentence of May Otis Blackburn, leader of the Divine Order of the Royal Arms of the Great Eleven, who recently was convicted of grand theft, was continued until the 13th inst. by Superior Judge Fricke yesterday.

The continuance was granted to permit Defense Attorney Thomas W. Cochran to prepare arguments for a new trial. Dept. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson, who prosecuted the case, will oppose the motion.

Mrs. Blackburn was convicted of stealing funds amounting to approximately $40,000, contributed to the religious order by Clifford R. Dabney.

Council Hears About Coliseum

The Board of Public Works yesterday notified the City Council that the contract has been awarded for the reconstruction of the Coliseum, and that a bid has been made for the construction of additional seating capacity at a cost of $454,274.24, and asking the pleasure of the Council as to proceeding with the extra work. The Council referred it to the Finance Committee.

HIGHWAY VICTIM DIES AND INQUEST ORDERED

Carl A. Lundgren, 74 years of age, died yesterday morning at the Hermosa-Redondo Hospital as the result of injuries received the previous day when he was struck by a projecting board from a truck operated by Fred E. Oder, 211 Emerald street, Redondo, according to Sheriff's office reports. Lundgren, who lived at 5302 Redondo-Riverside Drive, was injured while pushing a wheelbarrow along the road at Hawthorne and Redondo-Riverside boulevards. An inquest into his death is scheduled for 10 a.m. today at the Cate funeral parlors, Redondo.

LAST RITES TOMORROW FOR JOSEPH M. EVANS

The funeral for Joseph M. Evans, Los Angeles church worker and member of Eagle Rock Lodge, No. 422, F. and A.M., will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Rosewood Methodist Church, 501 North New Hampshire street, of which he was secretary, under the direction of the Ruppe Mortuary. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. Evans was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., and came to Los Angeles twenty-four years ago. He resided at 579 North Vermont avenue. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Maud A. Evans; two nieces, Mrs. Evelyn Sample and Mrs. Donas Sample McDonald.

PLEA DENIED FOR JULIAN OIL DAMAGE

Appeals Court Sustains Demurrer on Action for $67,500 on Drilling

With Justice Thompson dissenting, Division Two, District Court of Appeal, yesterday handed down an opinion sustaining a demurrer to the suit of Garland P. Fallis and Nellie E. Hamilton for $67,500 damages against the Julian Petroleum Corporation. Justice Craig and Presiding Justice Works affirmed the lower-court decision, given by Superior Judge Schmidt.

It was stated that the plaintiffs leased property in the Athens oil fields to the Courtney Petroleum Company in 1925. The contract, it was set forth, provided that drilling should go to a depth of 5200 feet. The Courtney company was said to have drilled 4518 feet and then assigned the lease to the Julian concern, which drilled to 4662 feet and then abandoned the well.

Contention was made that the oil and gas were drained away by other wells near by. The majority opinion held that the profits involved were wholly prospective, speculative and conjectural, and could not be collected. Justice Thompson held that evidence should have been admitted on the ground that testimony of experts to show the amount of damage is admissible.

Attorney Harold P. Morton, representing the plaintiffs, said that the decision ends the case, inasmuch as the Courtney company is no longer in existence.

ISLAND SUIT NO PERIL TO INDUSTRIES

Companies Not Affected by Mormon Title Action, Port Manager Declares

Fears of numerous industrial interests on Mormon Island that the Harbor Department's suit to quiet title on a disputed portion of that area would jeopardize their interests were allayed last night by statements by Burt Edwards, port manager, and Hancock Banning, Jr. Mr. Edwards's statement follows:

"As to the suit which is pending between this department and the Banning estate to quiet title to certain parcels on Mormon Island, I wish to state that no industry other than the Pacific Coast Borax Company will be affected in any way."

The suit, based on location of certain high-tide lines on February 10, 1852, when the government granted the Mormon Island area to William Banning, disputes title to only the property now occupied by the Pacific Coast Borax Company, added Mr. Edwards, and has no bearing on other areas in the island occupied by oil companies and other interests.

Mr. Banning said that while his conference last Tuesday with Mr. Edwards and other Harbor Department officials was about Mormon Island leasehold affairs, it did not concern the suit to quiet title. The Banning estate yesterday compiled a statement, explaining that the position of industrial interests on Mormon Island is completely secure, and that the matter now in litigation is being handled by Joseph B. Banning, Jr.

Screen Colony Pair Penalized on Income Tax

Two members of the motion-picture colony yesterday were fined in the court of United States District Judge James upon pleading guilty to charges of failure to pay the full amount of their income taxes for 1927.

Sam Taylor, film director, was fined $400. In addition, it was stated in court by internal revenue agents, he paid a tax of $4394 and $3197 in penalties, making a total of $8891.

Ben Bard, actor, it was stated, had paid $860.61 tax and a penalty of $430.31, making a total of $1290.92. He was fined $250 and given ninety days in which to pay the fine.

Fitts Aide Given State Bar Honor

Wayne E. Jordan, assistant chief deputy District Attorney, has been appointed member of the Unlawful Practice Committee of the California State Bar Association, according to an announcement made by officials of the association yesterday.

This is the first time that a member of the Los Angeles District Attorney's office has been appointed a member of that committee, it is asserted.

The announcement was made by Charles A. Beardsley, president of the State Bar Association.

ANCIENT BROOCH LOST IN THEFT

Heirloom Reported as Taken From Home of Woman on Figueroa Street

A cameo brooch engraved with the portrait of Mary Queen of Scots was obtained by a burglar from the home of Mrs. Clara Dauthin at 3436 South Figueroa street early yesterday morning, according to Mrs. Dauphin's report to police. The profile is surrounded by forty-two pearls. Because of its age and history as a family heirloom the brooch is considered priceless.

BULLET PIERCES HIS TROUSERS

But Leonard Lee Isn't in 'Em and Bullet Whizzes by Him in Bedroom

Who fired a bullet through the trousers of Leonard Lee, 138 South Ditman street, last Monday night is a problem with which deputy sheriffs are confronted. Lee explained to officers yesterday, however, that the trousers were hanging on the foot of his bed. After piercing the garment the bullet hit a rail at the head of the bed, glanced off and embedded itself in the wall. Lee stated it was fired through the bedroom window. He exhibited the bullet.

LAW'S HAND HANGS OVER DOG KILLER

Prosecutor Nix Promises Poisoner's Case Will be Given Grand Jury Today

Arrest and prosecution of the dog poisoner who has been operating in the western part of the city and Pasadena recently was promised yesterday by City Prosecutor Nix, who declared that he will place his information before the grand jury today. The poisoner, according to Nix, has been identified as a former police officer.

Investigators Horn and Summerkill, who have been working on the case for more than a week, declare they have records of poison sales made by drug stores to the suspect, descriptions of whom have been furnished by owners of valuable dogs which have been poisoned.

The offense, a felony under the Penal Code, is punishable by three years in State prison.

Apprehensive children in the vicinity of 2003 Vista Del Mar yesterday notified Hollywood police that an elderly woman was tossing dog-biscuits on neighboring lawns. Anticipating capture of Hollywood's elusive dog-poisoner, Detective Lieutenants Raihbun and Specht hurried to the scene. They found the suspect and questioned her.

"I love dogs," she told them. "I have a dog of my own. And there's a poor, stray police dog around here every day—and I simply wanted to feed him—that's all!"

Although they did not hold her for further questioning, the detectives, nevertheless, delivered samples of the biscuits to Police Chemist Welch for analysis.

Unannounced Trip to Europe Her Grievance

Frederick Abram Mathews failed to advise his wife of a trip to Europe he contemplates making next summer, according to the divorce suit of Mrs. Ednah B. Mathews, on file yesterday. He also neglected her and called her names, she says.

Because Mathews is asserted to control $225,000 community property, some of it money on deposit, two banks, the Security-First National and the Bank of Italy, are named codefendants.

The couple have been married fifteen years. Mrs. Mathews asks $600 a month alimony.

Bullets Re-echo Love Swan Song

Learning from publication in newspapers that her "boy friend" had taken out a license to marry her sister, Mrs. Pearl Decuir, 22-year-old negress, took her father's pistol and shot her lover five times, witnesses called by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman in Municipal Judge Turney's court yesterday declared.

Mrs. Decuir was ordered held under $5000 bail to await trial by Superior Court on charges of assault with intent to commit murder.

Three Pass Test for New Position

Civil service examination for the new position of Los Angeles fire prevention engineer of the fire department resulted in the following three passing, according to the list approved by the Civil Service Commission yesterday:

Capt. Victor E. Pierret, grade 82.7; Capt. William H. Tibbetts, grade 76.7, and Charles H. Roraback, grade 75. Pierret organized the fire prevention bureau of the department fifteen years ago.

The names will be certified by the commission next Tuesday.

EL MONTE SUICIDE'S IDENTITY LEARNED

The body of a man who was reported by Sheriff's office investigators to have committed suicide by lying on the track in front of an approaching train late Tuesday was identified last night as that of Daniel O. Boone, 3929 East Percy street. Identification was made by Boone's son-in-law, A. R. Taylor, of the same address. Boone, according to J. R. Layton, fireman of the Union Pacific, placed his head on the track as the train bore down on him near Hillgrove, a short distance from El Monte.

W.C.T.U. MEETS TODAY

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Angelus Temple will have an all-day rally in Echo Park today beginning at 10 a.m. in honor of the second anniversary of the union. A program will be given in the school auditorium at 2 p.m. Mrs. Minnie Kennedy will give the closing address. State officers will be present.

CURB SOUGHT ON MENACE IN GASOLINE TRANSPORT

Four recent grade-crossing accidents involving trains and trucks and trailers containing gasoline figured in a State Railroad Commission hearing yesterday before Commissioner Louttit, at which an investigation was conducted into proposed safety rules and operating regulations governing carriers using public highways.

After it had been pointed out that in each case the gasoline became ignited, that in some cases death or injury resulted, and that in all the cases a hazardous situation was presented, the suggestion was advanced that transportation of gasoline, acids and other explosives in trailers be prohibited. Opposition was expressed on the ground that such prohibition would cause a considerable increase in shipping costs.

It also was suggested that all carriers, whether transporting passengers or freight, be required to stop at grade crossings regardless of whether the crossings are protected by wigwags.

Another suggestion was advanced that all carriers be required to install powered windshield wipers of the full width of the windshields.

Representatives of all Southern California stage companies and of leading oil concerns were present. The information accumulated, together with the expressions of opinion, will be forwarded to the commission for such action as it wishes to take.

Stabbing Leads to Murder Trial

Charlie T. Vallier, 1612 East Thirty-third street, must stand trial for murder in Superior Court as a result of the death of Elijah Wade, 1230 East Fifty-first street, from a knife wound received during a quarrel over a pool game, Municipal Judge Russell ordered yesterday. Both men are negroes.

Witnesses declared that Wade, who died in a hospital on the 3rd inst., was stabbed in the chest with a penknife by Vallier on February 15, last, in front of a pool room at 2229 Central avenue. They had been betting on a pool game. County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner testified that Wade's death was due to pneumonia following the stab wound.

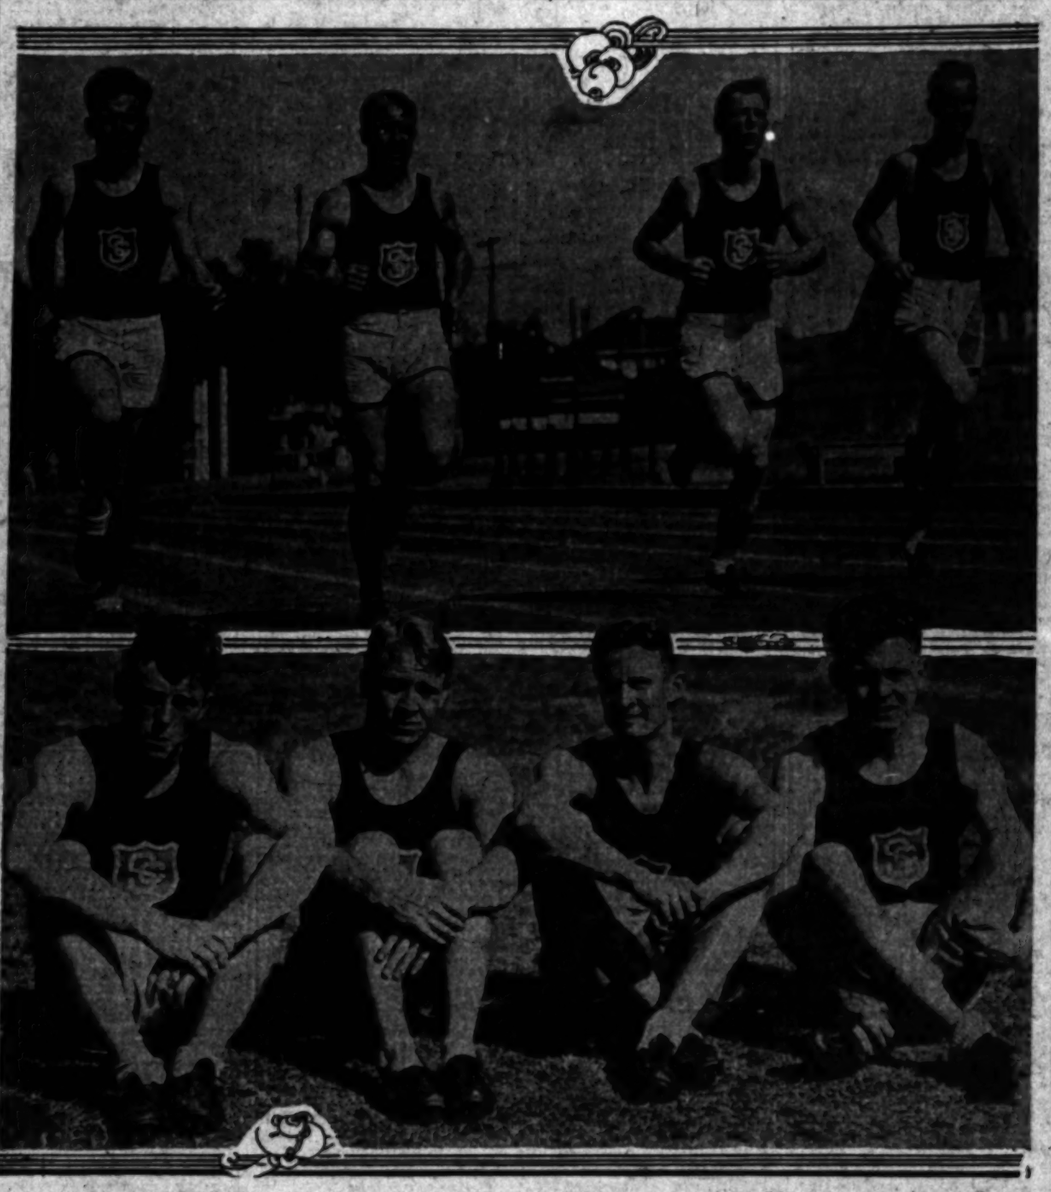
FOUR OF THE COUNTRY'S FASTEST CITIZENS

Here are a couple of views, sh "action" and a "still" of four of the fastest cinder athletes in the country, all of whom are wearing the Cardinal and Gold of the University of Southern California. There may be schools which can boast faster individual stars, but nowhere else is there such a talented array of sprinters. In action, left to right, are Frank Wykoff, Weldon Draper, Maurice Guyer and Milton Maurer. All except Draper, were members of the sprint relay team which won honors at Denver in the A.A.U. meet last summer. Below are Guyer, Draper, Maurer and Wykoff in repose. This quartet has designs on the 440 relay record of 41s., and will make its first attempt at a new mark at Long Beach Saturday in the A.A.U. relays.



HARPER TAKES FIRST WORKOUT

Holdout Gets Into Uniform After Chat With Prexy

Pitcher Art Delaney Signs 1930 Seraph Contract

Brandt Impresses Lelivelt With Fielding Ability

BY BOB RAY

The Angels' holdout ranks are rapidly reaching the vanishing point. Another Seraph holdout's foot slipped yesterday, when George Harper, the heavy-hitting outfielder, obtained from the Boston Braves in the Walter Berger deal, had a talk with President Joe Patrick and then promptly got in a uniform to take part in his first workout of the spring training season.

Evidently Patrick and Harper arrived at some sort of a settlement in the latter's salary claim during their short session together and George is expected to put his name on the dotted line any day now.

Harper, who is expected to play right field and wield a wicked war club for the Angels this season, announced that he believes everything will be all right between him and the Angels and that he expects to round into shape in a hurry. The former big league flychaser took it easy yesterday, merely engaging in a warm-up pepper game and then chasing a few fungoes in the outfield.

Before Harper decided to starting working out, Art Delaney, the big right-hander who also came from the Braves, went up to the Angel offices and signed his 1930 contract. The signing of Delaney leaves only Harper and Catcher Bill Skiff out of the fold and Angel officials aren't worried about Harper now.

Skiff, the catcher purchased from Jersey City, evidently is going to stick to his story that he won't sign for the money offered him, but Prexy Patrick isn't at all worried. Patrick says that Skiff can take the contract or leave it and leaving

AMATEUR-PRO PLAY PLANNED

Fastest Growing City Busy Raising Rich Purse

Enters Midwinter Schedule of Tournaments

Oakmont Selected for First Annual Links Event

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Glendale, firmly established as America's fastest growing community, now desires recognition as America's fastest growing golf center.

According ly, officials of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, yesterday announced that plans for a $3500 Glendale open golf championship are progressing rapidly. Definite announcement will be made as soon as arrangements are completed for financing the event, which will be a part of the Southern California's annual midwinter golf program.

The Oakmont Country Club course, which has been groomed until it compares favorably with the finest tests of golf in Southern California, has been selected for the tournament, or rather tournaments. Tentative proposals have favored three days of competition with two events, a $1000 amateur-professional event of eighteen holes similar to the popular San Gabriel Country Club tournament staged annually, followed by the open carrying a purse of $2500.

The open tourney will be fifty-four holes medal.

Glendale officials have benefited by the successful financing of the national professional championship at Hillcrest last December, and are raising money by the sale of $5 season tickets. So far this has gone over exceptionally well, and prospects are bright that the necessary moneys will be collected within a short period of time.

The Glendale championship will be a welcome addition to the midwinter program. Tournaments practically assured for

WILL BATTLE TROJAN FIVE

First Title Series Game Tomorrow Night

Barry Works Charges Hard for Loop Play-off

Frosh Batter Varsity With Husky Formations

BY RALPH HUSTON

Not a bit superstitious, and highly confident over their chances, the University of Washington basketball team is due here this morning aboard the Padre at 9:45 for its conference championship series with the University of Southern California, which gets under way tomorrow night at the Olympia Auditorium.

Coach Hec Edmundson is bringing ten players for the annual title series, and Forrest Twogood, Trojan frosh coach, who scouted the Huskies in their final series with Oregon, declares the visitors could win by using only five men. Three more members in the party bring the total to thirteen, but Edmundson thinks the number a lucky one.

The players due today are Hank Swanson, Jiggs Jaloff, Virgin Perry and Ned Nelson, forwards; Stock McClary and Gene Rutherford, centers; Hal West, Art Peterson, Ralph Cairney and Ernie Gritsch, guards; Edmundson, Student Manager Morrie Balcom and Trainer Earl Clark are accompanying the squad.

BARRY ANXIOUS

Sam Barry, coach of the Trojan quintet, isn't at all satisfied with the looks of his squad. "I think the defense will be satisfactory, and as far as tossing the ball in the bucket, the boys are as good as ever," Barry announced yesterday. "But their handling of the ball is terrible. The week's vacation I gave them seems to have spoiled their eyes entirely, and I've never seen so much fumbling. If we don't get better organized before Friday night, we're in for a good trimming."

Barry has been drilling his cohorts against Washington plays, with the frosh squad, city champions, using the Husky formations. The yearlings have been scoring with uncanny accuracy. Under the Husky system, two men are sent down on each side of the court,

BUSY WEEK IN TRACK

Trojans, Mercuries Hook Up in Final Events on A.A.U. Program; Bruins Face Sagehens

BY BRAVEN DYER

This is a busy week in track-and-field circles. Down at Long Beach the interrupted A.A.U. relays will be staged Saturday afternoon, this competition featuring the University of Southern California and L.A.A.C. teams, plus a smattering of junior college athletes and perhaps some Southern California Conference frosh squads.

Regularly scheduled meets will keep such teams as Pomona, Occidental, Caltech, Redlands and San Diego from taking part in the Long Beach affair. This is unfortunate, but unavoidable. Long Beach officials, being in a tough spot due to the weather, were forced to postpone the affair a week ago last Saturday, and this coming Saturday is virtually the only date available, even though it means the absence of the teams named.

Mercuries and Trojans should make it an exciting afternoon, however, and fans who take in the meet will undoubtedly get their money's worth. Most of the high-school events were completed on the original date, while only two open events were finished. Although no official word from Long Beach officials has been received, it said that all the open-field events will be staged, including the shot put which was won by Herman Britz last week. There is also a report that an invitational 100-yard dash is to be included on the revamped program.

PICKS TROJANS

The meet will afford Dean Cromwell a line on his Trojans for the all-important affair with Stanford here on April 12. In some of the relay events the L.A.A.C. runners have enough class to make the collegians hurry, but for the most part Southern California should gallop away with first-place medals.

Long Beach officials, with an eye to the Olympic Games, are very much interested in all types of athletic events and it was this interest that prompted them to take over the A.A.U. relays this year. It was unfortunate that they suffered a tough weather break in their first

MISS MARION HOLLINS IN GOLF WIN AT DEL MONTE

DEL MONTE, March 5. (AP)—Favorites had an easy time of it in today's round of the Pebble Beach women's golf championship, all winning with ease from their less experienced opponents.

Miss Marion Hollins still remains the favorite in the upper bracket, while Mrs. Gregg Lifur occupies a similar position in the lower half.

In today's match, Miss Hollins defeated Miss Hermine Wocker of San Francisco, 3 and 2. Miss Wocker made a determined battle of it on the outgoing nine, holding the former national women's champion even, but faltered and lost coming in.

Tomorrow Miss Hollins will have a tougher battle when she meets Miss Barbara Lee of Oakland, who won the San Francisco municipal women's title several years ago while a co-ed at Stanford. Miss Lee romped in a 7-and-5 winner against Mrs. O. S. Burnette today.

The best match of tomorrow's quarter-final round is expected to be that between Helen Lawson of Hollywood and Mrs. Brent Potter, San Jose. Miss Lawson defeated Mrs. A. W. Clapp of St. Paul, Minn.,

RUMLER, HOLLERSON JOIN STARS

Hard-Hitting Outfielder and Regular Hurler Check in at San Diego Camp; Vitt Looks Over Rookie Twirlers; Six Hollywooders Still on List of Missing

SAN DIEGO, March 5.—Rain of last night softened up Navy Field but it did not keep the Hollywood club from getting a fair workout today. Actually the light day proved most agreeable to the players, who were beginning to feel just a bit stiffened up after two days of activity.

Oscar Vitt postponed today's workout until shortly after 1 o'clock and then had the full squad out for about two hours of limbering-up work. No infield practice could be staged but the pitchers got plenty of chance to limber up and the outfielders had a workout as well.

Vitt spent considerable time with the young pitchers. James R. Turner, obtained from the Piedmont League, and Glen Brown, with Independence last season, Frank Johnson and Joe Sullivan, recruits, were the group. Turner and Brown are looked upon as being good prospects. Both had good seasons in 1929 and are strapping youngsters.

George Hollerson, regular pitcher last season, and Bill Rumler, veteran outfielder, joined the throng in camp today. That leaves but six players still to be heard from, A. E. Pallas, recruit pitcher, Hensel Hulvey, regular hurler; Vance Page, pitcher purchased from Durham; Emil Yde, regular pitcher obtained from Detroit; Henry Severeid, regular catcher, and Mickey Heath, first baseman. All are reported on their way to camp except Pallas, who is detained in Hollywood owing to illness in his family.

The missing players are expected in camp any time now. Owner Lane said all have taken up their transportation forwarded prior to the opening of camp and all are signed.

With the first exhibition game with the Seattle club but three days off, Vitt plans stiff workouts for tomorrow and Friday in order to get his infield combination shaped up. Pitching will be the big problem as none of the hurlers has gotten around to throwing a hard one as yet.

San Gabriel, Los Angeles Win Southern California Interclub Team Championships

FLINTRIDGE IN DEFEAT, 8 TO 1

Mission Club Golfers Trim Bel-Air, 5-4

Beverly Hills Team Defends Bryce Trophy

Rancho Powerful Rival for Play-off Laurels

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Crushing Flintridge, 8 to 1, in the final match of the season, the Los Angeles Country Club's eighteen-man team yesterday won the interclub championship of group seven, and will defend the Peter Cooper Bryce trophy in the play-off to follow.

GEORGE VON ELM

Los Angeles won the Southern California championship in 1928 with a team headed by George (Jiz) Von Elm by defeating El Caballero, and retained the title last year with a victory over Flintridge.

Rancho, with one of the strongest teams ever banded together in the Southland, is expected to give Los Angeles its chief opposition in the play-off. Rancho this year has Von Elm as a member of its team, as it did in 1927, when the Pico Boulevard club annexed the crown. Von Elm is a life member of both the Rancho and Los Angeles clubs.

A check-up of points for the season gives Los Angeles first place by a large margin with 44 digits, Flintridge finished in second place with 30, and Annandale and Wilshire tied for last place with 17.

The winners of the eight divisions will meet in the play-off, which will be announced shortly.

Individual results of the Los Angeles-Flintridge match follow:

Jim Bermudez and Bud Yonkum (F.) defeated Harley Hurley and Johnny Arnett (L.) 4 and 3.

Tim Palmer and Ed Pancoast (L.A.) defeated Ben Freeman and Frank Richardson (F.) 1 up.

C. Cutting and J. W. Roberts (L.A.) defeated Bill Feverster and Al Mahe (F.) 3 up.

Everett Seaver and Phil Perry (L.A.) defeated Maury McLaughlin and Claude Sloan (F.) 4 and 3.

William Lee Warner and Frank Tatum (L.A.) defeated Stan Mitchell and Hunter Glenne (F.) 4 and 3.

George K. Lewis and E. K. Brown (L.A.) defeated Eric Winston and Hall Moore (F.) 4 and 3.

F. W. Clark and Clem Sweet (L.A.) defeated Paul Reynolds and Lee Collin (F.) 4 and 3.

C. B. Jackson and Fred Lockwood (L.A.) defeated Bill Salisbury and Dick Lockwood (F.) 4 and 3.

John Wesley and W. Tate (L.A.) defeated Fred Bennet and Jack Pratt (F.) 3 up.

SAN GABRIEL IN CLOSE VICTORY

San Gabriel won the championship of group two in the interclub team competition yesterday by defeating Bel-Air on the latter's course, 5 to 4. The Mission Club golfers nosed out Midwick for the title by a bare two points.

The results:

Wesley Nash and Rod Hauser (S.G.) defeated W. Wood and George H. Holstein, Jr. (B.-A.) 2 and 1.

F. L. Shipley and R. L. Corfman (B.-A.) defeated Al McDonald and Sam Dalzell (S.G.) 4 and 3.

Dick Neidenreich and R. Schmidt (S.G.) defeated J. S. Gore and Earl Harter (B.-A.) 4 and 3.

F. Conder and R. Fitzgerald (S.G.) defeated F. C. Porter and Dr. C. K. Hartley (B.-A.) 4 and 3.

A. Burnap and J. E. Sain (B.-A.) defeated S. Muhlfeld and R. Aberseat (S.G.) 3 and 2.

J. E. Hall and Dr. A. C. MacLeish (B.-A.) defeated Phil Gough and Tames Schramm (S.G.) 4 and 3.

Dr. O. Cook and C. Kellogg (S.G.) defeated F. E. Bell and Ray Thomas (B.-A.) 1 up.

C. C. Lester and F. Olsen (S.G.) defeated C. A. Werns and H. G. Hubbard (B.-A.) 5 and 4.

J. E. Burnett and J. E. Storey (B.-A.) defeated F. Bear and A. Fuller (S.G.) 1 up, 19 holes.

MIDWICK DEFEATS LAKESIDE, 6-3

Midwick cinched second place in group two of the interclub team match league yesterday by defeating Lakeside at Lakeside, 6 to 3. San Gabriel won in this division with a total of 33 points, Midwick finished with 31, Lakeside was third with 25 and Bel-Air wound up in the cellar with 15.

The results:

Bob Hunter and G. F. Toms (M.) defeated Bob Beckman and Max Bohr (L.) 2 up.

Herb Perrin and Homer Ralt (M.) defeated E. J. Clark and H. E. Luxford (L.) 7 up, 6 to play.

A. A. Bryant and Eric Pedley (M.) lost to George Marshall and Alan Hale (L.) 1 up.

Alex McDonald and J. F. Rhoden (M.) defeated George Trumbley and Frank Berger (L.) 3 and 2.

Dr. O. Leighton and A. B. Young (M.) defeated L. K. Pattison and Buntley Gordon (L.) 1 up.

L. M. Barnes and C. W. Fairbanks (M.) defeated L. M. Thomas and E. F. Brown (L.) 4 and 3.

C. E. Brennan and Frank Hunter (M.) defeated R. J. Steger and Dana Bennett (L.) 4 and 3.

J. L. Motherhead and C. F. Black (M.) lost to T. A. Edwards and F. D. Lansdon (L.) 1 up, 19 holes.

A. L. Bourne and Dick Hinckley (M.) lost to T. Ray Barnes and Wally Lohman (L.) 1 up, 19 holes.

ANNANDALE TRIMS WILSHIRE, 7-2

Annandale trounced Wilshire, 7 to 2, in a final match of group six yesterday and tied Wilshire for third place with 17 points.

The results:

George Rich and H. M. Burnsky (A.) defeated Norman Macbeth and Howard Rathe (W.) 4 and 3.

F. E. Charles and George Bent (A.) defeated Frank Talent and Ward Blackburn (W.) 4 and 3.

T. W. Lincoln and J. L. Oertel (A.) lost to George Bavin and Joe Kelly (W.) 7 and 5.

John Victor and D. M. Stearns (A.) defeated Frank Harris and George Lockwood (W.) 1 up.

John Hamilton and E. S. Rendell (A.) defeated Elmer Ralph and John Bowditch (W.) 3 and 2.

F. W. Burnsky and Joe Hixon (A.) defeated J. A. Crawford and W. R. Allen (W.) 4 and 3.

Van Johnstone and J. J. Doran (A.) defeated Walter Ralph and O. W. Butler (W.) 3 up.

C. E. Chestnut and W. W. Lothead (A.) defeated Art Moser and Pat Patterson (W.) 4 and 3.

W. D. Woodard and J. M. Stehman (A.) defeated Wilshire ninth team by default.

CALIFORNIA DEFEATS BRENTWOOD, 7 to 2

California finished second in group six of Southern California's interclub team match competition yesterday by defeating Brentwood, 7 to 2, in a final match. Playing over their home course, the California golfers dropped only two matches, one on the eighteenth and one on the nineteenth green. California won both matches played with Brentwood, defeating the Santa Monica golfers, 3 to 4, in a match played last week.

The results:

Fay Coleman and Guy Reazen (C.) defeated Noah Gaines and Chuck Ward (S.) 3 and 2.

L. E. Robertson and Leslie Coleman (C.) defeated J. C. Perrin and Spencer Harmon (B.) 3 and 2.

Cliff Buck and Dr. D. P. O'Keefe (C.) lost to R. W. Kirby and J. A. Ross (B.) 1 up.

Dick Schuster and P. J. Baxter (C.) lost to George Summers and R. Young (B.) 1 up.

Frank Dunn and J. M. Feldman (C.) defeated Clarence Humble and F. P. Arnold (B.) 4 and 3.

R. S. Walton and Dr. W. Potter (C.) defeated Les Mann and Hal Knight (B.) 5 and 4.

F. S. Hunt and Cloyd Marshall (C.) defeated C. F. Platt and W. L. Beckley (B.) 2 and 1.

C. E. Chaney and V. S. Hunt (C.) defeated F. T. Scott and C. W. Hall (B.) 3 and 2.

GLENDALE PLANS $3500 TOURNEY

the winter program in addition to the annual Los Angeles $10,000 open, are the Pasadena open, Long Beach open, Catalina open, San Gabriel amateur-pro, and Agua Caliente $25,000 open.

PARAMOUNT GOLFERS TO STAGE TOURNAMENT

Eighteen golfers of the Paramount studios will play eighteen golfers of the United Artists studios in an interstudio tournament next Sunday. Last Sunday more than seventy-five players from the Paramount studios participated in a tournament played at Sunset Fields. The Paramount tournament committee includes Harry Thompson, William F. Boyd, Art Smith, Cody Crowder and A. C. Halphide.

WESTWOOD GOLFERS COP PUBLIC COURSE TITLE

Westwood, with a total of 31½ points, was yesterday announced as the winner of the Public Golf Course League championship. Pasadena finished in second place with 24 points, Sunset Fields, 21; Santa Monica, 7½; Long Beach, 61, and Montebello Park, 66.

Marvin Clawson, Sunset Fields pro, announced yesterday that a banquet will be held Tuesday evening at the Santa Monica Athletic Club. Members of all golf teams are invited and trophies will be awarded at that time. The dinner is set for 8 o'clock.

RANCHO ANNEXES INTERCLUB TITLE

Although no results were turned in, it is surmised that Rancho defeated Hollywood, 9 to 6, yesterday. Rancho won the title of group six with 49 points, the largest number garnered by any of the thirty-two teams competing throughout the Southland.

TROJAN NET SQUAD INVADES BERKELEY

BERKELEY, March 5. (Exclusive)

The University of California's potential national intercollegiate doubles championship duo, Doll Muehlleisen and Bob Muench, will experience their first genuinely stiff competition of the season Friday afternoon when the University of Southern California sends its strong team here for a dual meet.

Coach Ray Grismer will pit Muehlleisen against Jack De Lara and Muench against Bob Gates in the singles combat. In the first doubles match, Muehlleisen and Muench will compete with De Lara and Gates. In the second doubles match Grismer intends to send Capt. Martin McKee and Lloyd "Brick" Budge after Harold Barr and Art Flum.

JINX DEALS BLOW TO TOM GALLERY

Tom Gallery's squash-handball jinx at the Hollywood Athletic Club yesterday eliminated him from tournament play for the fourth time.

He defeated Herman Prisseke, 21-16, 3-21, 21-16, in a quarter-final match, only to discover in the dressing-room that when he turned his left ankle it had been so seriously injured as to eliminate him from future play.

Other results:

Les Klawiter defeated Frank Wagner, 21-11, 21-8. Chet Cooper defeated Johnny Mack Brown, 14-21, 21-8, 21-16. Herman Prisseke defeated Maxwell Stiles, 19-21, 21-19, 21-11. Harold Hopper defeated Frank Dumond, 21-8, 21-11.

JUNIOR OLYMPIC GAMES Training Tips

BY SIG R. NYLANDER
Advisory Board Junior Olympic Games

Junior Olympic Games student executives have an important job set out for themselves in carrying on the games program in the respective schools or playgrounds with which they are affiliated. Each of these executives should realize and assume this responsibility throughout the season.

One of the first duties of the student executives is to see that all boys in the school eligible for competition in the Junior Olympic Games turn out for it. Boys who work after school are not necessarily eliminated from competition in the games for they may get in their training at other times and need only be present for the final school meet.

Next, the student executive should see that all of the boys have been properly classified and that each boy knows his coefficient and also how to figure his scores. A preliminary meet should be held as soon as possible in order that the boys may become familiar with the events and also note their progress as the season advances.

Registration cards should be sent for, filled out by the boys and returned to the Junior Olympic Games committee as soon as possible. Names of boys competing should be posted with coefficients and the local paper kept advised of the boys' progress as well as a weekly report sent to the committee in the Times Building.

Preliminary meets should be held on specified days so that progress may be watched and weaknesses checked. Weekly scores may be secured by running off one event a day and then the entire week's program analyzed.

Executives should see that these programs are carried out. Also check up with the boys who fail to continue their work each week.

A definite date for the final school or playground meet should be set for sometime in April and arrangements be made for running this meet off as smoothly and with as much dispatch as possible.

Helpful suggestions for these meets will be given in these columns from time to time.

Clippings from the various newspapers regarding the progress of the Junior Olympic Games should be posted on the school bulletin board together with the junior and senior scoring tables.

You have a lot of responsibility, student executives, but we feel certain that you will carry it through successfully; otherwise you wouldn't have been selected.

MANY CINDER MEETS ON TAP

promotional endeavor. It is planned to stage aequatic programs in Long Beach this summer and undoubtedly these will draw huge crowds.

As for the Southern Conference meets, Occidental should have little difficulty doubling the score on Caltech, this affair to be staged at Patterson Field. Joe Pipal has a powerful well-rounded team which figures to score points in every event but the hammer and broad jump in all conference meets this year.

San Diego and Redlands, clashing at Redlands, should provide an afternoon of interesting entertainment, with odds in favor of the border team. Coach Peterson has several splendid athletes in Johnny Brose, weight ace; Capt. Linwood Brown, distance star; Maurice Fox, hurdler and broad jumper, and Peterson, 440-yard ace. The mile and half-mile between Brown and Norman Taylor of Redlands should be corking races. Taylor sprang a surprise last week when he trimmed Rud Crawford of Oxy in 4m. 22s.

BEAR AILING

Pomona, minus Harvey Bear, star sprinter, does not figure to cause U.C.L.A. much trouble in her meet, slated for the Westwood field. Bear is laid up with the mumps. Even were Bear well he would have a hard time keeping step with this chap Smith of the Bruins, who is running in better than even time.

Harry Trotter, genial U.C.L.A. coach, is willing to let Pomona count its hammer points, although this event is not included in Coast Conference competition. "I know that Bob Strehle's athletes will benefit by the competition," declared Trotter yesterday, "and I want him to count the points in on the final score."

Nice gesture by Harry. Some coaches would be too much afraid of losing a meet to be so big-hearted.

MERCURIES PICK RELAY QUARTETS

Relay teams to represent the L. A. A. C. in the Southern Pacific A.A.U. carnival, which will be concluded Saturday at Polytechnic High School, Long Beach, were announced yesterday by Boyd Comstock.

In the two sprint races, the 440 and 880-yard events, the Mercury team will be composed of Bob Maxwell, Ray Alf, Owen Bowe and Murray Schultz. The quartet will run in that order. The two-mile team will be composed of Bill Clum, Harold Lovejoy, Jack Burton and Percy Niersbach, running in that order. Niersbach and Burton will also compete in the one-mile relay as will Ray Alf. Oliver Worden will be the fourth man.

Second teams will be entered in all races. Comstock will not enter Alf, junior national 220 record-holder, in the proposed open 100-yard dash, as he will compete in three relays. In future meets Alf will likely compete in the 220 and 440-yard dashes instead of the 100 and 220. When he failed to find any footing on the soft Stanford track last Saturday in the 100, he was mentally beaten for the remainder of the afternoon.

LOYOLA LIONS ENTER A.A.U. RELAYS

Loyola University's first track and field team under the coaching of Joe Donahoe, former Columbia University star, will enter five relay races in the A.A.U. meet which is to be held Saturday at Long Beach.

This is the first attempt of Loyola in track and judging from the spirit with which the athletes work out every afternoon, the Lions will some day be a dangerous contender for Coast honors.

Donahoe has many years of experience behind him, having coached numerous squads back in the mid-west.

Those who will run Saturday are: Frosh, One-half and one-mile relays: Teams to be chosen from McEachon, Stinton, Bayley, Johnson, Hannon, Cain and Gleason. Gleason is also entered in the 100-yard dash.

Varsity, One-half and one-mile relays: Teams to be chosen from Nevins, Hill, Kwasigroch, Wheeler Pheasant and E. Sturgis.

START CUP MOBILIZATION

Davis Trophy Squad to Start Practice Within Month, Youngsters Form Nucleus

BY TED VOSBURGH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—America will stand or fall upon the strength of its younger players in Davis Cup tennis competition this year and within a month will begin active mobilization of a youthful squad headed by John Van Ryn, Orange, N. J., Wilmer Allison, Austin, Tex., and George Lott, Chicago, the United States Lawn Tennis Association announced today.

The opening American zone contest with Canada will be held "at some club in Philadelphia at a time to be announced later," it was made known further. The United States-Canada match last year was held in the middle of May in Montreal.

GEORGE LOTT

"It is the present intention of the Davis Cup committee," said the announcement, "to name Van Ryn, Allison and Lott as the nucleus of the squad."

The names of Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter, the veterans who headed the United States ranking list but have insisted they are through with international play, are conspicuously absent, indicating that the Davis Cup committee men have taken them at their word.

No mention is made of John Doeg, the young Santa Monica (Cal.) giant who is ranked third behind Tilden and Hunter but who suffered defeats in recent tournaments at San Antonio and Hamilton, Bermuda.

In the new ranking list Lott is No. 4, Van Ryn No. 5, and Allison No. 7. Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa., being No. 6.

A possibility that George Lott, the Chicago youth who played in the challenge round against the French last year, might be sent to Europe to become acclimated by playing in the Belgian and French championships as the official representative of the U. S. L. T. A. was indicated.

If this plan materialises, Lott will sail about the first of May. The selection of the team to open the Davis Cup season against the Canadians will be made entirely upon the basis of the showing made by the candidates in the southern tournaments, it was announced.

"No consideration will be given players who show in-and-out form or indifference in their tournament play," said the statement.

"The United States Association plans to enter a team of young players in the American zone matches and if it wins the American zone final, to send a team of comparatively young players to Europe for the interzone final.

"For that reason special consideration will be given those players who show by their play that they realize the responsibility placed upon them in the endeavor to recapture the Davis Cup."

Gathering at Pinehurst, N. C., a few days prior to the opening of the north and south championships there April 14, the players selected for the squad will take part in this tournament as well as the Mason and Dixon matches at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the following week. The squad will be limited to Van Ryn, Allison and Lott "and possibly one or two other players."

Capt. Dixon and other officials will be on hand to watch the play and places will be open to other men showing up well in southern competition.

After the White Sulphur Springs event, the players will continue their practice at the Huntington Valley Country Club, Philadelphia, until the time of the opening contest with Canada.

FANS THRILLED BY WILD SCRAP

Mace entered upon the scene. Lutze was given treatment and led gently from the ring while the ringsiders gazed anxiously at the big fellow to see if he was intact.

The crowd was said to be the biggest in the history of the Olympic for a nontitle match.

Promoter Lou Daro announced the gate receipts as $19,000 and a turnaway of 4000 persons.

One of the highlights of the first fall was the rope hold which Lutze wiggled into when he was tossed into the ropes by Marshall.

In some manner the strands interlwined and caught one of Lutze's arms in a vice-like grip. Referee Don McDonald had to come to the rescue of the caged warrior.

During the hour that led up to the first fall Marshall and Lutze tried about everything in the book in an effort to draw first blood.

REAL SPORTSMANLIKE

There were five and ten-minute stretches when the boys took turns at massaging one another's toes and there were other periods when they flopped each other about the carpet with jack-knife scissors on the arm.

Everything was very sportsmanlike between the pair. There was no rough stuff, clawing, slapping, ear twisting, being tabooed. In fact there was some handshaking as the match proceeded, thereby proving to the audience at large there was no bad blood between the boys.

Gorilla Gene LaDoux, who lost Lutze in his first start, came back last night to spear Jerry Monoghan, the big Irishman, in a one-fall match.

Gorilla did it with a series of headlocks after 13m. 25s. of butting and tugging.

Dr. Karl Sarpolis took the opener from Martin Zilkovich with a body scissors in 18m. 18s.

CALIFORNIA, CARD GYM TEAMS CLASH

BERKELEY, March 5. (Exclusive)—California and Stanford will meet in another field of competition Saturday night when the gymnasts of both institutions get together for their annual combat. California, winner of the Coast title in 1928 and 1927, when Glenn Berry was performing, is out to regain lost honors. The main scoring threats of Coach (Cap) Pease's California varsity are Capt. Clarence Moeller, Bill Maquire, Del Harlow and Glenn and Elmer Noble, the tumbling twins.

SAGEHEN BASEBALL NINE OPENS WORK

CLAREMONT, March 5.—Some thirty prospective Sagehen baseball players reported to Coach Colvin Heath yesterday afternoon for the initial practice of the year. As most of Heath's diamond performers have been busy with basketball he has been forced to postpone any workouts until the basketball men could participate.

LIONS HOLD SMOKER

The Loyola Lions' Club, together with the Loyola Alumni will hold a smoker tonight at the Loyola High School gymnasium on Venice Boulevard. The purpose of the event is to finish the arrangements for a reception to be given Tom Lieb when he arrives in town Saturday. There will be several amateur bouts to serve entertainment for the evening.

HERNANDEZ WINNER

MISS HOLLINS TAKES MATCH

3 and 2, while Mrs. Potter defeated Miss Rosina Jones of Pebble Beach, 7 and 5.

Mrs. Lifur, who won from Mrs. Joe Mayo, Monterey Peninsula and former Northern California champion, 5 and 3, plays Miss Angie Parkhurst of Crystal Springs. The latter won from Miss Harriet Hume, 2 and 1, in the closest contest of the day.

Another exciting and even match tomorrow should be the one in which Mrs. Charles Nicholas, Jr., Chicago star, meets Mrs. Vera Hutchings of Vancouver, B. C., Pacific Northwest title-holder. Mrs. Nicholas defeated Mrs. E. M. Rea of San Jose, 4 and 3, while Mrs. Hutchings eliminated Mrs. Edwin Browne of Hollywood by the same margin.

Mrs. Brent Potter, San Jose, defeated Miss Rosina Jones, Pebble Beach, 7 and 5.
Miss Helen Lucken, Oakland, defeated Mrs. D. S. Burnette, San Jose, 7 and 6.
Miss Mary Carson, Hollywood, defeated Mrs. W. Clark, Palo Alto, 2 and 1.
Mrs. Greer Lifur, Los Angeles, defeated Mrs. Joe Mayo, Pebble Beach, 3 and 2.
Miss Angie Parkhurst, San Francisco, defeated Miss Harriet Hume, Oakland, 2 and 1.
Mrs. C. C. Nicholas, Jr., Chicago, defeated Mrs. E. M. Rea, San Jose, 4 and 3.
Mrs. Vera Hutchings, Vancouver, defeated Mrs. Edwin Browne, Hollywood, 4 and 2.

SECOND FLIGHT WINNERS

Mrs. M. S. Wolff, San Francisco, defeated Mrs. Blanche Cupps, Pasadena, 1 up.
Mrs. Rene Aalen, San Jose, defeated Jewell Schweiker, Carmel, by default.
Mrs. James Davis, Burlingame, defeated Mrs. Emory Wilson, Piedmont, 3 and 2.
Miss M. Farrell, Vancouver, defeated Mrs. D. Hammond, Los Angeles, by default.
Miss M. Ahlman, San Jose, defeated Mrs. L. E. Cobbs, Pasadena, 6 and 5.
Mrs. F. C. Barnes, Beverly Hills, defeated Miss Mary Walker, San Francisco, 3 and 2.
Miss Esther Meeker, Oakland, defeated Mrs. Robert Meeker, Hillsborough, 2 and 1.
Mrs. John Severs, Salinas, defeated Mrs. Frank McCann, Salinas, 4 and 3.

THIRD FLIGHT WINNERS

Mrs. Henry Lund, San Francisco, defeated Mrs. De Witt Lyon, Los Angeles, 3 and 1.
Marie Dieckmann, Oakland, defeated Mrs. D. Carlisle, Piedmont, 3 and 2.
Mrs. D. Bullock, Monterey, defeated Mrs. George Sykes, Paloines, 7 and 5.

Brown Kayoed by Campbell

OAKLAND, March 5. (AP)—Frankie Campbell, San Francisco Italian, knocked out Natie Brown, Los Angeles heavyweight, in the second round of their ten-round bout at Arcadia pavilion here tonight. Campbell clearly outclassed Brown, knocking him down for a nine count in the first round and ending the fight in the next with a right to the jaw.

Campbell, who has been berating in Los Angeles of late, looked impressive against Brown in the short appearance tonight. Never a sensational boxer in previous contests here, Campbell has developed a crouching, weaving style of attack and demonstrated he packs a punch in either hand.

Brown went down from a left to the body and right to the head early in the first round and just did manage to last until the bell. In the next session, Campbell tore out of his corner, feinted with a left and came out of a crouch to send a crashing right to Brown's jaw. The latter's second worked over Brown for some minutes before he was able to leave the ring.

KENNY LASALLE TAKES BOUT AT OCEAN PARK

Kenny LaSalle won a six-round decision over Johnny Pravis in the main event at Ocean Park last night. Vearle Whitehead took a six-round verdict over Al Nelson in the semi-wind-up. In the special event Jimmy DeLuccia beat Ben Stein. Joe Singer knocked out George Mullen in the second round. Frankie Rousing kayoed Russ Brock in the second round. Perfecto Mendoza whipped Bobby Yorba in the opening event.

TRAINING CAMP GOSSIP

AVALON, CATALINA ISLAND (Cal.) March 5. (Special)—Cold Man Weather, sometimes a stranger in these parts, dominated the situation again today. Rain came down just as it has at intervals throughout the week, thus limiting the champion Cubs to an afternoon workout of throwing the ball. Their only workout of consequence this afternoon lasted for about an hour and it is barely possible that one or two of the men worked hard enough to produce a sweat. Most of them preferred to conduct themselves in such a mild manner as to avoid possible disaster. The pitchers didn't feel like giving their arms too heavy a program because throwing a wet ball produces soreness. And nobody wanted to jump around much on slippery grass or mud.

Charley Barnes are easily accepted by each practices. Anyway there was no particular need to bear down. All the hands are getting ahead of the game, and Joe Devine will have pitchers available for training.

The monotony of loafing at and writing chess at the Catalina Island Cubs' training camp was relieved somewhat today when Manager Joe Devine staged a game between the two squads, one known as the regulars and the other as the rookies. The names merely are used for identification purposes. There are as many regulars on one team as the other.

Whether Hornsby will be equal to the task of nine innings or even any innings is problematical at this time, but a good share of those who are bothered by today-past feet. The great Rajah managed only another few days, however, of this pain to be endured in the heel from which a growth was removed during the winter, but he is confident that it will be shortened by it. If it isn't then it will be just too bad for Hornsby as well as the Cubs, for this is going to be the last week he is to toughen up the tender spots.

PORTLANDERS WORK DESPITE SHOWERS

SAN JOSE (Cal.) March 5. (AP)—Rain failed to deprive the Portland Ducks of their practice today. Manager Larry Gilbert sending the squad through a stiff two-hour session at Sodality Park. After the workout some of the players took in a show while the rest lounged in Swedish bathrooms that Horseshoe the Ducks will practice outdoors, rain or shine, President Tom Turner said.

ACORNS DRIVEN OUT BY RAIN

FRESNO (Cal.) March 5. (AP)—Rain sent the Oaks out of early workout at Fresno today, Manager Dutch Ruether's crowd only getting in an hour before the water drove them off the field.

With the arrival here of Pinckney Pate, outfielder, and Harold Carlson, first baseman, and Outfielder Stanley Schulz, the Oaks camp was at last reported complete. Pate reported to Ruether that he had passed up baseball to attend Arkell Forestry School at Berkeley. Manager Ruether is not worry, as his material at the first is very plentiful. Pate is a right-handed batter and with Keaton and Wheeler will be hard pressed for jobs.

If the weather permits the first practice will be produced to stage tomorrow, Ruether said.

RUSH AND McGRAW SELECT LINE-UPS

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 5. (Special)—The day is crowded with former reunion baseball dawn here as witness the fact that Manager Dennis Rush of the Chicago White Sox and John J. McGraw of the New York Giants today announced the batting order for the first of their series inter-league exhibition contests. The exhibition game opens in Houston Saturday afternoon and will be followed by another game on Sunday.

Rush's opening batting order appears to be closer to his regular season plan than does the list offered by Mr. McGraw. The line-up:

Chicago—Jeffries, 3b; Hunnefield, ss; Reynolds, cf; Moore, lf; Walrond or Hafey, rf; Cissell, 2b; Cissell, lb; Berg and Hargrave, c; Frasier, p.

New York—Gilbert, 2b; Bacon, ss; Odell, rf; Crabtree, lb; Leslie, lf; Jackson, cf; Marshall, 3b; Moran and Yelman, c; Walker, Fitzsimmons and Hubbel, p.

SEATTLE INDIANS HARD AT WORK

SAN CLEMENTE (Cal.) March 5. (AP)—Two hours of strenuous practice marked the second workout of the spring training season of the Seattle Indians here today with the medicine ball being introduced into the conditioning exercises.

The work of Earl Sheen and Bobby House on the mound featured the drill. The two hurlers appeared in excellent condition as a result of winter league play. They are expected to set the pace in the opening exhibition games Sunday. The first game will be with Hollywood at San Diego and the reserves will play a Long Beach aggregation here.

PITCHERS HAVING LOTS OF FUN

BILOXI (Miss.) March 5. (AP)—While Manager Walter Johnson has no wild hopes of making a demon hitter out of his pitchers, he believes a little practice will do no harm. Hence the fun the Washington second nine are having at the plate this week.

Johnson wants his pitchers to be able to take care of themselves out in the field and is stressing the art of laying down sacrifices, as well as that of hoisting the ball with a good stiff wallop.

The hurlers are gradually being speeded up also, in their regular occupation, and report all are now showing freer form of delivery.

MYSTERIOUS ABSENCES ALL EXPLAINED NOW

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 5. (AP)—Mystery surrounding the disappearance of Willis Kamm, Alex Metzler, Spread Jolley and Art Shires, all in the training grounds of the Chicago White Sox has officially been explained.

Kamm, Sox officials have revealed, is a holdout because he didn't get enough money and has been put on the limit by Manager Dennis Rush. Metzler is having domestic difficulties and Manager Rush wants more money.

Jolley has signed, but apparently is stalled on the Coast trying to get a part of his salary from Portland, Pacific Coast club of the Coast League. Shires wants more money.

JAKIE MAY BACK IN FOLD

ORLANDO (Fla.) March 5. (AP)—Jakie May, retired pitcher and last of the Chicago Black Sox outfielders to take to the fields with baseball, is coming back to the game after a long stand of inactivity in an effort to help Connie Mack, first baseman and manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, get back into the pennant running, Mack announced today.

May, who was with the Chicago White Sox when baseball was rocked by the 1919 scandal, has been training with the Athletics for the last week and has been showing his old-time form. He batted .308 in 1919.

it means he will be put on the suspended list.

Skipper Lelivelt sent the Cherubs through their daily workout yesterday but the rain left the field in such a soggy condition that the athletes were forced to do without their batting practice. However, Lelivelt made up for this by making the athletes do extra-time running around the park and indulging in chasing flies and tossing the medicine ball.

But Lelivelt found time to send some of the players through infield practice, chiefly because he wanted to see for himself how young "Dutch" Brandt performed at first base. Jack, who returned from Catalina Island Tuesday night, has heard such glowing tales about the youngster's fielding ability that he wanted to take a look. Brandt obliged by performing just as sensationally as ever and Lelivelt was quite impressed. The Angel boss admits that Brandt is as fine a fielding first-sacker as there is in these parts, but he wants to delay judgment on him until he sees him perform at the plate in hitting practice today.

Brandt looks so good, though, that it's almost a certainty that he'll be carried by the Angels. And if the youngster shows he can hit why it's a possibility that he may beat Ray Jacobs out of the first-sacking job.

TROJANS WILL FACE ANGELS

Trojan baseball players probably will face a number of Angel regulars in the game tomorrow at Wrigley Field. Jack Lelivelt, manager of the Angels, told Sam Barry, S.C. mentor, yesterday that he planned to use some of his first-string performers for a few innings, in order to prepare them for Saturday's benefit game with the Cubs. The Trojans open their league season Monday with Santa Clara, and play the Angels Friday, and the L.A.A.C. Saturday in their final workouts. The S.C. squad already has won five out of six practice games.

Union Oilers Trip Gilmore

In a sensational struggle that wound up the regular schedule of the Southern California Amateur Ice Hockey League, the Union Oil Pirates nosed out the league-leading Gilmore Lions, 2 to 1, last night at the Winter Garden Ice Palace. By virtue of their victory the Union Oilers broke the tie for second place with the Sunfreze Bears and won the right to meet the Gilmore sextet in a seven-game play-off series for the championship. Play starts next Wednesday night.

All of the scoring was done in the second period, Marion tallying first for the Pirates. Five minutes later Myles tied the count for the Lions. Just before the period ended Earl Hayden took a pass from his brother Bud and scored the decisive goal.

The winner of the Union Oil-Gilmore Lion play-off will meet Vancouver for the Coast championship.

MERMAID SETS RECORD

ST. AUGUSTINE (Fla.) March 5. (AP)—Helene Madison of Seattle, a comparative newcomer in the rank of record-holding swimmers, clipped 4 2-5 seconds from the world mark for flat, set by Gertrude Ederle. In the 400-yard back-stroke event Miss Eleanor Holm of New York made the 400 backstroke in 12s. less than the former record. Her time was 5m. 47 4-5s., as compared with the former time of 5m. 59 1-5s.

with much criss-crossing, ball passing, faking and what not. Eventually some man breaks into the clear—usually Jaloff, the smallest of the visitors—and a basket results. The frosh have given the varsity a couple of close battles the last two days in scrimmages, and Barry is working overtime in an effort to get his squad in shape for tomorrow night's opener. Games are scheduled for tomorrow, Saturday and Monday, if necessary, at the Olympic.

The Huskies found Oregon State a jinx, but otherwise came through their season with a remarkable record. The Beavers beat Washington three times—twice by 2 points—while Washington State scored one other victory over Edmundson's squad. Washington won twelve games and lost four in their league tilts, as follows:

Washington, 34;	Oregon State, 24.
Washington, 30;	Oregon State, 31.
Washington, 31;	Oregon, 29.
Washington, 31;	Oregon State, 24.
Washington, 31;	Oregon State, 19.
Washington, 31;	Washington State, 23.
Washington, 31;	Idaho, 24.
Washington, 31;	Washington State, 23.
Washington, 31;	Washington State, 21.
Washington, 31;	Idaho, 19.
Washington, 31;	Idaho, 17.
Washington, 31;	Oregon, 21.
Washington, 31;	Oregon, 21.

"Stork" McClary is particular worry to Barry.

The huge Husky center stands six feet six, and is almost invincible on the tip-off, which naturally gives the visitors a distinct advantage. He is reported, by Two-good, to be exceptionally fast for a big man, and his defensive work is above reproach.

Jaloff, second high-scorer in the conference last year, stands only 5 feet 6 inches, but this serves him in good stead. He appears to break loose frequently, while the defensemen are chasing the bigger Washington players, and he is a dead shot. Swanson, the made-over guard, is a big noise at forward. Twogood reports that Carney, the sophomore sensation, and West are the best pair of offensive guards he ever has seen.

FINAL WORKOUT

Barry plans a last, final workout this afternoon, of a light nature, in an effort to have his men on edge for the series. "Everybody is taking things entirely too lightly," Barry stormed yesterday. "Just because we beat California and the Bruins, they think we've got a set-up in Washington. The Huskies have been in the play-off for the last three years, and although they've lost to the Trojans and the Bears, Twogood tells me that everybody up north thinks they've got the best team in years. I'm not saying we're going to lose, but if we do win, we're going to know we've been in a game."

BASKETBALL

DENVER, March 5. (AP)—Colorado College completed the largest score in western through the opening round of the regional A.A.U. basketball tournament here tonight, "Dutch" Clark's Tigers beating ever the Denver Centrals, 42-28.

Other first round results:

University of Wyoming, 30; Denver Gardinds, 19.

Denver University, 33; Fort Collins, Colo., 16.

Denver Civils, 30; Colorado Mines, 19.

Denver Fidelity, 33; Union Pacific, Rock Springs, Wy., 21.

Western State College, 36; Denver Chiropractic, 20.

Denver Pratts, 43; Reeds College, Denver, 16.

Public Service, Denver, 48; Fort Morgan, Colo., 24.

The winner of the tourney, which ends Saturday night, will compete in the national A.A.U. tournament in Kansas City.

Missouri, 23; Kansas, 19.
University of Dubuque, 23; Wisconsin Mines, 17.

PAUL LOWRY

ANOTHER OLYMPIC YEAR CLASSIC

WITH the lines all laid to bring the national golf open to this city in 1932 there is every assurance—if any were needed—that 1932 will be a real Olympic year.

The I.C.A.A.A.A. track-and-field games will come West for the first time in history that same year, and the addition of the national open means just one more juicy plum in a basket of athletic classics.

The playing of the national amateur championship at Del Monte last summer—the Far West's first experience—started the ball rolling, and it seems that just one good golf tidbit after another will follow.

Next to the British open there is no tournament in the world as big as our national open. The British tourney is older, has more of a background, and therefore enjoys more historic lore and glamour.

The national open here in 1932 will bring a double boon in that the peerless Robert Tyre Jones will again set foot on our shores—shores that robbed him of his amateur title in most unexpected fashion last year.

There probably never was a golf story that more startled the world at large than the downfall of Jones at the hands of Johnny Goodman, the unsung ex-caddy, at Del Monte.

The great Bobby has had near-catastrophe in first rounds in other national championships, but he had escaped unscathed with such unfailing regularity that he was considered practically immune.

Naturally, Californians who witnessed his Waterloo in 1929 will root for a redeeming march to victory in 1932.

Incidentally, the west coast's line-up of national championships past and coming is notable:

1929—Men's national amateur championship at Del Monte.
1929—National Professional Golfer's Association tourney at Hillcrest.
1930—Women's national amateur championship (coming.)
1932—National open (on the way.)

RUTH AND RUPPERT

THE esteemed Col. Jacob Ruppert will be in St. Petersburg, Fla., today in connection with a certain matter concerning his Yankee baseball club.

In brief, the good colonel will have a showdown with his slugging star, George Herman Ruth.

The colonel didn't admit as much when he left New York the other night.

In fact, he said the Ruth case was closed as far as he is concerned.

Mr. Ruth has been offered a contract for two years calling for a sum equal to the salary of the President of the United States.

But Mr. Ruth believes he is worth more than the President by $10,000 worth.

And upon this difference of opinion hangs the verdict.

The consensus of opinion, regardless of Col. Ruppert's statement that he won't back water, is that the boys will get together.

The Yanks need Ruth, and neither is going to pass up the opportunity of capitalizing on the ballyhoo Ruth's holdout has afforded.

CARNERA HEADS WEST

PRIMO CARNERA, the elongated gentleman from the Alps, will will probably show his fistic wares in these parts some time in April.

Nothing definite is assured, but Mr. Hayden Wadhams, the portly matchmaker of the Olympic, has not been making recent trips to San Francisco just to view the scenery.

Lou Parenti, Oakland promoter, has practically cinched an appearance of the big whale about the middle of April, and Wadhams hopes to sign the Italian heavyweight for a slightly later date.

If he succeeds, the Olympic should have an auspicious April.

The April Fools' date has been awarded the rematch between Armand Santiago, the disappearing Cuban, who finally turned up in his home port with a new bride, and Billy Townsend.

HEAVYWEIGHT DIVIDENDS

HOLLYWOOD is sticking to the heavyweights, and following this week's presentation of the rejuvenated Mr. Ernie Owens and the reformed clown, Joe Bitio, goes to bat with another showing of the big fellows the following week.

Tom Gallery has lined up Vigo Doman, the socker, and Les Kennedy, both of whom have been turned down by Frankie Campbell's managers.

The Hollywood policy has been a paying one, and there have been a whole flock of sell-out shows since Gallery turned the heavyweights loose.

As long as the crop holds out the dividends will be heavy—and that isn't a pun, either.

PARDEE GETS MOUNT

Eddie Meyers, owner of the high-powered Redlands Special which is expected to be one of the fourteen cars going to the post in Sunday afternoon's auto-racing program at the American Legion Speedway, yesterday signed a new driver for his mount. The youth is Phil Pardee, former Poly High School football star and all-around athlete.

Pardee, who was a backfield man on Voyle Brennan's Poly gridiron machine of 1922, became a champion deep-sea diver at Catalina after leaving school. He claims two world's records, established during his three years of professional diving at the Magic Isle, one of them being for a depth of fifty-five feet and the other set by staying under water three minutes and ten seconds.

Pardee expects to go to Indianapolis this year and he will take some tips from Louie Meyer, the national champion, this week on the art of manipulating a racing car.

Officials of the A.A.A. announced yesterday that entries are flooding the local offices and more than thirty-five pilots are expected to be enrolled for the five-event program Sunday.

waters will be alive with racing craft of all kinds.

Syl Spaulding's big Marconi-rigged sloop Westward is being tuned up by Skipper Ed Salisbury and is expected to set course records during the big week of winter aquatic events.

Sport Off of Pasadena Card

"Speedy Dado's scheduled bout with Young Sport tonight at Pasadena Arena has been postponed until next Thursday. The postponement was necessary because of the illness of Young Sport, who came down with grip Tuesday night. After scrambling around for a substitute, Manager Morrie Cohan moved up Canto (T.N.T.) Robleto and Johnny Jordan. Both were on the original bill. It is a rematch for them.

Jimmy Pruitt battles Felix Ignacio, a hard-hitting Filipino stablemate of Dado's, in the semi-windup.

The two four-rounders will be: Nolt Porter vs. Phil Resnick, 145 pounds; Paul Chaney vs. Frankie Mann, 128 pounds. Another bout, not yet selected, will fill a vacant place on the bill.

Foil Experts Will Tangle

One of the best fencing tournaments of the season in Southern California will take place at the Los Angeles A. C. tomorrow evening when the Pacific Coast semifinals foils team tournament will be run off. The teams, which will compete for the right to represent Southern California in the Pacific Coast tournament next month, are as follows: Los Angeles Athletic Club, University of Southern California, University of California at Los Angeles, Captain Duff's Fencing Academy, and the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, California National Guard.

The Mercury team, composed of Ralph B. Faulkner, H. G. Berls and C. D. Cathcart, is favored to win, although exceptionally keen competition is expected by Prof. Harry Uyttenhove. In the Southern California open saber finals at the Hollywood A. C. recently L.A.A.C. fencers won the first four places. The men were Ralph B. Faulkner, Commissioner H. G. Feraud, C. D. Cathcart and H. C. Berls.

All local tournaments lead up to the Pacific Coast championships which will be here April 11, 12 and 13.

Owens Makes Bid for Tilt in New York

Ernie Owens is making a bid for a place on the milk-fund card when Jack Sharkey fights Max Schmeling at New York, and he is willing to meet all comers on this Coast for that recognition. Owens starts his campaign tomorrow night fighting Joe Bitto in the main event at Hollywood. Owens is favored because of his greater experience and all-around ability. Bitto is as game as they come and aggressive.

ERNIE OWENS

The Bitto-Owens fight is followed next week at the Legion Stadium by Doman and Les Kennedy. These heavyweights will fight for the right to meet the winner of the Bitto-Owens fight. Early next month Al Morro, Jim Jeffries's heavyweight, will fight Tony Fuente. Morro is being groomed for bigger and tougher opposition, but in his second start the opponent can't be too tough. Many think that Morro will stop Fuente.

If the fight goes according to Hoyle, the semi-wind-up should cop the special bonus. Battling Bulaman, fighting Filipino from San Francisco, and Hector McDonald are the principals, and both are rated topnotchers for a semi-wind-up. McDonald has two wins over Billy Townsend and a win over Wildcat Carter. Bulahan is making his first appearance in Hollywood.

Labelotte is Race Winner

AGUA CALIENTE, March 5.—Labelotte, three-year-old star of the stable of Fred Almy, Arizona sportsman and breeder, won the Pleasanton, featured number here this afternoon. The Sweepon filly was all but disqualified after the victory, for she bore over on Flagtime sharply in the stretch.

The stewards discussed the foul but decided to let the race stand as Flagtime already was a beaten horse when Labelotte bore over after passing the North stable colt.

Dark Ayr raced to the show over the sloppy track, which was softened by the rain of Tuesday night and showers of yesterday. Labelotte raced the six furlongs in 1:13 to win by a length and one-half. Results:

First race, five and one-half furlongs—Vazabond (Snodgrass) won; Macon (Mar.) second; Little Pat (Romano) third. Time, 1:08.

Second race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Billy Boal (Keller) won; Boy Friend (Redding) second; Alhor (Richardson) third. Time, 1:50.

Third race, four furlongs—Gen B. (Depass) won; Golden Grind (Teasdale) second; Rosevalt (Morrison) third. Time, 0:48 2-5.

Fourth race, six furlongs — Virginia Beauty (Depasso) won; Dapper (Mar.) second; Kit Carson (Moran) third. Time, 1:13 4-5.

Fifth race, six furlongs — Labelotte (Level) won; Flagtime (Collilieth) second; Dark Ayr (Redding) third. Time, 1:13.

Sixth race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Calleron (Redding) won; Shasta Nut (Philpot) second; Smiling Princess (Cleverley) third. Time, 1:48 1-5.

Seventh race, one mile—Tanis (Redding) won; Sabrina Tube (Morgan) second; Russel (Hurlburt) third. Time, 1:41.

Amateur Puck Loop to End

The wind-up of the ice hockey schedule of the Southern California Senior League at the Palais De Glace will be held tonight when the Shell Oilers and the Arrowhead Valley Club sextets tangle in a game that is expected to give the fans a line on the chances of the teams in the play-off, which starts Monday.

Patrick's youngsters and Miller's Oilers are the squads which won the first and second-half titles and they are billed to meet in the big four out of seven games series beginning next week.

Both outfits have added Canadian talent to the line-ups lately. The Arrowheads have signed Bill Chapman, a wing man, to bolster the team, while the Shells have added Stevalak to the defense.

Henry Siemer, owner and operator of the Palais De Glace, announces that negotiations are under way to import a Canadian team here to meet the winner of the championship in the local amateur circuit.

Beach Tourney Opens Saturday

Play for the Howard Blanchard trophy will start Saturday on the Clover Field tennis courts at Santa Monica, F. Lee Smith anounced yesterday. The trophy, donated by the Santa Monica sportsman, is contested for twice yearly, and was presented last October when Jay Cohn, the national boys' champion, won it.

The trophy was designed to stimulate tennis interest among Bay District junior boys, all under 18 years of age being eligible to compete. The lists have not yet closed, Smith announced yesterday. The tournament will go through the semifinals Saturday, with the final match on schedule for Sunday. The entries and schedule to date are as follows:

10 a.m.—Sid Levy vs. Ormond Carter; Frank Robinson vs. Bill Bailey; Pat McDougald vs. Jack Blanchard.
11 a.m.—Jay Cohn vs. Boud Myers; Don Dana vs. Jack Cressmer; Stanley Martin vs. Fred Dolley; Leonard Pattersen vs. Bill McLean; Bill Bassett vs. Jimmie Ware.
12 m.—Quarter finals.
2 p.m.—Semifinals.

ANNOUNCE DATES FOR INTERNATIONAL PLAY

ST. AUGUSTINE (Fla.) March 5. (AP)—May 1 has been named as the starting date of the international women's golf matches between selected teams from the United States and England, it was announced today by Miss Glenna Collett, captain of the American group.

It will be the first time in golf history that a team match between the two countries has been played.

IRVING BANNED IN PUCK GAME

Richfields and Hollywood Teams to Mix Tonight

The Los Angeles Richfields were delt a serious blow yesterday when James Tuthill, president of the California Professional Ice Hockey League, announced the indefinite suspension of Berge Irving, star defense man of the Oilers. Richfields meet Hollywood at the Winter Garden tonight in the third game of their series.

The Richfields, battling for third place in the league, and a right to the play-off, dropped games to the Millionaires Sunday and Monday nights, 4 to 0, and 1 to 0. Irving and "Peaches" Headley, of the Millionaires, tangled viciously several times Monday, the latter drawing a five-minute penalty for one glaring infraction of the rules, that put Irving out of the game for some time.

Irving is reported to have hit Headley over the head with a club, after the game while the two teams were en route to their dressing rooms, causing injuries that made necessary five stitches in Headley's head.

The Oilers practically had third place in the play-off cinched, until Hollywood cinched its latest drive, and with Irving on the sidelines, the Richfields are at a tremendous disadvantage. Irving means as much to the Oilers as "Moss" Johnson does to Hollywood or Paul Stevens to Oakland, which is plenty.

With Irving out of the line-up, Hollywood is confident that it will hang up its third straight victory. Johnson has proved a winning factor in the Millionaire line-up, as he was proved a real offensive threat in addition to being probably the best defensive man in the league. With Wolf Peltier, Dan Carrigan, "Old Man" O'Connell, "Lefty" Comber, Paul Mahar and Headley, as well as Manager "Smokey" Harris in the line-up, Hollywood has a tremendous scoring threat.

Richfield can offer Jake Lawrence, as tricky a skater as there is in the league; Guy Poole, a classy skater and a good shot; Dale Wells, Chick Bond, Sammy Larkin and "Bud" Nichols, but without Irving, they can hardly be expected to win. Line-ups:

Hollywood.		Los Angeles.
T. Carrigan	Goal	Murray
Lankabury	Defense	Wells
Johnson	Defense	Irving
Singer	Defense	Wilson
Harris	Wing	Brandow
O'Connell	Wing	Poole
Comber	Wing	Lawrence
Headley	Wing	Bond
Peltier	Wing	Larkin
Maher	Wing	Nichols
D. Carrigan	Wing

Magyars Lose Star Players

Two outstanding Magyar club soccer football players, Barber and Southerland, have been suspended for the remainder of the season and will be out of the line-up Sunday when the Hungarians meet the Scots at Tournament Park, Pasadena, at 1 o'clock. Absence of these men will cause Manager Doss to revamp his line-up for the Highlanders. The second Pasadena game will pit the Vikings against the Spanish Americans. The Norsemen are favored.

At Loyola Field, Los Angeles, the Pasadena A.C.C. opens the bill against Richfield and the leading Hollywood Sheiks oppose the Sons of St. George at 3 o'clock. Although the Sheiks have again clinched the pennant exceptionally keen interest is being shown in the bitter fight for second place between the Magyars, L.A.A.C., Vikings and Pasadena.

The L.A.A.C. and Hollywood teams are now in the quarter-finals of State cup play and the Mercuries meet the San Francisco Rovers in the latter city Sunday.

Yachters Hold Confab Today

Southern California yachtsmen will be in charge of the regular luncheon today noon at the Biltmore Hotel, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be in charge of the Civic Regatta Association, the yachting body of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Al Christie, well-known sportsman, will be master of ceremonies. Among the yachtsmen attending will be Commodore Pierpont Davis, Commodore Owen Churchill, Commodore J. T. Dickson, Ted Conant, who will skipper the Angelita, the new eight-meter boat defending the King of Spain Trophy; O. V. Dresden, "Skip" Warren, Dr. Albert Soiland and others.

This luncheon is the first of a series of events to be given to yachtsmen in honor of the fourth annual national midwinter regatta, to be held off Los Angeles Harbor the 18th to 19th inst. L. C. Dunbar, president of the C.R.A., will call the meeting to order.

More than forty entries have been received for the regatta, bringing to Southern California the largest entry for any similar event on the Pacific Coast. Marine atmosphere and entertainment will be included on the program for today's luncheon.

BEAR CREW TAKES WORKOUT IN RAIN

BERKELEY, March 5. (Exclusive)—Still nettled by the experience of the fourth varsity boat yesterday when that ill-fated craft ran into a log, and went down in the Oakland estuary, the University of California oarsmen today went about their practice under raining skies.

Those unfortunate sweepsters who went down with the "forty-niner" included Jacobson, stroke; Gilmore, 7; Steiner, 6; Barnes, 5; Ide, 4; Carlton, 3; Smith, 2; Wells, bow, and Kanagrad, coxswain. Some of these men have been playing in poor luck of late. Last Friday afternoon, in company with Coach Ky Ebright's four world champion veterans, they rowed in the senior boat in the annual interclass regatta. The seniors, to the surprise of experts and spectators alike, finished last.

BY SOL METZGER

There must be power behind the swing of a golf club else distance would never follow. And as the swing is made by the arms alone, the idea being to keep the clubhead ahead and the body, arms and hands behind, this power must come from some other force than such as we try to get by pressing.

What insures it with accuracy? Again let us go back to the old masters. Here are Alex Herd and James Braid viewed from different angles at the top of their swings. Note how the forearms of each are as near parallel as possible.

You hear a great deal about a straight left arm and a right elbow tucked in at that side. But to gain either by concentration upon them while swinging the club takes the mind off the real issue of swinging it so the clubhead leads and everything else follows. These desired results, that compel the arms to be straight and to work together and thus insure power, are gained by the arm swing, as we shall see in tomorrow's release.

Learn to putt well. Sol Metzger has prepared a new illustrated leaflet on "Putting" which he will send free to any reader requesting it. Address Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Mack Selects Training Camp

Eddie Mack will train in the country for the Goldie Hess fight. Hess has just come in from an outdoor camp in the Mojave Desert. Mack went to Soper's ranch, the popular "spa" for boxers.

Also the weight for the Mack-Hess fight was raised to 136 pounds by consent of both boxers. The request was made by Mack, who has suddenly taken a growing spell.

Mack and Hess meet at the Olympic next Tuesday night in a rematch that has been on the fire for some time. They sold out the arena when they fought before, Mack getting a close decision, although many disagreed with the referee.

Hess is working at the Main-street gymnasium and is in excellent shape. He has not appeared here since he fought Cecil Payne and then went to Chicago to meet Tony Canzoneri. The Canzoneri fight, which was to have been staged by Jack Dempsey, was canceled and Hess returned home without fighting in the Middle West.

EARL BRIDGES WINS THE PAS DOG DERBY

THE PAS (Man.) March 5. (AP)—Earl Bridges of Cranberry Portage, Man., won the Pas Dog Derby today, defeating Emil St. Goddard of the Pas, who had won the event for five years. Bridges's victory came after more than twenty-six hours of struggle along a 200-mile trail. The winner's time for the 200-mile course was 26h. 9m. 11s., the best turned in since Shorty Russick covered the route in 23h. 42m. in 1924.

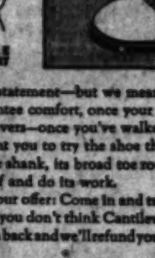
PREP SEASON TO START

Major and Minor City Dual Meet Schedule Opens Tomorrow, Poly and Manual Mix in Feature

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Unless rain continues to make local cinder-paths into mud wallows, the dual meet season for both the major and minor city leagues will get under way tomorrow afternoon. Only two league contests are listed in each loop, with the feature meet being the Poly-Manual Arts conflict on the Tollers' oval.

The other battle in the major circuit is a three-cornered meet between Jefferson, Franklin and Lincoln on the Democrats' track.



The Roosevelt-Fremont affair on the Rough Riders' oval promises to be the best of the two meets in the minor city league. The other one will find Fairfax favored to beat Belmont on the Hilltoppers' oval.

Herb Morey, Garfield coach, announced yesterday that the Bulldog-University meet scheduled for tomorrow had been canceled because of the failure of the Warriors to line up a team.

Garfield will take part in a three-cornered meet between Los Angeles High and Huntington Park at Housh Field.

As the minor city loop title will be decided this year by both the dual meet results and the final league meet, quite a lot of interest is centered in the Roosevelt-Fremont tussle. Irwin Tanner's Pathfinders are the logical favorites, but Coach Bud Nash's squad has more than a good chance to score an upset, provided Sentell Willis, the Roosevelt colored sprinter, has recovered from a recent leg injury.

If Willis runs he will give Walter Clark of Fremont a hard battle in both dashes and may surprise the minor league dopesters who have not been counting on the Roosevelt runner to do much this year.

With the new twelve-school prep league slated to go into effect next fall both the major and minor city leagues will be thrown into the discard at the end of baseball season.

While everything pertaining to the new arrangement has been more or less settled, the definite dates on the new schedule for football season haven't been announced yet. The vice-principals will hold a meeting within the next three weeks, according to Vice-Principal Graham of Roosevelt High, who will be chairman at that time.

Graham expects the football dates will be settled then as well as the matter of a play-off at the end of the season in case of a tie.

La Barba Meets Mastro Again

Fidel La Barba leaves Monday night for Chicago, where he is signed to meet Earl Mastro on the 21st inst. at the Chicago Coliseum under the direction of Jack Dempsey. George Blake, La Barba's manager, announced yesterday that Fidel had agreed to take 20 per cent of the gate. The bout will be at 126 pounds. It will be the third bout between the two boxers. La Barba won the first contest and Mastro the second. Blake stated that he had no other matches in mind. He is awaiting the outcome of the Mastro go before he decides Fidel's next step.

U.C.L.A. PUCKS POINT FOR BERKELEY TEAM

Coach Harvey Tafe's U.C.L.A. ice-hockey team has started intensive work for its next game with the California-at-Berkeley five a week from tomorrow, the 14th inst., in the Winter Garden Ice Palace. The Bruin pucks have been improving steadily, and played the University of Southern California squad to a 3-to-3 tie last Saturday afternoon at the Winter Garden.

Capt. Clarence Scott and Don Clow, veterans from last year's team, have been the moving spirits in the Bruin ice attack so far, with brilliant skating and shooting. Kysor is the new goalie, Hal Campbell having been declared ineligible, and played a good game against the Trojans.

NEW DRAMA TO OPEN AT PRESIDENT

"Your Uncle Dudley" Has Taylor Holmes in Guest Star Role

Taylor Holmes comes to the President, starting Sunday, in "Your Uncle Dudley," succeeding Kolb and Dill in "Give and Take."

"Your Uncle Dudley" was written by Howard Lindsay and Bertrand Robinson. Henry Duffy secured the Pacific Coast rights, with the proviso from George C. Tyler, the Broadway producer, that the guest star selected be agreeable to him. Both Tyler and Henry Duffy selected Taylor Holmes.

Others in the cast are Leah Winslow, Flora Bramley, Russell Cushing, Charlotte Treadway, Kenneth Gamet and Harry Hollingsworth.

Film Drama of Night Clubs to Play at R.-K.-O.

An all-star cast was selected to play the leading roles in "Murder on the Roof," the mystery film of New York night life, starting at the R.-K.-O. Theater today. The mystery is unfolded against the background of a night club atop a skyscraper. It deals with a courtly distinguished gentleman sent to prison, and the efforts of his daughter to secure enough evidence to clear him.

Among the players are Dorothy Revier, Raymond Hatton, Margaret Livingston, David Newell, Paul Porcasi, Virginia Brown Faire, William V. Mong, Louis Natheaux, Fred Kelsey and Richard Cramer. George Seitz directed.

Healy and Cross headline the R.-K.-O. vaudeville show. Augmenting the bill are the three Alexander sisters, Ken Christy and company in a domestic skit, Howard's cultured ponies, Jesse Block and Eve Sully in "A Talkie Without Film."

NEW STAR'S VEHICLE CHOSEN

Metropolitan Singer to Play Lead in R.-K.-O.'s "Dixiana;" Universal Reported Negotiating With Comedian; Olsen and Johnson Sign With Warners

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Jack Oakie has at last been elevated to the promised stardom with Paramount, we learned yesterday from the announcement of B. P. Schulberg.

JACK OAKIE

His first starring vehicle, we find, is to be called "High Society," and Edward Sutherland will direct. The picture will be followed by "Merton of the Talkies," which Sutherland also will direct.

And this isn't all the news, either. Mary Brian is to play opposite the star in "High Society."

The story is based on one by Octavus Roy Cohen called "Marco Himself," and Joseph Mankiewicz is writing the screen play.

EVERETT MARSHALL PLAYS BEBE'S LEAD

Another star from the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company in New York is about to make his picture debut.

He is Everett Marshall, who has sung many notable roles in the famous organization, and who has just arrived from the East under contract to R.-K.-O.

It is all decided just what Mr. Marshall will do, too. He has been assigned the leading role opposite Bebe Daniels in "Dixiana."

Marshall is an American. He studied abroad, however, in France and Italy, and sang grand opera in those countries before being drafted into the Metropolitan.

Nils Asther in Vaudeville

Nils Asther is allowing no grass to grow under his feet. He had no sooner returned from Mazatlan, Mex., where he was featured in M.-G.-M.'s as yet untitled marine melodrama, directed by Wesley Ruggles, than he caught the next train to Chicago, where he starts a fourteen-weeks' tour in vaudeville.

This will be the Swedish player's first stage attempt. He was formerly in pictures in Sweden and Germany.

HARRY LANGDON MAY BE WITH UNIVERSAL

While no contracts are yet signed, it is known that there is a likelihood that Harry Langdon, well-known comedian, may be loaned by Hal Roach, to whom he is under contract, to Universal for a picture or two.

HARRY LANGDON

Negotiations are now under way between Carl Laemmle, Jr., and Langdon, whereby Langdon will appear in some sequences in the Paul Whiteman revue.

Langdon also may play the star comedy role in "Little Accident," it is learned. He will for this role, of course, alter his make-up and even his acting methods.

The comedian has just completed a number of comedies for Roach, the last of which, "The King," is reported to be quite a success.

Alice White's New One

The talkers are a boon to picture producers in one way. While in some cases the dialogue rights were not purchased when a story was bought, especially in the case of plays, most of the stories already owned by the producers readily adapt themselves to talking versions, and so a good yarn may do duty twice.

ALICE WHITE

We understand that First National is planning to star Alice White in a talking version of a former Colleen Moore vehicle called "It Must Be Love," which was adapted from a story called "Delicatessen."

Vaudevillians With Warners

For the very first time in their careers, Messrs. Olsen and Johnson, vaudeville stars, are to make their appearance in pictures.

The two have signed with Warner Brothers and will make their film talkie bow in "See Naples and Die," according to the announcement of Darryl Zanuck.

Irene Delroy, star of "Follow Thru" in New York, who has just finished her engagement in that production, and who is to have the feminine lead in the Warner film, arrived in Hollywood last night. Charles King has the male lead.

Archie Mayo will direct, and Al Dugan and Joe Burke are writing some special music for the production.

M.-G.-M. Buying Operettas

While no contracts are yet closed, it is rumored that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials are negotiating for the purchase of Oscar Straus's "Chocolate Soldier" and "Waltz Dream."

These will be made as special productions in case the deal goes through. Straus is now here writing a special operetta for First National.

Schertzinger Signs

Victor Schertzinger's combination of musical and directorial talents are to be retained by Paramount, it was announced yesterday by B. P. Schulberg. Schertzinger is now in the midst of directing his first musical film, "Safety in Numbers," and has signed a new contract.

As his first work for audible screen musical production, Schertzinger composed the score for the screen's initial original song romance, "The Love Parade."

'Sky Hawk' Cast Will Appear at Fox Boulevard

John Garrick, Joyce Compton, Billy Bevan and Daphne Pollard, leading members of the Fox air film, "The Sky Hawk," will appear on the stage of the Boulevard Theater tonight in connection with the opening of their picture.

"The Sky Hawk" costars John Garrick, the young English actor, and Helen Chandler, formerly the youngest leading lady on Broadway. This is Garrick's first talking picture, while Miss Chandler will be remembered for her performance in "Salute."

MAY ROBSON WILL PLAY IN FARCE

'Helena's Boys' Scheduled at Hollywood Playhouse on 15th Inst.

May Robson, noted character comedienne, back from a guest starring engagement in Honolulu, will appear at the Hollywood Playhouse on the 15th inst. Miss Robson, last seen here in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," will be guest star with the Henry Duffy Players in "Helena's Boys," a comedy in which she starred in the East for a season.

In "Helena's Boys," Miss Robson will be seen as an old-fashioned mother who has two sons with radical and advanced ideas. When their mother announces that she intends to wed for a second time, the sons immediately oppose the idea. The means she uses to make them change their mind furnishes the comedy of the play.

Octavus Cohen Authors Billie Dove Vehicle

Octavus Roy Cohen is generally known as a writer of negro stories. This popular author, however, whose mastery of negro dialect made him noted, has written another story of the South—but this time with white characters.

The tale is "The Other Tomorrow," which First National has produced into a talking picture starring Billie Dove, and which is to open a one week's engagement at Warner Brothers Theater in Hollywood tomorrow.

Cohen has departed from his usual comedy vein in this story, it is said, and has made it a poignant and emotional romance, with a feud between two men over the love of a girl as the central theme. Miss Dove appears as the girl in the case. Lloyd Bacon directed. In the cast are Grant Withers, Kenneth Thompson, Frank Sheridan and Otto Hoffman.

WAR TRAGEDY UNIQUELY DONE

"Case of Sergeant Grischa" Somberly Interesting

Strong Portrayals, Unusual Moods in Film

Atmosphere Well-Suggested in Story's Staging

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

While the generals argue, the enlisted man is executed—

Thus, briefly, the plot of "The Case of Sergeant Grischa" . . .

Herbert Brenon directed this picture from the story by Arnold Zweig, with adaptation and continuity by Elizabeth Meehan.

"The Case of Sergeant Grischa" unfuried its somber tragedy yesterday at the Orpheum Theater. With measured tread it paced its march of death.

As a production, with atmosphere, acting and sincerity of purpose, this feature may deservedly take high rank. Whether it will, incidentally, appeal to the larger group of the public, entertainment-bent, is another question. I know only that the greater percentage of the audience at the showing which I attended was intently interested in what this film set forth.

The picture with talk has without shadow of a doubt erected new standards for what may or may not be approved by the public. Certainly they are higher standards than those that prevailed with the silent screen. It would have been impossible to visualize such a story as "Sergeant Grischa" in the older form. Well—if not impossible, at least extremely difficult.

EXPRESSIONISTIC STYLE

In some ways this production is almost of the expressionistic type, once made familiar by "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari." The unfoldment of the story is sometimes carried forward as if it were eventuating in a dream. The settings in themselves suggest a mood—almost continuously. The action is, at times, almost fantastic in its stress of pure psychology. The dialogue even dares to go to philosophical lengths. There is the inward seeking after what goes on in the characters' minds and souls, as well as the exterior drama. What are virtually soliloquys are occasionally introduced.

All of this merits a singular admiration and respect. It offsets the circumstance that at times "Sergeant Grischa" is slow in its evolvement, and that at other times it is well-nigh so sketchy and episodic that one is at some pains in concentrating on the course that it takes.

What happens in the picture concerns the Russian, Paprotkin, who seeks to make his escape from a German prison camp in order to return to his home. He is aided by a band of semioutlaws in the process of getting away and, at the urgency of the girl in this group, assumes to impersonate another man in order to cross the German lines and reach his own people. He is captured before he can accomplish his flight to safety and, upon being taken prisoner, it is found that the man whom he is supposed to be has been condemned to be shot as a spy on his own confession.

When Paprotkin makes known his real identity and the truth of his statements is proved he is temporarily released, but instructions come from the general headquarters that the orders for his execution are to be carried out just as if he really were the soldier whom he impersonated.

TRAGIC CULMINATION

A militaristic general is responsible for the enforcement of the penalty and, though various officers in the town where he was held prisoner seek to oppose the execution, it is finally carried out. Even militaristic commander's change of heart is ineffective because he is unable to communicate his wishes for the prisoner's freedom, as the telegraph and telephone wires are blown down in a storm.

There are many psychological facets to this story. Indeed, every character provides some individual drama. Various are the types introduced and, though their sentimental interest in the fate of the one prisoner seems somewhat extreme, that interest, once taken for granted, is consistently borne out.

The film, for all that it springs from the cruelty of war, is replete with humanness and would seem to clearly portray the heart that exists in the men who take part in the conflict. It is all a bitter challenge incidentally to the red tape of war and the ruthless side of military discipline.

One amazing thing about the portrayals as given is the diversity of accents employed, apparently without any serious lessening of the realities. Both Jean Hersholt and Gustav Von Seyffertitz speak with a pronounced foreign inflection, yet both their performances are extraordinarily convincing. Alec B. Francis, also of the German group of officers, on the other hand, utters clear-cut English syllables, and Chester Morris, as Grischa, speaks in similar style. Leyland Hodgson and Betty Compson, too, in their roles.

The Morris interpretation is necessarily preeminent in this film because of his being the title character and because he is beside a most capable actor. The work that he does measures up to the quality of his earlier portrayals, such as "Alibi," and the role is utterly different. Mr. Francis, Mr. Hersholt and Mr. Von Seyffertitz are exceedingly competent. Miss Compson is less suited to her role than in other recent pictures, but gives a performance that is consistent within this limitation. The settings in this picture are a remarkable achievement in the majority of cases, and the spirit of the direction is very unusual.

A short subject, inclining very much to slapstick, called "His Holiday Suit," serves to relieve somewhat the more serious tension of the major program feature.

SCREEN WRITER STAYS

Bradley King, whose ability to write both the picture version and dialogue for a picture, without assistance from outside sources, has won her the regard of producers and directors, is to remain with the William Fox organization for another assignment. The contributory efforts of Miss King in this phase of production in the Richard Barthelmess talking pictures, the most recent of which is "Son of the Gods," resulted in numerous requests for her services by the various producers.

SLAPSTICK FARCE SEEN AT MILLION

Reginald Denny Portrays Chief Role in Universal Production

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

To the Million Dollar Theater yesterday from Universal studio came a piece entitled, appropriately enough, "Embarrassing Moments." It related in slapstick manner an adventure in love, or something akin to love, engaged in by Mr. Reginald Denny, a be-spatted and debonair gentleman from the big city, and Miss Merna Kennedy, a dimple village maiden. Mr. Otis Harlan, an irate papa, clad for most of the picture in an old-fashioned nightshirt and given to parading hallways during the nocturnal hours, and Mr. William Austin, a jilted and mincing-tongued suitor, were also much in evidence.

"Embarrassing Moments" will probably live up to its title as far as Mr. Denny, Miss Kennedy or anyone remotely connected with the picture is concerned. Mere mention of it should bring blushes of confusion.

Why Reginald Denny, one of the screen's most delightful light comedians, should have to play in slapstick, is beyond the ken of this reviewer. The story, obviously intended to be farcical, although described as comedy drama, oversteps the boundaries of even broad farce and degenerates into absurdities.

What happens? Well, Miss Kennedy, in order to escape the dictatorial attentions of Mr. Austin, her fiance, and his mother, tells them that she has fallen in love and started what she terms a trial marriage with a gentleman named Thaddeus Cruickshank. She picks the name at random, but it seems there is a Thaddeus. Old sleuth-nosed papa roots Thaddeus out and has him come to Podunkville, where things reach an issue. And a pretty issue! After much fiddling around, chasing up and down hallways and into bedrooms at night, the matter is settled by Thaddeus falling in love with the pretty village girl. While the two are engaged in a first kiss papa calls in the minister and has the marriage performed right over their heads, both in manner of speaking and in actual photography.

Also contributing to the fun were Virginia Sale, Greta Granstedt and Mary Foy. Earle Snelle takes responsibility for the story, and William James Craft for the direction.

Several shorts build up the program. There is a Benny Rubin act, "Hotsy-Totsy," and a short comedy, "Wednesday at the Ritz." Abbey Krause is heard at the piano.

Clarence Brown Ends 'Romance' Preparations

Clarence Brown has completed the detailed preparations for his forthcoming production, "Romance," which will mark Greta Garbo's second talking role, following her distinct success in the same director's "Anna Christie." The selection of Gavin Gordon, who recently gave an excellent account of himself in Edward Everett Horton's stage productions, particularly "Among the Married," to play the difficult role opposite Miss Garbo, completes the trio of important roles in "Romance," and rehearsals are to commence in the immediate future at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Lewis Stone is the other member of the triumvirate that will bear the greatest share of the burden of the intense drama of the film adaptation of Edward Sheldon's well-remembered play, in which Doris Keane starred for many seasons some years ago.

"Anna Christie," in which Brown introduced Greta Garbo to the audible screen, will soon be seen in the neighborhood theaters here. It recently closed an extended and successful engagement at the Criterion Theater.

BRAKE LINED SHOES

Automobile brake lining was used to make soles for the dancing shoes of Ramon Novarro and Renee Adoree for their Spanish dance in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Singer of Seville." Their feet were supposed to sound a tatoo on the stage, and in actual use wooden soles were used for this. But wood was too sharp for the recording, so the semi-hard brake lining, giving a deeper "clack" was used as a substitute.

FILM TELLS TRIALS OF COLLEGIAN

William Haines to Enact Sequel to Former Success on Loew's Screen

William Haines clowns his way through the amusing adventures of the average young man just out of college in "The Girl Said No." The picture, opening today at Loew's State, is a sequel to "Brown of Harvard," which proved a success in the days of silent pictures.

Leila Hyams is the girl who says no. Marie Dressler, a rising favorite, has a hilarious part as the nemesis of young salesmen, who seek to sell her park bonds, and Polly Moran adds more comedy to the proceedings. A. P. Younger wrote the original story and Sam Wood directed.

On the stage, Fanchon and Marco will present Eddie Peabody for a limited stay of one week only, heading the new "Coral Idea."

ELECTED TO EXPLORERS

W. S. Van Dyke, director of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Trader Horn," filmed in the jungles of Africa, and who directed "White Shadows" and "The Pagan" in the south seas and several snow pictures in Alaska, has been paid signal honor. He has been elected to membership in the Explorer's Club of New York, which lists among its members all the most famous explorers of the present day.

"THAR'S GOLD IN THEM THAR HILLS!"

"Thar's gold in them thar hills—but death lurks in the valley below." Here is a story of the West when it was wild and woolly.

Here is a story of cowboys and Indians, scouts and soldiers, gamblers and godless gals, written as only Oscar Hammerstein II and Laurence Stallings can write—and between them they have written at least a score of great successes.

"SONG OF THE WEST" is the title of this wild and woolly romance of the covered wagon days.

It is full of thrills, full of romance and full of action. It is different from anything you have seen in a long time. To this colorful romance Warner Bros. have added melodies by Vincent Youmans, who wrote the song hits of "No, No, Nanette" and "Hit the Deck."

JOHN BOLES, singing hero of "The Desert Song," plays the romantic role of a dashing cavalryman, singing preacher and Barbary Coast gambler.

VIVIENNE SEGAL, lovely leading lady of many Broadway musical hits, is his light of love, and JOE E. BROWN, who can even make a mummy laugh, provides the comic relief. His singing of "The Bride Who Died on Her Wedding Morn" will give you the laugh of a lifetime.

All the action takes place outdoors, on the plains, in the valleys, and on the mountains. Everything is in Technicolor—which is natural color. It makes us understand why Westerners call their country "God's Country."

It's another Warner Bros. and Vitaphone triumph. And it's different! Ray Enright directed it.

"SONG OF THE WEST" will open with a brilliant MIDNIGHT PREMIERE next SATURDAY night at WARNER BROTHERS' DOWNTOWN THEATER. All seats reserved at $1.00 and now on sale at the box office.

HARVEY BLAMED IN DEATH FIGHT

Murder Complaint Sought as Inquest Sequel

Neither Suspect Nor Wife Offers Testimony

Gottschall's Demise Laid to Blow With Pipe

With their attorney preventing them from offering any testimony, William E. Harvey and his wife, Lillian B. Harvey, yesterday heard a Coroner's jury return a verdict in which Harvey was blamed for having caused the death of Roy F. Gottschall, 30 years of age, by striking him on the head with a piece of gas pipe with homicidal intent. The verdict was announced by Deputy Coroner Montfort.

Captain of Detectives Cato then conferred with Dep. Dist.-Atty. Cooper seeking a complaint charging Harvey with murder. It also was intimated that Capt. Cato might seek a complaint against Mrs. Harvey charging her with bigamy. Cato said he has uncovered information which indicated Mrs. Harvey was not properly divorced from a second husband when she married a third. She admits, police say, having been married four times.

TWO WITNESSES HEARD

Only two witnesses were heard at the inquest. John J. Bennett of 436 West Ninety-fourth street identified the body as that of Gottschall, and testified to having seen Gottschall shortly after the fight in which he is said to have received the fatal injury. Detective Lieutenant Stevens of the police homicide detail recounted a statement made to him by Harvey describing the fight which is said to have taken place at the Gottschall residence last Saturday evening.

According to the police version of the case, Harvey and his wife went to Gottschall's home to recover furniture which Mrs. Harvel claimed as hers. Gottschall appeared shortly afterward and a fight ensued.

BLOW DESCRIBED

Harvey said Gottschall fired three shots at him from a revolver, and in self-defense he hit Gottschall on the head with a piece of pipe. He then declared that he and his wife attempted to have Gottschall seek medical aid, but that he refused. On the night of the fight Harvey and his wife, in brief statements to the police, stated that they did not believe Gottschall seriously hurt.

Mrs. Harvey said she married Harvey in Burbank last September. She also admitted, police say, four marriages.

The Harveys resided at 1096 Heliotrope Drive. Harvey is 25 years of age. He is held in the City Jail on a charge of murder. Mrs. Harvey, while questioned several times by police, has not been taken into custody. She has appeared at police headquarters in company of her attorney, S. S. Hahn.

Detective Captain Cato announced yesterday afternoon that he has located William Harvey French, second husband of Mrs. Lillian Harvey, and that the man is working in New Westminster, B. C.

Church Names Preachers for Lent Services

A series of noon-day Lenten services, to be addressed by clergymen was announced yesterday by Dr. George Davidson of St. John's Episcopal Church. Today and tomorrow at noon the speaker will be Dr. Royal H. Balcom, general missionary of the Los Angeles convocation.

Rev. William Cowans, dean of the San Bernardino convocation, will be the speaker on the 10th inst. On the 11th inst., the sermon will be by Rev. W. M. Fleetwood of All-Saints' Church, Beverly Hills. Mr. Cowans will preach again from the 12th to the 14th inst.

Rev. R. H. Gushee, rector of Christ Church at Ontario, will be the pulpit guest from the 17th to the 21st inst., and from the 24th to the 28th inst., the speaker will be Dr. Leslie E. Learned of All-Saints' Church of Pasadena. From the 31st inst., to April 4, next, Dr. R. B. Gooden of Harvard School for Boys, will be the preacher.

Other speakers will be as follows: April 7 to 10, Rev. E. T. Brown of St. Peter's Church, San Pedro; April 11 to 14, Rev. Maurice Kain of All-Saints' Church, San Diego; April 15 to 18, Dr. F. B. Howden, Bishop of New Mexico.

Jury Vindicates Policeman Who Killed Suspect

Justifiable homicide was the verdict of a Coroner's jury yesterday on the death of Emil L. Paschall, 38 years of age, who was fatally shot Monday by Police Officer Reed when he sought to escape after being arrested as a burglary suspect. The jury declared the shooting to have been in the course of duty.

Paschall, known in Hawthorne as R. J. Eudaley, was apprehended while breaking into a service station on East Twelfth street, according to testimony. He broke away and fled, and was fired at by Reed. He was found dead in a vacant lot on East Pico street. A revolver and jimmy, taken from him were exhibited at the inquest.

WINNING PERSONALITY RESULTS IN DIVORCE

Davis Lehman couldn't tell a lie; he did it with his magnetic personality. And whenever Mrs. Lillian Lehman would ask him where he had been, he would reply: "Out with a girl." This testimony came to light in Superior Judge McComb's court yesterday, where Mrs. Lehman was granted a divorce. "Finally he told me he was in love with another girl and couldn't decide whether he loved me or her most," was the plaintiff's story. "Then I left him."

EXPERIENCED ACTRESS IN DUFFY PLAY

Grayce Hampton Boasts Enviable Record With Jane Cowl Company

For five seasons Grayce Hampton, who plays the autocratic and aristocratic Mrs. Boucicault in "Let Us Be Gay," was a member of Jane Cowl's company. Miss Hampton appeared with Miss Cowl in her productions of "Smilin' Thru," "Romeo and Juliet," "Anthony and Cleopatra" and "Easy Virtue." After that she played Lady Beekman in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" for a season.

In "Let Us Be Gay," in which Miss Hampton is appearing with Violet Heming and the Henry Duffy Players at El Capitan, she has the role of the wealthy and dominating grandmother who views with alarm her granddaughter's infatuation for a male guest at her house party.

Virginia Valli, screen actress, is Dierdre Lessing, the granddaughter, and others in the cast are Niles Welch, Elaine Baker, Raymond Lawrence, Anderson Lawler, Bram Noosen, Herbert Fortier, Jane Elton and Donald Campbell.

Ruggles Tells Importance of Screen Rhythm

Rhythm is perhaps the most important item in the production of a motion picture, according to Wesley Ruggles, director of "Condemned," the Ronald Colman romantic drama which is nearing the end of its engagement at the United Artists Theater.

"Imagine a man with a baton, keeping time," says Ruggles. "He goes tap, tap, beating the tempo—perhaps of men marching. Ita varies—sometimes faster, sometimes slower, sometimes light, sometimes heavy—but always rhythmically. That is the way we meant 'Condemned' to unfold. Speech, action and silence all play their parts. The story moves forward and always in time, as to music."

Ruggles began his directorial career many years ago, guiding the filming of a long line of Essanay and Mack Sennett comedies, and has since progressed through all types of screen plays, ranging from the lighter stories to the most intense of dramas. In preparation for his work as a director he spent some time on the stage and then became a screen comedian, even appearing for a period as one of the helmeted "Keystone cops" of pleasant memory. Later he became a cutter and editor of films.

Noted Band at Chinese Works Also at Studio

In the face of indications that "The Rogue Song," starring Lawrence Tibbett, will establish a new talking picture attendance record, there is little prospect of any leisure for Abe Lyman, who prologues the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture at Grauman's Chinese Theater with his internationally noted band.

What spare time he has between his two daily appearances, furnishing the musical and stage entertainment prelude to the picture, and the entertainment for dancers in the forecourt at the Saturday midnight matinee, has been drafted by the motion-picture studios.

When he is not at the Chinese he is busily engaged at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, where he is being featured with his band in "Good News," starring Bessie Love, the film version of the stage show in which the Lyman aggregation appeared for a year in New York and made a fifty-four weeks' tour. He has just finished a feature act with Nancy Carroll, for "Paramount on Parade" and appearances for Warner Brothers' Vitaphone production, "Hold Everything."

Sheriff Pens War Drama to Satisfy Self

Robert Cedric Sherriff, author of "Journey's End," which is nearing the end of its two'months' run at the Belasco Theater, told the guests at the O. P. Club dinner, given him sometime ago in London, some of the reasons why he wrote the play.

He said he wished it distinctly understood he had not written it with any commercial manager in view; that it was not a pamphlet for peace or a glorification of war. It was written to satisfy himself; to put on record something about the war, before his memory failed; to tell the truth as he saw the thing through his own eyes. He resented criticism that said he attacked fighting men. In fact, it was the fighting men above all he had striven to reverence and remember in his play.

Psychological Play Scheduled at Vine-Street

William E. Smith is bringing to Hollywood the play which Lee Shubert considered one of his outstanding attractions in the past decade. "Rope's End," the psychological drama by the eminent English playwright, Patrick Hamilton, will have its Pacific Coast premiere at the Vine-street Theater Sunday night.

The play comes from a successful seven-months' run at Lee Schubert's Masque Theater in New York. London had a six-months' head start at the Ambassador Theater and the drama has just completed a year's run there.

Heading the cast which has been imported for this offering is Noel Madison, prominent star of the British stage. He will be supported by Hugh Huntley, Dwight Frye, Brenda Forbes, Suzanne Leach, Vesey O'Davoren, Peter Shaw and Alfred Jenkin. A Greville Collins is directing.

PLAYERS TO POSE

Fashion News will show in its next international release summer dresses posed by Gwen Lee, Myrna Loy and Patsy Ruth Miller.

CHAPLIN TO BE DIRECTOR OF DRAMAS

Comedian Planning to Wield Megaphone as Well as Act in New Plant

Charles Chaplin, screen comedian, will personally direct at least two silent dramas starring players other than himself when his plans for a new studio to produce a program of at least five big silent productions a year materialize, he disclosed yesterday. Details of Chaplin's project were printed exclusively in The Times yesterday.

The comedian disclosed he is carrying on negotiations to sign four or five filmdom stars who find the silent drama a better medium of expression than the talking pictures. He plans on building a new studio on a fifty-acre site in the San Fernando Valley, spending between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 per year on his production program alone.

Of the productions to be turned out, Chaplin plans on directing one or two a year, besides acting as general manager and producing a picture of his own. He avers he will never appear in a talkie himself, and said his project reveals his faith in the silent drama and that there is and always will be a large market for pictures without dialogue, that is, pictures produced on a gigantic scale.

Brothers Held for Burglaries; Valuables Found

Recovery of $6200 worth of property, asserted to have been stolen and the solving of four recent burglaries were announced by police last night following two arrests. Officers Wing and Swindle of the Wilshire division late Tuesday night searched a young man seated in a car parked at Olympic street and Muirfield Road, and reported finding a revolver on him. He gave his name as Glen E. Hess, 20 years of age, 1148 South Magnolia avenue.

Detective Lieutenants Driscoll and Parker yesterday arrested the man's brother, Harry R. Hess, 22, at the brothers' home. There the detectives report they found $6200 worth of diamonds, apparel and other valuables. Under questioning, they said, the two brothers admitted burglarizing homes of the following: J. D. Robinson, 6218 Leland Way, $300; Mrs. E. A. Staulin, 6450 West Fifth street, $1600; Henry Woodward, 1008 Westchester Place, $2500, and Mrs. E. Wolf, 6115 Blackburn street, $1800. The Hess brothers were booked on charges of suspicion of burglary.

Boy in Blazing Clothes Saved by Motorist

With clothing aflame last evening, John Stuart, 15 years of age, 5707 Franklin avenue, ran through that street until a pursuing motorist smothered the fire. The youth was washing a small automobile in front of his home, using a pail of gasoline and another pail of water. The motor started a fire, and in his haste Stuart seized the wrong pail and threw gasoline on the blaze, police report.

The gasoline flamed around him, setting his clothes afire. Stuart ran a block before John Mitchell, 4627 Franklin avenue, leaped from his own car and rolled the youth in his overcoat. Stuart was treated for burns at the Dickey & Cass Emergency Hospital.

Retired Cafe Owner Injured

Struck by an automobile last night, Fred Harlow, 58 years of age, well-known retired cafe owner, living at 690 South Harvard Boulevard, received a possible fracture of the skull and a mangled left hand. He had parked his car on Pico Boulevard across from the Wilshire police station, toward which he was walking to visit a friend.

According to the police report he was hit by a car driven by Frank Powell, 739 South Windsor street. Harlow was sent to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

DRUM CORPS PLANS SMOKER SATURDAY

Bugles and drums which once resounded in France will be heard Saturday night when the drum and bugle corps of the Seventeenth District, American Legion, has its smoker at the Culver City stadium. Vaudeville, boxing bouts and a wrestling exhibition have been carded for the evening's entertainment which will begin at 8 p.m., according to Guernsey P. Fraser, chairman. Proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of new uniforms and equipment for the corps. The eighty men of the corps will attend the 1930 convention at Boston in October. Leon V. McCardle is manager of the corps, Tom Cavett assistant manager and Jack Buyot drum major.

EX-ANGELENO MAY GET BOSTON PULPIT

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Oakland and formerly pastor of Temple Church at Los Angeles, is being considered for the pastorate of the Tremont Temple Baptist Church of Boston to succeed Dr. J. C. Massee, who himself succeeded Dr. Brougher at Chattanooga, Tenn., years ago. The board of deacons will meet today when Dr. Brougher will be nominated for the Boston pulpit after which the nomination will go to the full membership of the temple for the deciding action. Dr. Brougher recently preached at the Temple.

BAND CONCERT ANNOUNCED

The City Park Board will present the Los Angeles Band under the direction of William Killgrove at Exposition Park Sunday at 2 o'clock.
